DROUGHT RELIEF PROGRAM LAUNCHED BY PRESIDENT

Hoover and Governors will Set Up National, State and County Groups to Aid Needy

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—A comprehensive plan of national, State and county organization for relief in the drought-stricken areas of the country was formulated today by President Hoover in conference with governors and other representatives of ten affected States.

The President announced he will immediately set up a national committee embracing representatives of the Farm Board, the Department of Agriculture, the Federal Farm Loan Board, the Red Cross, the American Railway Association and the Public Health Service to co-operate with State committees, which will be named by the various governors.

The national committee will co-ordinate national activities and [illegible] national support to the State and the county committees, [illegible] undertaking relief work all [illegible]

The relief work will consist of [illegible] to families deprived of [illegible] by failure of crops, protection of public health and prevention of unnecessary sacrifice of live stock.

GOVERNORS REMAIN

The President made public the [illegible] of the problem involved in giving relief to the drought areas and the plan decided upon after [illegible] hours of conference with the governors, with [illegible] of his [illegible] the formal conference [illegible] informal discussion of the situation continued at dinner at the White House. Several of the governors who attended the conference will remain here for further [illegible] with Secretary Hyde tomorrow. The President's statement [illegible]

"We have canvassed the informa- [illegible] by State and [illegible] as to drought [illegible] the extent of the [illegible] yet to be determined, it is certain that there are at least 250 [illegible] most acutely affected [illegible] some degree of relief must be [illegible]. It was the view of the [illegible] that the burden of effective organization to meet the situation over the winter in the acute-[illegible] counties rests primarily on the counties and the States [illegible], supplemented by such [illegible] and assistance as may [illegible] necessary on the part of [illegible] government.

OBJECTS OF RELIEF

The objective of such relief is:

(1) To assist families over the [illegible] who are deprived of means [illegible] through failure of their [illegible]

(2) To prevent unnecessary sacrifice of live stock.

(3) Protection to public health.

This is to be accomplished by:

(a) Placing of loans privately or [illegible] with assistance of [illegible] national agencies.

(b) Red Cross assistance.

(c) Employment.

(d) Reduced railway rates for [illegible] and live stock to the distressed districts.

ORGANIZATION AGREED UPON

This relief can be achieved justly [illegible] effectively only upon, first, a [illegible] of the counties where assistance is required, and, second, upon an accurate determina-

WIND TAKES LIFE TOLL IN NAPLES

Terrific Storm Kills Four and Causes Injuries that May Prove Fatal

NAPLES (Italy) Aug. 14. (AP)—This city, just recovering from the terror and casualties of the recent earthquake, fell victim today to a terrific storm which took the lives of four persons and inflicted many injuries.

Six of those injured are dying, twenty are in a serious condition, while fifty suffer from lighter hurts.

The terrific wind swept the Piggioreale market place, where 3000 persons were engaged in their marketing, and tumbled the market stands on their heads. Some of the killed were struck down by the collapse of a wall near the Rome airplane works.

Tomorrow, which is the Feast of the Assumption, Naples had intended celebrating a "Te Deum" in thanksgiving for the city's comparatively slight damage by the earthquake, which took a heavy toll from near by villages and towns.

There were no American tourists among the victims of the storm.

Conference of India Prisoners Ends Abruptly

BOMBAY (India) Aug. 14. (AP)—The prisoners of Poona and the prisoners of Allahabad met again today in Mahatma Gandhi's quarters in the Heroda Jail but terminated their conversation abruptly until tomorrow after a session of two hours.

All of yesterday's participants, including the Mahatma himself, the two Nehrus and Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, were present, as were Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru and Mr. Jayakar, the moderates of the workers' congress, who promoted the conferences looking toward a peaceful end of the civil disobedience disturbances.

How today's conversations got along none outside of those engaged in them could say.

Turks Battling Kurdish Rebels

ANGORA (Turkey) Aug. 14. (AP)—Violent fighting, lasting several hours, has taken place between Turkish government troops and Kurdish rebels in the Ighdir district, with the Kurds defeated and leaving about sixty of their dead on the field.

The battle which took place yesterday is preliminary to a major engagement around Mt. Ararat in which the Turkish forces are hopeful of exterminating an entire force of more than 3000 of the enemy tribesmen.

R-100 SETS FAST PACE

Ship Far at Sea on Trip Home

Indications Point to Record Crossing to England from Dominion

Ideal Weather Reported as Great Craft Heads into Eastern Skies

ON BOARD THE AIRSHIP R-100, Aug. 14. (AP)—The British dirigible R-100 tonight is sailing over the tossing Atlantic, homeward-bound and giving every promise of making a record eastward crossing.

So fast is her speed, between seventy-five and ninety miles an hour, that those aboard believe it will be possible for the largest airship in the world to reach her home port, Cardington, Eng., by midnight tomorrow, British summer time (6 p.m. Pacific standard time.)

It is felt the dirigible, which left her mooring mast at Montreal at 8:26 p.m. yesterday, should reach Cardington by 3:25 a.m. (eastern standard time) Saturday even if held up by winds.

PLEASANT JOURNEY

Those aboard are enjoying the flight. When the breakfast of ham and eggs with coffee was served this morning, quite in hotel fashion, hardly a movement of the ship could be felt. The only thing preventing absolute comfort was the fact that no smoking was permitted.

As darkness fell tonight the electric lights were switched on and a bell summoned the hungry passengers to dinner. Plates of hot soup awaited them in the dining-room and they fell to without urging.

The printed menu cards, the glittering silverware and spotless linen made the scene resemble Piccadilly or Fifth avenue rather than mid-Atlantic.

WATER FROM CLOUDS

The experiment of obtaining water from the clouds proved a great success today.

The airship passed over the Straits of Belle Isle at mid-day, maintaining a steady average speed of seventy miles an hour.

In the first eight hours the ship covered a distance which took twenty-four hours to traverse on the westward voyage.

The panorama of the north shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence was seen from a height of 1500 feet. The passengers could see an occasional passing vessel or lonely lighthouse keeper, and hear the salute of sirens above the steady drone of the engines.

Tonight the R-100 is enjoying ideal weather conditions. The wide vista of the Atlantic is now the only reminder to the passengers that they are at sea, for the airship is as steady as if still at her mooring mast.

War Mother Dies in Verdun

VERDUN (France) Aug. 14. (AP)—Mrs. Harriet Bates, wife of Henry Bates of Portage, Pa., died in the Verdun Hotel today. She was the first gold star mother to die in France of the nearly 2000 who visited the battlefield cemeteries this summer.

Four Arrests in Tong Death Plot

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—Three Chinese, described as members of the Tong Ong, and a Filipino were arrested tonight in what police say was a conspiracy to have members of the On Leong Tong slain for a bounty of $500 each.

Detectives assert the wholesale killings were to be done by two youths, and that the rewards were to be paid by three Tong Ong Chinese, who picked the men to be slain.

Will Rogers Remarks:

YOSEMITE, Aug. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Mr. Hoover wasn't able to look over the national parks so I am pinch-hitting for him. When you get into this wonderful valley you haven't got any time to be reading the papers to see what foolishness Herbert or Calvin or Ford or Lindbergh is doing. It's all right to go to New York and see what Chrysler and Al Smith have built, but the old boy that laid out this place must have died and took the plans with him. There ought to be a law against anybody going to Europe till they had seen the things we have in this country. The fish all expressed their regrets that Mr. Hoover wasn't coming.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

AIR KINGS NEAR NEXT GOAL

St. Louis Flyers Approach 600-Hour Milestone in Record Endurance Flight

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 14. (AP)—The endurance plane, Greater St. Louis, whirled over Lambert-St. Louis Field toward the 600-hour milestone of its record flight tonight.

Plane and pilots, Dale (Red) Jackson and Forrest O'Brine, had made their home in the sky continuously for 581 hours, more than twenty-four days, at 10:11 p.m. They have put the previous record, that of the Hunter brothers, a day and a half behind them.

The champion sky-riding aviators gave no intimation that they will deter from their expressed determination to remain in the air for 1000 hours, and the faithful motor of the ship shows no weakness.

THOUSAND HOURS IN ALL

Jackson and O'Brine already have put in more than 1000 hours of endurance flying, 420 hours when they established a world's record in July, 1929, and nearly 600 hours this year to regain the championship.

The flyers spent much of today going through fan mail and messages of congratulations which continued to arrive. They took enough time, however, to wire their congratulations to Capt. Frank Hawks, who yesterday set a new west-east transcontinental flight record.

REAL HEROINE

One letter addressed to Mrs. O'Brine said: "I am sending my felicitations to the one I consider the real heroine of the flight. Any woman who cooks that many consecutive meals is deserving of no less than a citation." Mrs. O'Brine has been helping prepare meals for the flyers.

The airmen received an invitation today to demonstrate their method of refueling at an air show sponsored by the Knight Light Airplane Club at Montreal, Que., next month. It was turned over to William Pickens, the flyers' manager.

BILLIARD CHAMPION SEEKING AIR RECORD

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—Charles C. Peterson of St. Louis, world-famous billiardist, will make his first attempt to set a number of billiard records in the air when he gives a special test here tomorrow afternoon. Peterson intends to fly around the endurance plane and give a special exhibition for Jackson and O'Brine, his aerial spectators. Peterson will use a carom table in an endeavor to break his own record for speed, 100 points in twenty-six seconds.

Chinese Troops Turn to Mutiny to Get Their Pay

SHANGHAI, Aug. 14. (AP)—Serious disorders occurred in Changsha during the past few days when provincial troops mutinied, demanding their pay. The Chamber of Commerce raised emergency funds and paid the soldiers, ending the mutiny.

Authentic information tonight indicates the Communists who recently plundered and burned much of the city have not re-entered the walls, as reported, to wreak vengeance for execution of 1500 Reds. Large numbers, however, are within a few miles of Changsha.

Noted Caesarian Expert Attends Duchess of York

GLAMIS (Scotland) Aug. 14. (AP)—Four physicians today are in attendance upon the Duchess of York, whose second baby has been expected for several days. Among them is Sir Henry Simson, noted obstetrician and expert in the Caesarian section.

Today is the ninth day Home Secretary Clynes had been waiting at Glamis to attest birth of the royal child.

National Parks to Remain Open

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—Assurance that the national parks will remain open as long as weather permits this fall was given today by Acting Secretary Dixon of the Interior Department in denying the playgrounds will close shortly after Labor Day.

"The national parks are made available for the use of the visiting public just as long as weather conditions permit," Dixon said.

He added that several of the parks, including Yosemite, Sequoia and Gen. Grant in California, Mt. Rainier in Washington, and Rocky Mountain in Colorado, are open throughout the winter.

Prohibition Not Issue, Says Fess

CLEVELAND, Aug. 14. (AP)—Despite the recent strong showing of several antiprohibition candidates for high public office, Senator Fess, chairman of the National Republican Committee, said today the Republican party does not recognize prohibition as an issue.

"I do not believe the prohibition question will be an issue in the fall campaign in Ohio or anywhere else. Prohibition is not a party issue unless both parties force it and the Republican party does not recognize it as an issue," Senator Fess said.

Receivership for Chamberlin Plane Company

JERSEY CITY (N. J.) Aug. 14. (AP) The Crescent Aircraft Corporation, of which Clarence D. Chamberlin is president, was placed in receivership today by Vice-Chancellor Bigelow on petition of a stockholder.

The complaint charges that of $281,630 received for stock sales $116,648 was used for expenses, and asserts the company, formed two years ago, has never sold a plane.

Chamberlin's flying school is a separate business and is not affected by the receivership.

PASADENA COMPANY WINS AIR FIELD JOB

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—The War Department authorized acceptance of a bid of $566,820 of Kenneth L. Colborn, Inc., Pasadena, the lowest bid submitted for construction of eighteen hangars at Randolph Field, Texas.

Bequest of $2,000,000 Can't Divorce Adjuster from $35 Position

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—Millionaire by inheritance, $35-a-week office worker by choice, Rex R. Fairbanks, 28 years of age, today announced he's going to adopt a couple of children. But as to marriage—not for him.

About six weeks ago an uncle, Andrew Fairbanks of California, died, leaving him $2,000,000. But the news did not change the modest tenor of his way. He's going to stay in the adjustment department of the Brooklyn Edison Company because he's interested in electricity, and because he likes children he's going to adopt two and give them a good bringing up.

Asked whether he was engaged, he replied, "Say, not any more; I've had that experience, but never again."

LONDON, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—Marshall Field III, whose forthcoming marriage to Mrs. Dudley Coats was recently announced, reached Southampton tonight on the Majestic. Mrs. Coats was at the wayside to greet him.

Mr. Field confirmed the announcement of the engagement, but said the date of the wedding is indefinite.

Floods in China Kill Thousands

PEIPING, Aug. 14. (AP) — Three thousand Chinese are reported to have drowned in the Fuichunghsien district, forty miles north of Shanhaikuan, along the Mukden railway, where rains have flooded 1000 villages, causing great damage and washing out the rail line.

BILLINGS NAMES SENATOR AS DYNAMITE EMPLOYER

Edgar Hurley, State Legislator, Accused in Court Hearing at Folsom Prison

FOLSOM PRISON, Aug. 14. (AP)—Warren K. Billings, Folsom prisoner, testifying before State Supreme Court justices here late today, electrified the proceedings when he named Senator Edgar Hurley of Alameda county as the man who hired him in 1913 to carry dynamite from San Francisco to Sacramento.

Billings was arrested in the capital city that year, convicted and sentenced to Folsom penitentiary for unlawfully transporting explosives. Until today he never revealed who employed him to carry the dynamite.

The convict named the State Senator under questioning of Associate Justice Preston. When the judge asked, "Who hired you to bring the suit case to Sacramento?" Billings hesitated.

"Go ahead, Mr. Billings, tell everything," said Attorney Edwin V. McKenzie, representing the prisoner.

"Edgar N. Hurley," Billings replied.

"You mean Edgar Hurley, State Senator?" McKenzie asked.

"Yes."

HURLEY CANDIDATE

Senator Hurley is a candidate for re-election in the primaries of the 26th inst.

Billings was being questioned by members of the court, sitting as a commission for Gov. Young, to determine what action should be taken on Billings's petition for reconsideration of his pardon appeal. Billings is serving a life sentence upon conviction for murder in connection with the 1916 Preparedness Day parade bombing in San Francisco resulting in death to ten persons and injury to forty others. Thomas J. Mooney, San Quentin prison inmate, was convicted on a similar charge.

COURT IN LOBBY

The lobby of the prison administration building was converted into a courtroom for the hearing, which started shortly after 5 p.m., with Billings on the witness stand.

Without tarrying Judge Preston seated himself before the prisoner and started asking questions relative to the latter's recreational and educational background, what books he desired reading and what his beliefs might be about organized government.

Billings said he had studied law, believed in the principles of the government of the United States, was not in favor of the overthrow of the government and that he had not studied books on Socialism or Communism.

OFTEN ARRESTED

The questioning then led Billings over his activities during the time since he was 17 years of age. He told Judge Preston he had chosen the easiest mode of living and that he had been arrested in New York, Salt Lake City, Brooklyn and Sacramento on various charges and suspicions.

The prisoner named John Wilson, secretary of the electrical workers' union in San Francisco prior to the 1916 bomb blast, as his employer on a job in which he was to ascertain the number of guards on the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's transmission lines in the Bay region.

Billings was vague as to how much he was paid for this work, but he said it was "about the amount I received as an employee of the shoe factory where I was employed part-time as a shoe cutter."

AIMED AT LINES

When asked if he knew why Wilson wanted information about power line guards, Billings said the Pacific Gas and Electric Company was involved in a strike at the time and that strike sympathizers wanted to "tear down" the lines.

When asked how this was to be done, Billings said he understood long chains were to be thrown over the wires, attached to automobiles and pulled down.

"How about dynamite?" Judge Preston asked him.

"Not to my knowledge," Billings said.

MET THROUGH UNION

It was during his employment at the Franklin Heyman shoe factory in San Francisco, Billings said, that he met Mooney through leaders of the shoe workers' union, among whom, he said, was Ted Hooper. Billings said a shoe workers' strike was in progress at the time and that he gathered information at the factory for strike leaders.

Judge Preston questioned Billings closely on the latter's knowledge of how to handle dynamite.

Billings said he learned something about this while employed as a "powder monkey" in a quarry at Strawberry Valley, Utah.

"Then you are pretty well-in-

FAINT HOPE FOR LIVES

Forty-six Feared Dead in Mine

Officials Say Two Days will be Required to Reach Entrapped Men

Rescuers in Canadian Coal Disaster Imperiled by Deadly Fumes

PRINCETON (B. C.) Aug. 14. (AP) Hope was practically abandoned tonight for the safety of the forty-six miners entombed by an explosion in the Blakeburn mine at Coalmont for more than twenty-four hours.

The rescuers themselves, working heroically to reach their comrades, come out of the mine portal periodically for relief reeling like drunken or doped men, semipoisoned with the deadly gas which pervades the workings.

The stark reality of tragedy which has probably wiped out forty-eight lives, including the two whose bodies have already been recovered, has gathered upon the colliery town, and only faint gleams of hope remain in the breasts of wives, children, parents and sisters of the imprisoned men.

TWO DAYS YET

Mine officials said it will take two days, or probably longer, to reach the entombed men. While rescue work is being rushed unceasingly the safety of the rescuers themselves has become an object of considerable worry because of the bad air in the tunnel. Every effort is being made to improve the air supply. The fan, broken by the explosion which entombed the men, was repaired today and has made it possible to expedite relief work somewhat.

At a formal inquest conducted today, Dr. D. McCaffrey found Albert Colt, 19 years of age, and Clifford Smith, 40, the two victims whose bodies were recovered, had died from "after damp," a deadly mine gas.

RESCUERS OVERCOME

The entombed men are believed to lie nearly 1800 feet down a 21-deg. slope which starts 1800 feet from the entrance to the haulage tunnel.

The gas-laden air was so deadly that three men in the first rescue party were overcome. Some thirty men have been overcome during the rescue operations and conditions are becoming worse as the workers penetrate deeper.

Of the men entombed, eighteen are married.

Investigators were no nearer a solution late today as to the cause of the explosion which sent rock and earth piling into the cave than they were soon after the blast startled the countryside.

Canadian Ship Seeks Record

YOKOHAMA, Aug. 14. (AP)—Seeking a new record for steamship crossing of the Pacific, to justify her claim to queen over the Canadian Pacific's Vancouver-Orient fleet, the Empress of Japan, fresh from her builders, sailed from Yokohama for Vancouver at 6 p.m. today (1 a.m. Pacific standard time.)

To smash the seven-year-old record of another Canadian Pacific liner, the Empress of Canada, and to snatch the "blue ribbon" of the Pacific, the new 26,000-ton liner must complete her maiden voyage at Vancouver before 11:53 a.m. the 22nd inst., Pacific standard time.

AIR DEFENDERS BEAT FOES

Bay City's "Blue" Forces Score Victory Over "Black" in Mimic Warfare

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. (AP)—"Blue" defenders of San Francisco claimed the initial victory today in the mimic warfare of the United States Army and Navy when they reported the three airplane carriers of the attacking "black" fleet had been disabled.

The three airplane carriers—the Langley, Lexington and Saratoga—were taken by surprise at Monterey Bay by a much smaller force of army planes. Three army bombers were shot down in the attack. Six army pursuit planes were lost at Concord when they were not fast enough in taking off the field when the Navy attacked their base.

"Blue" air scouts reported the powerful "black" fleet, deprived of its wings, was steaming toward San Francisco tonight for the major engagements expected tomorrow and the next day.

Four pursuit planes, under the command of Lieut. I. A. Woodring, led the attack on the airplane carriers by dropping 100-pound bombs on the Lexington and Saratoga. Seven bombers followed, three of them being shot down by eighteen "black" pursuit planes in a battle above the Saratoga. Four more pursuit planes followed while Woodring's attackers finished the battle.

The army planes traveled individually at high altitudes, gathering for the attacks by radio communication.

DROUGHT RELIEF WORK LAUNCHED

Hoover will Set Up National Aid Committee

Governors will Also Name Local Organizations

Public Health Protection to be Assured

tion of the needs of each family. In order that such determinations may be made and assistance supplied as each case may require, the following organization is agreed upon:

"(1.) Each Governor who considers that a situation requiring emergency relief exists within the State shall create a drought-relief committee under the chairmanship of a leading citizen, and embracing in its membership a State agricultural official, a leading banker, a Red Cross representative, a railway representative, and such farmers and others as the situation may require. This committee will take general charge of relief measures within the State.

"(2.) The State committee is to determine the drought counties where there is need for organized relief and to organize a committee in each such county, likewise under the chairmanship of a leading citizen, and embracing the county agricultural agent, a leading banker, county Red Cross leader, farmers and others.

RELIEF METHODS

"(3.) The county committees will receive individual applications for relief and recommend the method of treatment and co-ordinate the various agencies in service thereto by way of loans, Red Cross assistance, employment, etc. The State committees, in co-operation with the county committees, are to determine which counties are in need beyond the resources of the people of the county and in what direction, i.e., whether loans are required beyond the ability of the local banks, or Red Cross assistance beyond the resources of the county chapter; what quantities of imports of feed or food are required, etc. The State committee is to co-operate with national agencies if these requirements are beyond the State resources.

"(4.) The President will set up a committee comprising representatives of the Department of Agriculture, the Federal Farm Board, the Federal Farm Loan Board, the Red Cross, the American Railway Association, the Public Health Service. This committee, through its chairman, will co-ordinate national activities and national support to the State and county committees.

METHODS FOR CREDIT

"(5.) The methods for provision of credit beyond local or State resources for the purchase of feed, seed, movement of live stock, of support of families over the winter will be developed by State committees in co-operation with the Federal Farm Board, the Federal Farm Loan Board, the intermediate credit system, and other Federal agencies.

"(6.) The Red Cross will organize its own committees in each drought county, the chairman of which will be a member of the county drought relief committee. The National Red Cross has made a preliminary allocation of $5,000,000 pending determination of the aggregate need.

"(7.) The railways have already generously reduced rates by 50 per cent on food and feed inward to the drought counties and live-stock movement outward, to dealers and persons who are entitled to relief and so designated by the county agents or the committees created above.

"(8.) The Department of Agriculture will secure and disseminate information as to sources of feed supply and localities to which live stock may be shipped. It will examine the possibilities of advancing State road allotments to drought areas in order to increase employment.

"(9.) In the States of Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas, and others having a surplus of feed, it is recommended that a State committee be set up to co-operate with the committee in the States of surplus live stock."

Before the conference convened encouraging reports from the Weather Bureau indicated the drought is broken in certain States and that meteorological forecasts promise heavy rains in other affected areas. Kentucky, one of the most seriously blighted of the drought States, was benefited by heavy rains last night. Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky reported heavy rains while the forecasts indicate rains in Tennessee, Arkansas, Southern Illinois, Southern Indiana, Southern Ohio, West Virginia, West and Central Virginia, West and Central North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia.

SHOWERS GENERAL

The rains in the drought area extended from the lower lake region of Northern Ohio westward to Eastern Missouri and as far south as Middle Tennessee. The precipitation averaged from one-half to one and one-fourth inches. A fall of one-half inch or more is regarded by the Weather Bureau as a "heavy" rain. No excessive heat was reported from the drought area and local showers were general.

The governors who attended the President's conference are Henry S. Caulfield of Missouri; Louis L. Emmerson of Illinois; Harry S. Leslie of Indiana; Myers Y. Cooper of Ohio; William G. Conley of West Virginia; John M. Pollard of Virginia; John E. Erickson of Montana; Arthur J. Weaver of Nebraska; John Hammill of Iowa; Clyde M. Reed of Kansas. Harvey T. Harrison represented Gov. Parnell of Arkansas and Senator Robsion represented Gov. Sampson of Kentucky.

Others who attended the conference are Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, Alexander Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm Board; James C. Stone and Charles S. Wilson of the Farm Board; Horace P. Bestor, farm loan commissioner of the Federal Farm Loan Board, and Judge John Barton Payne, chairman of the Red Cross.

Each of the governors had facts and figures illustrating the serious effects of the drought in their respective States. In conversation with correspondents before and after the conference several of them predicted distress in their States over a long period of years as a result of crop failures.

Gov. Pollard of Virginia, one of the hardest hit of the drought States, asserted his State will feel the effects of the drought for at least five years. Conditions in Virginia and Arkansas, he said, are but little better than in Kentucky, which appears to be the chief victim of the drought. Virginia crops have been destroyed, the farmers are without collateral for renewed credit and their live stock faces starvation.

KENTUCKIANS IN NEED

Senator Robsion, Dr. A. T. McCormick, head of the State Department of Health and other State officials reported on the starvation conditions in Kentucky. One-fourth of the farming population of the State is in dire need of relief now with one-half of that fourth in urgent need of charity. Senator Robsion estimated the farmers will garner only 5 per cent of the normal hay crop, 10 per cent of the corn crop and 25 per cent of the tobacco crop. In seven counties, it was reported an average of 1000 families each are in need of immediate assistance.

Health conditions in the State are far below normal, with typhoid increasing. The disease is not at an epidemic stage thus far but with the coming of rain it is feared that it will spread. To prevent this health authorities are inoculating upward of 50,000 persons per day.

Gov. Reed of Kensas urged as an immediate measure of relief the purchase of stock feed where it can be obtained and its sale where there is a shortage by the Farmers' National Grange Corporation, one of the co-operatives set-up by the Farm Board. Gov. Reed asserted that the drought conditions are intensified by the lack of reserve funds in the grain States. "Banks deposits," he said, "in the farm States have decreased 13 per cent in the last nine years, whereas they have increased 55 per cent in other sections of the country."

NEBRASKA WELL OFF

Gov. Weaver of Nebraska said with the exception of a few scattered localities his State is not in distress and not only has ample forage for its own live stock, but could supply near-by States if transportation were furnished.

There is a large surplus of small grains in Nebraska, he said, but a shortage of corn in spots.

Gov. Erickson of Montana said conditions in his State are not as good as in Nebraska.

"We have only half enough hay and unless there is some relief in this direction we will have to dump a large part of our live stock on the primary market, which, of course, means ruin," he said.

"What we are trying to do," he added, "is to ship feeding cattle to places like Nebraska and the Dakotas to be prepared for the market and the railroads are co-operating in a fine way."

Several of the executives saw Secretary of Agriculture Hyde on relief measures prior to the meeting.

Gov. Caulfield of Missouri asked Secretary Hyde to make Federal road aid money available on September 1, instead of waiting until January 1, 1931. Gov. Hammill proposed that the Farm Board dispose of the surplus crops in the stricken areas as feed for cattle. He stressed the need for arranging credit for farmers for crops next year, as did Gov. Leslie of Indiana.

Gov. Cooper of Ohio went into the conference with a program for $1,000,000 Federal road building in his State. He said that if the Federal government will advance this sum Ohio will match it for an extensive road building program to give employment in the stricken area.

However, there was no unanimity of opinion on such a scheme. Gov. Hammill of Iowa said he believes national and State improvement programs have been pressed to the limit already and little additional good could be gained by further expansion in this line.

Following the coronation "Her Majesty" personally supervised selection of choice tomatoes sent to the President to remind him of his boyhood days.

BILLINGS AIRS DYNAMITE DEAL

Court Questions Convict on Radical Beliefs

He Describes Role as Spy for Union Strikers

formed about dynamite, aren't you?" Judge Preston asked.

"No," Billings replied, "I wouldn't say that."

"Do you want us to go away from here thinking you didn't know what was in that suit case you took to Sacramento in 1913," the judge asked.

Billings said he thought it contained a glass bottle or narcotics and that he did not feel he was privileged, as a messenger, to open the suit case.

SPY FOR UNION

Billings was questioned about his activities during the months of April and May, 1916, when, he said, he was working for the Union Iron Works in San Francisco.

This phase of the interrogation was designed to bring out his relationship with Mooney just before and at the time of the parade blast.

Billings told of working for the machinists' union during a strike during May and June, 1916. At the same time he worked for the Don Lee automobile agency in San Francisco, acting as a spy for the union. Questioned by Justice Preston he admitted taking a few ball bearings, nuts, bolts and cotter pins from the garage in the pockets of his overalls.

Mooney was not implicated in the machinists' strike, Billings declared. He said Ed Nolan was the union official to whom he reported.

STOLE DYNAMITE

Billings admitted stealing eighteen sticks of dynamite in 1913 from a quarry between the Mission and Ingleside districts in San Francisco, and delivering it to a Daly City man for use in the electrical workers' strike. He said he was paid $5 for the dynamite.

For the second time during the evening Justice Preston questioned the prisoner as to why he had waited five or six years before applying for a pardon. Again Billings declared he thought the Mooney case should be decided first, because Mooney had no prior convictions or criminal record.

Leading up to the Preparedness Day parade in 1916, Justice Preston drew from Billings that the latter knew Mooney was opposed to preparedness moves. Billings said he first heard of the Preparedness Day parade two or three days before it was held.

Judge Preston delved to considerable depth into Billings's association with Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman, who were deported from the United States as anarchists, and with certain other persons who Billings said expressed similar ideas about participation of the United States in the World War.

RINK MEETING RECALLED

Billings told of attending a meeting at Dreamland Rink in San Francisco two days before the 1916 Preparedness Day parade and of hearing speakers denounce talk of the United States entering the war.

Billings said he did not know what these persons planned because he "was only hired." This was his reply to Judge Preston's question:

"Didn't you know these people were organized for the avowed purpose of evoking and provoking a revolution in the United States?"

"You said here earlier, didn't you, that you believed in upholding the principles of government?"

"Well, my opinions have changed in the passing years," the prisoner replied.

When asked why he had not applied for a parole instead of a pardon so he could prove by his works that his opinions had changed, Billings said it had always been his opinion he "wouldn't get one."

The witness was questioned closely about "The Blast," a publication said to have been issued by Berkman and Mooney prior to the parade bombing. Billings said he did not recall reading the paper. He was given a file of the "Blast" to study as a "memory refresher."

GOT WIRE FROM MOONEY

Continuing with a chronological history of Billings's movements that year, Justice Preston elicited by questions that Billings spent a vacation on the Russian River from July 3 to 13. He said he returned after receiving a telegram from Mooney.

Soon after his return to San Francisco Billings joined in the street-car strike by helping stop a street car at Third and Kearney streets, tying up traffic.

He then returned to work on the automobile machinists' strike. With Ed Nolan he conceived a plan for sabotage, the spraying of paint remover on automobiles so as to ruin the finish and make new paint necessary. He placed this as July 21.

On July 22, he said he purchased a 35-cent can of paint remover at a hardware store on Valencia street between Nineteenth and Twentieth streets and used it in a rubber syringe. He told of going into saloons to refill the syringe and of spraying the liquid on automobiles along the streets.

He denied telling James F. Brennan, then an assistant District Attorney, of watching the Preparedness parade at Seventh and Market streets.

KEPT SABOTAGE SECRET

Billings declared he did not tell of the acts of sabotage during his trial and said he did not even tell his attorney.

He admitted having a book of cigarette papers containing the numbers of automobiles he had sprayed with the paint remover.

"You had, then, absolute documentary proof which would have acquitted you," declared Justice Preston.

"I wouldn't say documentary proof," replied Billings.

The prisoner pointed out the numbers of the cars would not have been the perfect alibi, as suggested by Justice Preston, because some of them were sprayed while they were moving, and would not have established Billings as having been at any particular place at a given time.

Billings also declared he had no knowledge of any bomb plot or explosion, and had no reason to be establishing an alibi. "Naturally, afterward, I tried to hide it," he said, referring to the act of sabotage, explaining it would have prejudiced his case.

"What can you show to prove you are innocent?" asked Justice Preston.

"This information regarding the paint remover and my original statement to Chief White (then San Francisco Police Chief) as to where I was and what I saw."

The hearing closed at 11:50 o'clock with an announcement by Chief Justice Waste that an adjournment would be taken until 10:30 a.m., Monday, at which time the pardon proceedings would reopen in San Francisco. Justice Waste said an effort would be made Monday to "bring the matter to a close."

Billings was immediately returned to his cell after four hours and fifty-three minutes of testimony.

SENATOR HURLEY DENIES "DYNAMITE" ACCUSATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. (AP)—State Senator Edgar S. Hurley admitted he had met Warren K. Billings, but denied charges that he had ever hired Billings, "or anyone else," to carry dynamite.

"Billings came into the electrical linesmen's union local (of which Hurley was a member) a couple of times in 1913, and I met him on those occasions," the Senator said.

"I never hired anyone to carry dynamite. I can't imagine what his purpose can be in making such a charge unless some one has gotten to him in an effort to divert the vote in my campaign for re-election to the State Senate."

Activities of Hurley have twice been under investigation.

His connection with labor organizations and reputed friendship with Tom Mooney was investigated in 1919 by Charles M. Fickert, then District Attorney. Fickert said that he had a letter written some sixty days before the Preparedness Day bombing in which Mooney wrote Hurley arranging for a meeting to obtain the legislator's advice.

A Senatorial inquiry in 1925 looked into charges that Hurley and State Assemblyman Edward J. Smith had demanded $5000 from a wealthy Chinese herb doctor to use their influence in killing a proposed Chinese herb bill. Both legislators were exonerated after a stormy hearing.

Hurley, for twelve years a member of the Legislature, is seeking re-election from Alameda county.

EAST'S DROUGHT BOON TO COAST

California Crop Surplus Greatly Curtailed

Federal Report Discloses Advance in Market

Grapes, Prunes, Vegetables Favorably Affected

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—The unprecedented drought in the Midwest and South has operated to improve California's agricultural situation through reducing and in some cases wiping out what would have been a national surplus in certain crops of which California is a heavy producer. Also the State has been helped by an enhanced market where its products have taken the place of other foods.

The result will be to increase prices, although California's ultimate return on crops will continue to be influenced by the general, country-wide economic slump. However, as compared with many other States, California is assured a highly favorable position for 1930.

These predictions are based on the latest crop report of the Agricultural Department and its accompanying comment on the farm situation by States. The department forecasts enormous increases in several of California's major crops, including 28,000,000 bushels of peaches, the largest crop on record; also the largest pear crop in history, an increased grape production of 251,000 tons over last year, a 100 per cent increase in prunes over 1929 and 12,500 tons of almonds, as compared with 4600 tons a year ago. These figures were given as indications as of the 1st inst.

GRAPE FORECAST

The California grape forecast by varieties is as follows:

Wine, 463,000 tons, same as 1929; raisin, 1,193,000 tons, as against 1,098,000; table, 422,000, against 312,000.

The total of 2,078,000 shows California's overwhelming control of the grape crop, for all the rest of the country is expected to produce only 272,000 tons additional.

The crop report estimates the nation's production of all fruits this year at 18 per cent above that of 1929 with a "marked increase" for California. However, the country-wide figure is 10 per cent below the average for ten years. This is mainly because apples and peaches in the drought sections have been badly damaged.

In peaches, California's total of all varieties is estimated at 670,000 tons, as compared with 320,000 last year. For the entire country the increase is set at but 2 per cent.

A 13 per cent increase in the pear crop of the country is predicted, with California harvesting 9,450,000 bushels, as against 7,917,000 in 1929. The Central States have but two-fifths of a normal crop, but New York's yield is one of the largest, Washington State is nearly a record and Oregon has the largest in history.

AS TO VEGETABLES

The report states that the national grape production, due largely to the increase in California, is 12 per cent above last year, but the same as a five-year average. Little damage from drought has been done this crop.

Corn, beans, peas and tomatoes comprise four-fifths of the nation's canning vegetable acreage, but, although they show a 15 per cent increase in acreage, the drought, according to the Agricultural Department figures, has held the yield to normal proportions.

With the exception of onions, all major commercial truck crops show a drop below the ten-year average because of the drought, the decline being chiefly in cabbages, cantaloupes, peas and watermelons.

"Now I Hardly Realize I Was Ever Sick a Day"

The records of Sargon abound with voluntary indorsements from men and women in all walks of life who have found in this celebrated new compound their first

Mrs. W. H. McFARLAND

Not only relief from years of suffering, such was the experience of Mrs. W. E. McFarland, well-known resident of 1517½ W. Vernon Ave., Los Angeles, who recently said:

"I don't see how I could have held out much longer if it hadn't been for this wonderful Sargon treatment!

"I was in wretched health for at least three years. My appetite failed me completely and what little I ate kept me feeling miserable. I became dreadfully nervous and weak and a severe case of [illegible] just about finished me. I was subject to severe headaches and slept so little I hated for bed time to come. I didn't even try to do my housework and just about lost interest in everything.

"I have taken only four bottles of Sargon and I just feel like an entirely different person! I eat heartily and my food agrees with me perfectly. My nerves are strong and I don't believe I ever slept better in my life. Why, I do all my housework now, and I'm so strong and energetic I can hardly realize I was ever sick a day.

"Sargon Pills are what I call dependable laxatives. They regulate the bowels as intended and not once did they nauseate or upset me. Everybody tells me how well I look and I surely feel fine."

Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores and Liggett Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.]

UNIONISTS FIRE KENTUCKY MINE

Fifty Thousand Dollar Loss Laid to Sabotage

Act Believed Aftermath of Air-Bomber Arrests

Charges Issued Against Two Illinois Flyers

PROVIDENCE (Ky.) Aug. 14. (AP) Fire destroyed a sixty-foot tipple at the No. 3 mine of the Providence Coal Company today, with loss estimated at $50,000. It was the highest property damage resulting from an act of sabotage since union disorders began in Webster county July 1, when mines reopened after a three-month shutdown. Wayne Crow, deputy Sheriff who investigated, said it was undoubtedly incendiary.

The mine is one of the three in the county that did not reopen. It employed 200 men when closed April 1. Officials said the burning was an act of retaliation against two company stockholders who went to Murphysboro, Ill., early in the week and identified Paul Montgomery's airplane as the one from which bombs were dropped in Webster county Monday.

The burning of the tipple was the second act of sabotage since Monday's bombing. Yesterday one end of an Illinois Central Railway trestle was dynamited, but the damage was slight.

Essell Grant, 35 years of age, and Ewing Riley, 20, miners arrested last night as suspects in Monday's bombing, were released under bonds of $5000 each early today.

CHARGES ISSUED AGAINST PAIR IN ILLINOIS

MURPHYSBORO (Ill.) Aug. 14. (AP)—Federal and State warrants charging conspiracy to destroy nonunion mine property were sworn out late today against Paul Montgomery and James Malone, aviators and others in connection with the aerial bombing at Providence, Ky., Monday morning. Montgomery is from Murphysboro and Malone from Duquoin.

The Federal warrants charge violation of the acts of Congress giving the Department of Commerce authority to regulate air traffic. These, as well as the State warrants, were sworn out before Charles L. Porter, who is both a United States commissioner and a justice of the peace. The State warrants charge the conspiracy was concocted in Illinois.

BOTH IN JAIL

The warrants were served on Montgomery and Malone who are in jail here. Montgomery, who confessed he piloted the bombing plane, had been held pending extradition to Webster county, Kentucky, while Malone had been held for further investigation after he admitted he had unwittingly acted as a go-between in the bombing plot. He said two men offered three weeks ago to employ him as a pilot, but he was unable to accept the job and turned it over to Montgomery, a friend. He declared he did not know the purpose of the flight.

Both Ralph Lesemann, assistant United States Attorney, and Fletcher Lewis, State's Attorney, said the new warrants are not designed to prevent extradition of Montgomery to Kentucky.

PAID $100 FOR JOB

Sheriff Overby of Webster county is expected here tonight with extradition papers. Officers refused to disclose others named in the new warrants pending their arrest. Essel Grant, 30 years of age, of Claye, Ky., president of a local mine union, and Ewing Riley of Providence, Ky., are under bond in Webster county on charges of having accompanied Montgomery in his plane on the bombing expedition.

Officers have refused to divulge details of Montgomery's confession. It is learned, however, he said he was paid $100 in advance and more was to be paid him.

QUEEN MAY TAKE CURE FOR OBESITY

Presence of Elizabeth of Belgium at French Spa Sets Tongues Wagging

PARIS, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—The arrival of Queen Elizabeth of Belgium at the fashionable Spa Brides-Les-Bains has started a lot of tongues wagging in the hotsy-totsy haunts of international nobility.

Brides-Les-Bains is famous for its reducing cure and the presence of the Belgian Queen is attributed by gossips to worry over increasing avoirdupois. Queen Elizabeth has long been noted for her graceful figure and is said to be greatly distressed over a tendency toward obesity.

Pola Negri also is taking the cure at the same resort in an effort to recover her girlish figure so she can enter the talkies. It is also reported that she is about to file suit for divorce.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. (AP)—George A. Duddy of San Francisco was elected president of the California Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, today, and Santa Rosa was chosen for the 1931 convention.

Other new officers are: Fred Guenther, Bakersfield, vice-president; Charles W. Zimmerman, Long Beach, chaplain; R. H. W. Mahoney, Berkeley, conductor; Gustave Pohlman, San Francisco, secretary; George Vice, Sacramento, treasurer; A. Watson, San Jose, inside guard; Robert Peck, Roseville, outside guard.

The officers will be installed tomorrow.

MEARS WILL COLLECT GLOBE-GIRDLING DATA

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—John Henry Mears, globe girdler, and his pilot, Henry J. Brown of Cleveland, will sail for London within ten days to fly in a Moth plane across Russia and Siberia and familiarize themselves with conditions, which they expect to confront in an attempted round-the-world flight in the summer of 1931. Mears and Brown returned today by ship from Harbor Grace, N. F., where their plane cracked up the 3rd inst. as it took off for Dublin, on a flight in which they hoped to traverse the globe.

REVISED COUNT BENEFITS CITY

Los Angeles Population Put at 1,233,561

San Francisco Preliminary Figures Increased

Residents of Long Beach Number 141,528

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—A summary of California's population issued by the Census Bureau today shows upward revisions for Los Angeles and San Francisco over preliminary figures.

The Los Angeles total was set at 1,233,561, an increase of 656,888 or 113.9 per cent. The preliminary 1930 figure was 1,231,730.

San Francisco's population was announced as 637,212, an increase of 130,536 or 25.8 per cent. The preliminary figure gave San Francisco 625,974.

The population for Long Beach was set at 141,528, an increase of 85,935 or 154.6 per cent.

The State total of 5,672,009, an increase of 2,245,143 or 65.5 per cent, was the same as announced in offical figures last week.

Detroit's total also was augmented, being set at 1,573,985, an increase of 9599 over the figure previously announced.

GRAND JURY DROPS CASE ON EWALD

Former Magistrate and Tammany Hall Leader Cleared by Dismissal

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—A county grand jury refused today to indict anybody in connection with charges that former City Magistrate George F. Ewald had paid $12,000 to influence his appointment to the bench in 1927 and the case was dismissed.

The witnesses included Ewald and Emmerich Boczor, his one-time "secretary," who had told a Federal grand jury he heard Ewald say he had paid $12,000 for his appointment.

The collapse of the charges cleared not only the former magistrate, but his wife, Mrs. Bertha Ewald; Thomas T. Tommaney, Sheriff's clerk, and Martin J. Healy, Tammany leader of Ewald's home district, and suspended deputy commissioner of plant and structures.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 14. (AP)—Twenty-five nonunion welders were attacked and five were seriously beaten today when union members carried out a threat to stop work being done near here on an oil pipe line from Tulsa, Okla., to Wood River, Ill.

The welders, who started work Monday, were on the job today when they were attacked with clubs. About 200 men are employed along a twenty-five-mile right of way.

Sheriff Grothe of St. Charles and a squad of deputies rushed to the scene. The injured were taken to St. Charles. One man had been struck with an ax. The contract for construction for the Ajax Pipe Line Company is held by the Oklahoma Contracting Company.

HAWKS TO TAKE VACATION

Cross-country Record-holder will Travel in Slow Plane to New Hampshire for Outing

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—When a speed king goes on vacation he apparently likes just to jog along and take a look at the scenery. Frank Hawks, who holds the airplane records for both eastward and westward transcontinental flight, is going to New Hampshire for a few days' rest and he's going to fly there in a plane that has a cruising speed of 110 miles an hour.

That might not seem like any snail's pace to the groundling, but Hawks's racer has done as much as 260 miles an hour with a puff of wind on its tail, and on the flight from California yesterday, which was completed in little more than one round of the clock, the average was about 215 miles an hour.

LUNCHEON GUEST

Tomorrow Hawks and his wife will motor to Bridgeport, Ct., and from the plant of an airplane company there will fly in a four-place amphibian to Lake Winnipesaukee where they will alight on the water near the estate of Mrs. Richard A. Mestres, whose guests they will be for several days.

Today Hawks was guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Advertising Club and told of his latest record flights, the one in slightly more than twelve hours yesterday and the one just a week before in which he flew from New York to California in less than fifteen hours.

NOT AFTER RECORD

He reiterated previous statements his primary purpose was to demonstrate the possibility of an aerial pony express for transport of important documents and not to establish a new record or to beat the west-east record of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, which he did lower by more than two hours.

Col. Lindbergh telephoned congratulations to Hawks today but there was no indication whether he would attempt to regain the record. The Lindbergh speed plane is at present in a factory having installed in its streamlined nose a far more powerful engine than it had on its record flight. The new engine will develop 600 horsepower, an increase of 150 horsepower with an added weight of only 110 pounds.

Canadian Lauds American Liquor Curb Program

Control System in Dominion Declared to be Failure

Talk Given Before Virginia Public Affairs Group

UNIVERSITY (Va.) Aug. 14. (AP) The Institute of Public Affairs, in which prohibition has been warmly debated during the last ten days, was told today the Eighteenth Amendment is a success and Canada's liquor-control system, about which Americans hear much, is a failure.

The speaker was Ben H. Spence, Washington correspondent for the Toronto Daily Star. He prefaced his address with the statement that one acid test is necessary for all liquor systems—"under which do the people consume the most alcohol?"

Were the Canadian system to be put into effect in the United States immediately, he said, estimating this country's population to be twelve and one half times that of Canada, the United States would spend nearly $2,500,000,000 a year for liquor, assuming the per capita consumption to be equal.

MERE SELLING AGENT

Government control of liquor in Canada is incorrectly named—it should be government sale, Spence said. In denying the Canadian liquor systems are government-owned he offered figures showing that of the 5135 liquor-selling establishments in Canada, only 575 are owned and operated by the government, 4560 belonging to private concerns.

"The government simply acts as selling agent for the brewers and distillers and as purveyor to the drinker," he said.

Mr. Spence called liquor "the leakiest leakable liquor that ever leaked" in referring to the difficulty of controlling it.

"It has the peculiar property," he added, "of being able to soak and seep through all kinds of legal and other dams."

TRADE OVER BORDER

An enormous export trade has grown up from Canada across the American border, he said, for the States contiguous to the Province of Ontario are "thickly populated by the driest and thirstiest people in all the world."

Reports that there are no saloons in Canada were termed fiction. The facts are, said Spence, "that 2607 of the 5135 liquor-selling places, or more than one-half of the total, sell by the glass for consumption on the premises.

"The cry in Canada was, as it is in the United States, that there would be no more bar rooms," the speaker continued. "Yet four of the liquor-selling provinces have established beer parlors. The difference between these beer parlors and the old saloons is the difference between tweedle dee and tweedle dum."

Neither, he said, has illicit sale been abolished under the government control. "There was bootlegging under prohibition, there was bootlegging under the old license system and there is bootlegging under liquor control," he declared. In Ontario, for instance, he added, there is no place where a man can legally go and get a drink of liquor and drink it.

"TOO SILLY TO ANSWER," DECLARES FITTS

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 14. (AP) Buron Fitts, Los Angeles District Attorney and candidate for Governor, today said charges that he and Mayor Rolph of San Francisco are working in collusion to defeat Gov. Young are "too silly to answer."

The charges were made in San Francisco by Irving Martin, Northern California campaign manager, and Clem Whitaker, publicity director for Gov. Young.

"Such a statement is too silly to answer," Fitts said. "If it is meant that Rolph and I are both against the rotten set-up in Sacramento, then it is true."

Clarion Call Sounded to Humanize Procedure

World Disarmament Urged as Peace Measure

LAMBETH PALACE (London) Aug. 14. (AP)—A clarion call to "humanize religion," to defend the Christian standard of the family, of marriage and sacredness of sex, and to meet squarely and frankly other problems of life, was sounded by the Lambeth conference of Anglican bishops which has just concluded its deliberations here.

Sixty bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States were among the 306 who sat for five weeks under the chairmanship of the Archbishop of Canterbury.

RESULTS DISCUSSED

This afternoon in the medieval guardroom of Lambeth Palace the archbishop discussed the results of the conference, as embodied in an encyclical letter and seventy resolutions, containing in all some 70,000 words, considered by the church authorties to be epochal in the history of the Church of England and challenging to the religious thought of the world.

Other results of the conference are a recognition of the help to religion of modern science and a call of youth, in its "mental confusion and spiritual hunger."

The conference also brought to light a record of a stimulus to a growing movement toward Christian unity throughout the world and the admission of women to the ministry of the church as far as the order of deaconess.

DISARMAMENT SOUGHT

Another important development was the denunciation of war as incompatible with the teaching of Christ, together with a clear-cut statement that "the existence of armaments on their present scale among nations endangers the maintenance of peace." The conference joins in an appeal for a further effort to obtain continued reduction of armaments by international agreement.

There emerged from the conference, as contained in the encyclical letter, the declaration that no one shall be excluded from worship in any church on account of color or race and that the guiding principle of racial relations shall be interdependence and not competition.

Nevadan Ships Calves by Truck

RENO (Nev.) Aug. 14. (AP)—What is said to be the first serious attempt to ship live stock from Nevada to Pacific Coast stockyards by automobile truck was made this week when State Senator W. F. Dressler of Minden, Nev., one of the largest live-stock operators in Nevada, loaded ninety calves at Bridgeport, Cal., near the Nevada line, and shipped them direct to Los Angeles.

The shipment, equal to one railroad carload, was made as an experiment, Dressler said today. The higher transportation rate by truck was absorbed by the lesser shrinkage in weight of stock than when shipped by train. It is 400 miles from Bridgeport to Los Angeles.

WOMAN APES ENOCH ARDEN

Vermont Wife Disappears, "Body" Found, Her Husband Weds Again, Now She Reappears

BELLOWS FALLS (Vt.) Aug. 14. (AP)—The reappearance here of Mrs. Catherine Rockwell Packard, wife of George J. Packard of Rutland, had given her the role of a feminine Enoch Arden today and had produced a mystery involving suicide or murder and mistaken identity which officials sought to unravel.

More than a year ago Mrs. Packard disappeared from her Rutland home. In August, 1929, the body of a woman found in a Chester pasture was identified by Packard as that of his wife. On the body was a note which read: "I am sick of life and am going where I will be happy."

In July 14 of this year Packard married again. His second wife was Margaret L. MacFarland of Rutland. On that same date, an insurance company refused to pay insurance on the first wife.

Recently the supposedly dead Mrs. Packard made an appearance in Manchester, N. H. She explained she had been "out west." She returned to Vermont Sunday.

Investigators said Mrs. Packard admitted having written the note found with the body of the dead woman, during a period of despondency. How another person obtained it she could not explain.

After leaving her husband, Mrs. Packard said she worked in a hospital in Springfield, Vt., and later in Cleveland, O., returning from Cleveland she located in Manchester, N. H.

Boy Flyer Has Narrow Escape from Tree Top

ALTOONA (Pa.) Aug. 14. (AP)—A narrow escape from disaster was related by Eddie Schneider, 18-year-old Westfield (N. J.) pilot, on his arrival tonight by plane from Water street at Schultz Airport, near Altoona, from where he intends hopping off westward tomorrow in an attempt to set a new junior transcontinental east-to-west record flight.

Schneider related that on his flight to Water street from Huntingdon, where he was forced to land earlier in the day because of fog and rain, his plane scraped the top of a tree, tearing away part of the fabric from the lower part of a wing. It was Schneider's first warning that he was flying so low, he said.

On determining at Water street that the damage was slight, he flew to Altoona later in the day to have the wing fabric repaired.

Justice Department Report Shows $842,012,244

Bankruptcy Cases for Year Number 60,548

Liabilities $948,257,731; Assets $118,572,409

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—Creditors of the 60,548 bankrupts whose cases were disposed of by the Federal courts in the year ending June 30, last, were losers to the extent of $842,012,244, the Department of Justice disclosed today in a report issued in connection with its survey of operations of the Federal bankruptcy laws.

The total of liabilities in the cases settled was $948,257,731, while the assets produced only $118,572,409. After expenses were deducted only $106,245,478 was left for the creditors.

Included in the cases were 4472 farmers, 29,067 wage earners, 13,580 merchants, 1386 manufacturers, 1378 professional men and 10,665 unclassified.

NOTABLES TO GREET MITCHELL

Former Coworkers will Attend Opening Night of Playhouse Drama

Many of Grant Mitchell's fellow-professionals in stage and screen productions will be on hand to welcome the star when he appears in "The Champion" at the Hollywood Playhouse, starting Sunday night. In the audience at the premiere will be Louise Closser Hale, with whom Mitchell acted in "One of the Family;" J. C. Elliott and Ruth Nugent, with whom he played in "Kempy;" Isabel Withers, the original Kate of the same comedy; Gilbert Emery, who wrote "The Hero," and numerous others.

"The Champion" was written for Mitchell by A. E. Thomas and Thomas Louden. In it he has the role of a prize fighter who wins the championship under the name of Gunboat Williams and who horrifies his conventionally minded family when he returns to his native England.

Doris Lloyd heads the supporting cast of twenty players, including Claude Allister, Lucy Beaumont, Lorna Noy, Nenette Vallon, Charles Coleman, Herbert Bunston, Robert Williamson, Evan Thomas and others.

GROUPS TO ATTEND CHINESE

Sponsored by civic, industrial, commercial and fraternal organizations, group attendance on an extensive scale has been started at Grauman's Chinese Theater.

Since Los Angeles ranks high as a center of the airplane industry, many of such organizations have chosen special nights in which to bring their entire personnel in a body to see the Howard Hughes film, "Hell's Angels."

Special excursions from near-by communities also have been arranged with the railroads and bus lines providing special transportation direct to the theater.

Bard's Offers 'White Cargo'

"White Cargo," the torrid stage production which played in Los Angeles some years ago, has been transferred to the talking screen by an English company. It is screened at Bard's Eighth-street Theater.

Leslie Faber, Maurice Evans and Sebastian Smith have important roles in the story of human emotions and psychology. There are several short-reel subjects on the program.

ROLE COMPLETED

Victor Varconi has completed a leading role in "Capt. Thunder," which was directed by Alan Crosland for Warner Brothers.

LASKY SIGNS URSULA PARROTT

Pathe to Revive Thrilling Serials as Talkers; Paul Muni Will Play in Film Version of "Saul;" Tiffany Costars Hurst and Pert Kelton

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Ursula Parrott, author of "Ex-Wife," and "Strangers May Kiss," was signed yesterday as a member of the writing staff at Paramount's New York studio, according to word received at the Hollywood studios.

CLAUDETTE COLBERT

No less skillful an actress than Claudette Colbert will be the star of an original story to be written especially for her by Miss Parrott, according to further announcement. No intimation as to the title of the story is given, but it is safe to say it will be something along the spicy lines of Miss Parrott's other writings.

Miss Colbert will return to New York about October 15 from a round-the-world tour, to resume work at the Paramount studios. She sailed from Los Angeles immediately after completing her role with Frederic March in "Manslaughter."

It is reported that Miss Colbert is by way of being a very good amateur photographer and movie cameraman, and that, carrying with her a portable motion-picture camera, she has been filming many interesting episodes of her voyage. This film has been forwarded to the laboratory at the studios.

PATHE TO PRODUCE HOWLING SERIALS

The black-and-blue drama is to be revived, and by Pathe.

Just imagine if, in the old days of serials, one had been able to hear the heroine's shriek and the villain's ha-ha! And that's just what is going to happen now.

Harking back to the days of the serials, Pathe is going to start work at once on three lively chapter stories with all the thrills of the old days, and plus the sound. So that once more, not only will one see the naively trustful "gell" hurry forth at the sound of a whistle, though she was trapped that way only yesterday, only to be whisked off by the villain, but one will also hear her cry for the hero.

Even the names of the old serials are to be retained, and probably some of the episodes, although airplanes will be used, probably, instead of automobiles, and radio will play its part instead of the telephone.

The titles of the three serials will be "The New Exploits of Elaine," "The New Perils of Pauline," and "The Poison Pen." Pearl White, you remember, was star of "The Exploits of Elaine" and of "Perils of Pauline." Pathe produced.

So far no directors or stars have been chosen, and it is known that Pathe is looking for a new serial queen.

Paul Muni in Film Version

Paul Muni is, we hear, to be starred in a film version of "The Man Saul," the new play in which he appeared at the Pasadena Community Playhouse last week. The drama is opening a run in New York shortly.

PAUL MUNI

In the meantime Muni and Arthur Lubin, who directed the play here, are returning to New York, leaving last night, to start rehearsals of the piece, which is by Sidney Robert Buchman. Other players who appeared here are to enact roles in the Broadway presentation.

R.-K.-O. Signs Writer

Howard Estabrook, well-known writer, has been signed on a long-term contract by R.-K.-O., and is at present working on the film talking version of "Cimarron," which Wesley Ruggles is to direct.

No further assignment has yet been given Estabrook, but it is understood that one will shortly be announced.

Pert Kelton In It

It does seem as though the brilliant little Pert Kelton were wasted in short subjects, and so also does it seem as though Paul Hurst's fine talents would be somewhat lost in that kind of picture.

Nevertheless Tiffany seems to think differently, and so is casting these two, cofeatured, in a series of short comedies, the first of which will be titled "One Punch O'Toole." Sig Neufeld is directing.

Lupe in Spanish Version

So popular is Lupe Velez in all the Spanish-speaking countries that Universal, it is rumored, is to to produce a Spanish version of "East is West," the English version of which has just been completed with Miss Velez as star.

LUPE VELEZ

Before starting work in this Spanish version, however, Miss Velez is to take a two weeks' vacation. This will give time for the casting of the Latin talkie and for the writing of the script.

Paramount Changes Title

"The Santa Fe Trail" has been chosen as the title for Paramount's film version of Hal G. Evarts's "Spanish Acres," it was announced yesterday by B. P. Schulberg.

CLOWNING PROVIDES FILM FUN

Eddie Quillan Opens Bag of Tricks in "Night Work" at R.-K.-O. Theater

Eddie Quillan and twenty-seven supporting players, including a goodly number of precocious infants, enact "Night Work" on the screen of the R.-K.-O. Theater and manage several humorous moments and a few sad ones. The humor of the piece saves it from being naive and a bit boresome.

The antics of the featured player are always good for audience laughs, and the full bag of tricks is opened without reserve. Quillan has a way of clowning that is distinctive and amusing. His scenes of pathos are not as convincing.

The story, by Walter De Leon, tells of an assistant window dresser who through the influence of a pretty girl signs an agreement to support an orphan. The boy dressed his windows during the day and works as a waiter at night, and in the latter character provides some lively humor. There is a hint of blackmail brought into the tale, connected in some remote way with the main plot, which never fully develops. The man who, it later turns out, is supposed to be the grandfather of the orphan attempts to get the child away from the orphanage. Willie (Quillan) also wants the lad, whose nurse is Sally Starr. To make a somewhat complicated yarn short, however, everything turns out all right, Quillan gets the waif and Sally, and also a promotion to head window dresser.

A closer knit story would have helped "Night Work," materially. With twenty-eight in the cast there seemed to be too many entrances and exits for the good of the plot. Persons apparently are associated with the central theme and then disappear for the remainder of the picture.

The principals were portrayed by Quillan, Sally Starr, Frances Upton, who made a delightful comedienne and a capable one; John T. Murray in a comedy role, George Duryea, Robert McWade as the irascible manager of the store, Douglas Scott as the orphan, Addie McPhail, Kit Guard and many, many others.

Russell Mack directed "Night Work" for Pathe.

The stage program at the R.-K.-O. is headlined by Bob Murphy as master of ceremonies and Joe Daly and the R.-K.-O. discoveries, a group of youngsters from various parts of the country.

Other acts were Bob Ripa, boy juggler, and Tom Kerr and Edith Ensign in jokes and some dancing.

Joe Brown and Film Coworkers will Take Bows

Joe E. Brown, Laura Lee, Jack Whiting and Frank McHugh, all dealers in rapid-fire comedy, are to present a series of original numbers tonight on the stage of Warner Brothers Hollywood Theater with the opening of the picture, "Top Speed."

"Top Speed" is Brown's first starring comedy, and it is said that he outshines his riotous performance in "Hold Everything."

This personal appearance is Brown's own idea, it is reported, and he promises something new and different. This will also mark the first stage appearance of Laura Lee and Jack Whiting.

Mervyn LeRoy directed "Top Speed."

POWELL ENACTS BRILLIANT ROLE

Excellent Character-Drawing in "For the Defense"

Star Plays Clever Criminal Lawyer in Latest

Kay Francis and Others Offer Quality in Production

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Neatly done in the best William Powell style is "For the Defense," now showing at the Paramount Theater. The star plays a criminal attorney, who wins all his cases but one. And that's the story.

"For the Defense" is far more clever and real in its content than "Shadow of the Law," the last picture in which Powell was seen. Indeed, the film should reinstate this very competent actor with those who did not care so greatly for the previous production. Not to say that the deficiencies of "Shadow of the Law" were Powell deficiencies. It was more a case of a strain on the plot possibilities.

John Cromwell, who seems to have a great flair for stories touching on the illegal, not to say also legal processes, directed this new picture. And Oliver H. P. Garrett adapted the story of Charles Furthman to the audible silver sheet. The combination apparently worked for a closely knit dramatic picture, with comedy that is not very abundant, but is capital in its lightning-flash brightness.

Powell, as William Foster, is in love with the actress Irene Manners. He is an eminently successful man, dealing effectively always with hopeless causes in the courts. He has a large following in the underworld of New York. He is the source of extreme worry and trouble for the District Attorney.

Things have reached such a pass, indeed, that a banquet is held to do something about it all. The District Attorney delivers a tirade against conditions, blaming it on the sharp practice of the lawyers, and even accusing them of resorting to bribery.

Powell takes the whole matter as a personal insult and proceeds to denounce the meeting. He argues his good intentions for his clients, and finally, after an ironic jibe at the District Attorney, leaves.

In this scene the character is well established, and there is no mincing in the subsequent treatment. The hero is depicted as a gay living blade of the big city, close to the nether side at all times in his tactics, friendly with the crooks, a habitue of the speakeasies, frequently heavily drinking, but always debonair, polished and a gentleman.

It can be seen that this particular character played by Powell is not unlike his gambling adventurer in "Street of Chance." And "For the Defense"—having planted certain nice blots on his personality—proceeds to take the toll that is lawful in drama under the circumstances. In other words, the picture follows the good old rule that in order properly to achieve tragedy (in this instance a semitragedy,) you must first have the taint of guilt in the hero's character.

Therefore, in the end Powell goes up the river for a term, though not unhopefully, because the woman whom he had treated lightly in love and whom he mistrusted, promises to wait for him.

The main story, it should be mentioned, centers about Powell's effort to prevent her being involved in a manslaughter case. But the motifs of this part of the film are too pleasantly complicated to be recited here. And the picture will gain interest if you know little or nothing about these scenes in advance.

The star's portrayal is well matched by the ultra-modern Kay Francis, whose role is decidedly prominent. She does work of fineness and sympathy in this production.

William B. Davidson and Thomas E. Jackson contribute to the quality of the feature and Scott Kolk is another more prominent. Generally speaking, the performances, doubtless due to the direction as well as the playing, leave very little to be desired in efficiency. This picture is really an unusually interesting one.

The short comedies, outside of some rather vulgar passes in "Resolutions," are good entertainment. The cartoon, "Barnacle Bill," is a very bright novelty. In spots "Resolutions," too, becomes exceedingly funny. And the Robert Bruce scenic, "Many Moons," presents a beautiful series of night shots, mingling the splendors of illuminated clouds and southern seas. Henry Hall of the old Morosco stock company speaks the lines that accompany the scenes.

Oliver Wallace offers the customary organ selection.

GALA EVENT AT BELASCO PRESAGED

"It's a Wise Child" to Start Limited Engagement Monday Night

That the Belasco Theater is scheduled for another brilliant opening Monday night when the original David Belasco cast and production of "It's a Wise Child" puts in an appearance, is said to be evidenced by the number of reservations of stage and screen stars.

Among those who are arranging theater parties are Ann Harding, Clarence Brown, Richard Barthelmess, Mary Nolan, Roland West, Rufus Le Maire, Robert Milton, Irving Thalberg, John Gilbert, Frank Borzage, Bradley King, Dorothy Burgess and Grace Hampton.

"It's a Wise Child" has the distinction of running an entire year in New York, and was brought direct to the Coast, with no intervening stops, direct from its metropolitan engagement. There are no changes in the cast, it is said.

The run of the comedy at the Belasco is limited to a few weeks.

FILM NEAR COMPLETION

Finishing touches will be placed on "The Lady Surrenders," next week, by John M. Stahl, who is directing this screen adaptation of John Erskine's popular novel, "Sincerity," for Universal.

THRONG LAUDS MOLINARI

"Bolero" and "Festivals of Rome" Stir Audience at Bowl to Frenzied Enthusiasm

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Seldom does a conductor receive such an ovation as was tendered Bernardino Molinari upon the completion of his program at the Hollywood Bowl last night. Two numbers, the Ravel "Bolero" and "Festivals of Rome" by Respighi, aroused the audience to a pitch of enthusiasm that mounted to delirium. This frenzy was induced by Molinari's marvelous power of rhythm. He might truly be characterized as a master rhythmicist.

The Respighi "Festivals" has been heard here but once before. It is new music and in Molinari's sympathetic interpretation becomes expressive of both the new and the old Italy. The work calls for heavy instrumentation with especial emphasis on trombones and wood winds. Horns play effectively off stage and a typical Italian mandolin folk song is given prominence. Even a little modern syncopation is employed for additional realism.

The gamut of Italian national life from the cathedral to the hurdy-gurdy is run in the "Festivals." Street songs played as naturally as they would be sung in that enchanted land of music are elaborated later with modern use of overtones and orchestrated with the color one expects from a genius who developed his art with Rimsky-Korsakoff. Molinari succeeded in crystalizing this greatness of Respighi with his own art, the art of commanding and forceful rhythm, and the audience was moved to shouts and cheers and repeated recalls. It was one of the greatest Bowl successes.

Ravel's "Bolero" started with the faintest suggestion of the presence of a Spanish dancer from the snare drum. It ended after every possible orchestral tone had been expended on the reiterated eight measures of the mesmeric melody. The climax made the Bowl resound and created wild excitement among the listeners.

Both the "Bolero and the "Festivals" are essentially national and that inner force of Spanish and Italian nature which produced them is also the force which animates Molinari as a conductor. He is the conductor of conductors to interpret Respighi to the world.

The first half of the program was devoted to "Spring" from Vivaldi's "Four Seasons" and the Haffner symphony of Mozart in D major.

"Spring" is an ancient tribute to the beauties of nature. Birds were simulated by solo violins, Noack, Svedrofsky and Roman taking prominent parts. Claire Mellonino at the piano and Alex Karnbach at the harmonium added interest. This string number of lovely charm has become identified with the Molinari programs.

The Mozart symphony was different in that it was played with a kind of rough primitiveness. A certain sturdiness resulted. Possibly this effect was desired because the symphony was performed out-of-doors. Thus the minuet was given the character of a country dance and the whole work a heaviness quite unusual in a chamber-music symphony.

Tonight Molinari will conduct a "Saga," by Sibelius, the brilliant "Scheherazade," by Rimsky-Korsakoff, the March of Rakoczy from "The Damnation of Faust," by Berlioz and Borodin's ballet music from "Prince Igor," to which the Michio Ito dancers will dance.

Musical Film Tells Tale of Foreign Legion

One of the diminishing notes sounded for the musical picture is "Women Everywhere," a romance with song now at the Boulevard.

From a story by George Grossmith and Zoltan Korda is taken this adventure tale of Morocco and the Foreign Legion. Into Alexander Korda's hands was placed the direction. In order to fill both needs, music and plot, he has employed two distinct styles, which unfortunately he fails to blend into a smooth unison.

To retain the movement of action and at the same time exploit incidental songs requires delicate co-ordination. And such has not been achieved. While Mr. J. Harold Murray gives vent to frequent vocal numbers, all action ceases and the camera stays riveted upon Murray's face. Encores are not forgotten and the camera rests on through them. This technique is essentially not motion picture.

A certain artificiality is felt in all phases of "Women Everywhere," even in the histrionics of Murray. Although the Boulevard's reproduction apparatus does not do him justice, his voice is of high screen caliber. He attacks his role of a devil-may-care gun-runner with a greater realistic force than was expected, his only self-depreciation being a consistent hangover of the singer's attitude.

There is a girl in a Morocco cabaret whose love for Murray is of the reforming kind. She saves him from the French officials, then through his own efforts he wins medals in the Foreign Legion. Fifi Dorsay plays the girl with fire and with a genuine sympathy. In this role, which by itself is not outstanding, the French Fifi is far more attractive than she has been since her earliest appearances. Her personality is as peculiar as it is definite.

The early portion of the film deals with the capture and escape of Murray. A degree of excitement is generated, but no real suspense; perhaps because Murray has to join in so often with the Morocco symphony.

The latter half, devoted to scenes of the Legion fighting on the desert, is much more interesting. Some of the views have an extraordinary beauty.

Other characterizations stand out from this wild web of incident. For too short a while Clyde Cook entertains with his wistful comedy. Unfortunately, or fortunately, he is cornered by a harem and doesn't come out of hiding until the bitter end. A neat bit is skillfully handled by George Grossmith. Rose Dione and Ralph Kellard are likewise ingenious.

A satirical burlesque, "America or Bust," furnishes its quota of humor on the bill. Daphne Pollard is the star. Jackie Souders and his band offer stage fare.

LANGDON IN NEW FILM

Harry Langdon portrays the leader of a notorious gang of rum runners in his latest picture, "See America Thirst," now in production at Universal.

VIRILE TALE PERFORMED ON SCREEN

"Storm" Roars Way into Million Dollar; Trio of Players Featured

BY P. K. S.

With the loosed fury of a blizzard, "The Storm" swept through the portals (open to catch vagrant breezes) of the Million Dollar Theater yesterday afternoon, and an audience gloried in its onslaught. For here, manifestly, was one of the real red-blooded melodramas of the year—a straightforward, unpretentiously illuminating segment of three lives in an isolated cabin deep in the Canadian snows. Living the lives were Lupe Velez, William Boyd and Paul Cavanagh.

It is not so many years since Langdon McCormick was amazing theatergoers with fancy effects and offstage winds, all for the sake of realism and this same storm that Universal whips across the screen today. His efforts would doubtless seem puny beside those which the firm company has expended; white vistas and a snowslide that is breathtaking are not the least of them. And in addition, the story has been so improved and strengthened, its psychology so shrewdly built, that the elements are never allowed to obscure the human actors or concern for their fate.

After an invigorating prologue, in which the two men—Boyd and Cavanagh—are brought together for the first time since they marched to war, the camera picks up the narrative at the cabin of Jacques Fachard, trapper, and his daughter Manette. Wanted by the police, Fachard, with the help of Manette, contrives a getaway down the rapids in a canoe. This is a brilliantly executed sequence in which the spectator seems actually to participate; and then, safely through at last, the runaway pair reach Cavanagh's retreat.

With Fachard's death, Manette, or Miss Velez, becomes the insistently feminine member of a trio doomed to spend a winter together—far from civilization, in the center of a whining maelstrom of snow and sleet. The men are contrasts: Burr Winton, the stolid, unlettered woodsman, and David Stewart, the urbane product of a social register. Between them, Manette, a communicative flame.

There are pleasant interludes: the lesson in etiquette, a Christmas eve and the gifts of accordion and music box, candles and a feast of beans. Then trouble starts.

Both men are excellent in their parts; there is little attempt at "typing;" the roles are humanized and believable. Miss Velez is emotionally expressive, and—whatever your prejudice against French-Canadian accents—quite expert in her lines. Alphonz Ethier scores as the father.

"The Storm" was directed by William Wyler and produced by Carl Laemmle, Jr.—the combination responsible for the recent noteworthy "Hell's Heroes," desert saga. Charles Logue, Wells Root and Tony Brown are credited for the excellent script and dialogue.

Five acts provide amusement at the Million Dollar. In them may be found Mr. and Mrs. Norman Phillips, with Junior; Lee Mason and Stan Scott, and the Hollywood Starlets.

"COMMON CLAY" VIVIDLY TOLD

Former Harvard Prize Play Screened at Loew's

Enactment and Direction of Story Excellent

Constance Bennett Portrays Leading Role in Film

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Rich in emotional values, "Common Clay" came to Loew's State Theater yesterday as the first offering of the new season. It is Fox Films' 1930 representation of the play which, just fifteen years ago, won for Cleves Kinkead the acclaim of drama lovers and a Harvard Workshop prize. With Constance Bennett in the role of Ellen Neal, "Common Clay"—for all its coincidental cliches and spurious premise—will rank as one of the most successful talking photoplays of all when the final toll is taken. And if, as one strongly suspects, it is hokum, then the appropriate suggestion would certainly be to make the most of it.

For the State's new feature, besides being capitally acted, is directed with an unerring sense of drama that audiences everywhere, and especially women, are going to reward with just such a salvo of applause as followed the fadeout yesterday. The story of Ellen Neal is not a pretty one, and it is hardly a true one; but so graphically has it been pictured by Director Victor Fleming and his cast that no one will mind particularly.

Not, that is, after the incredible spectacle of svelte Miss Bennett, fleeing an easy life in a speakeasy to become a maid in a mansion, has joined the procession of things happily past. It just isn't being done this season; and I doubt very much if it was au fait even in 1915. Certainly Miss Bennett carries a bit too much of the air of what the well-dressed woman will wear to make it ring true here.

But in other respects Jules Furthman's treatment of the theme is more convincing; it is broad and unsubtle and overstresses almost every point, and yet it rides to the heights on sheer momentum. The scenes in the latter part of the film—at the lawyer's office, in the courtroom, at the Filson home—maintain a level of suspense that does not drop until there is nothing more to be shown.

Constance Bennett deserves the major share of the praise for performance; she rose, I thought, admirably to the "big scenes," most of which depended upon her for effectiveness. Beryl Mercer, too, has never been more wholly irresistible than as the mouse-like, grave little Mrs. Neal of the witness stand.

The part of the boy, in the main an ungrateful one, is realized by Lew Ayres. Perhaps because he seemed untheatric in a theatric atmosphere, the erstwhile Paul of "All Quiet on the West Front" did not always achieve the forthright accuracy of speech one might have wished from him, though he was otherwise good.

Tully Marshall contributes an exaggerated portrait of Yates, a shoddy lawyer; and roles of varying ability fall to Hale Hamilton, Purnell Pratt, Matty Kemp, Charles McNaughton and Ada Williams.

The Fanchon and Marco show is called "Gobs of Joy." Nautical, of course, in setting, it presents Arthur (Pat) West as master of ceremonies, and such diversified talent as Scotty Westen, Dolly Kramer and the Three Jolly Tars. News reels complete the current bill, which should be an exceedingly favored one.

TECHNICIANS NOTED

Sixteen technical advisers, seven assistant directors, five script clerks, three cutters and a comparably strong production staff in other divisions will assist Wesley Ruggles, director, in filming R.-K.-O. Radio Pictures film venture, "Cimarron."

"MOBY DICK" OPENS TODAY

A colorful and thrilling drama of the sea, "Moby Dick," giving John Barrymore one of his best roles, starts at Warner Brothers Downtown Theater today. This is the Vitaphone version of Herman Melville's novel of the same name.

Barrymore enacts the role of Capt. Ahab, who forsakes love in his search for revenge. With his crew he sails the seven seas in the staunch ship, Shanghai Lady, ever seeking for the white whale, Moby Dick.

The picture was directed by Lloyd Bacon and has in the supporting cast Joan Bennett, Lloyd Hughes, Nigel De Brulier and many others.

In addition to "Moby Dick" there are Lucien Littlefield in another of "The Potters" series, and a Vitaphone variety featuring Eddie Lambert.

TRUCK WRECKS SERVICE STATION

Heavy Machine Swerves on Highway at Pomona

Driver Turned Suddenly to Avoid Collision

Load of Grapefruit Scattered on Road

POMONA, Aug. 14.—Damage estimated at $1500 was caused today when a truck, said to have been driven by Harry Ostrow, Los Angeles fruit dealer, suddenly swerved from the highway at Holt avenue and Huntington Boulevard and crashed into a filling station operated by Frank Winterton, Jr., at the corner.

The truck mowed down three gasoline pumps in its mad dash and also broke off supporting pillars which allowed the roof of the station to sag.

Ostrow stated that he swerved the truck to avoid crashing into another vehicle. He was traveling west on Holt avenue.

The truck was overturned and spilled a load of grapefruit for a considerable distance around the vicinity, while gasoline, which sprayed over the load from the spouting pumps, added to the wreckage.

Aviator Fined for Flying at Low Altitude

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 14.—W. D. Wood, aviator of Bloomington, Ill., was fined $100 by Mexican authorities for flying his cabin monoplane at a low altitude over Tia Juana and Agua Caliente last Sunday night, according to word from Maj. L. Sarrell, aviation inspector for Lower California.

After reports that a plane similar to that piloted by Wood had been flying low over Tia Juana, authorities below the border ordered his plane grounded. Investigation disclosed that Wood had done the low flying, according to Sarrell.

Wood was said to have flown to the coast with three women passengers in the monoplane which was listed as belonging to the Illinois Air Transport Company of Bloomington.

The aviator is said to have departed for Los Angeles following release of his plane.

Anglers Report Fine Catches

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 14.—Fishing here is better than at any time this season, according to anglers casting their lines from the barges, private boats and both the Balboa and Newport piers. Immense hauls of many varieties are being brought in, Cliff Von Kennel of the tackle store reports.

A dolphin, a rare fish and a game one, the first caught this year, was brought in by Jimmie C. Stephensen, captain of the McNally fishing boat Daisy. Some seasons close without a single dolphin being caught north of the Mexican border. Last season was excellent and with the appearance of them again now this year promises to be good.

A battle lasting one hour and fifty minutes rewarded C. W. Francis, sportsman of Los Angeles, with a 306-pound marlin swordfish. He was fishing about ten miles from shore.

After a fight lasting almost an hour, Bert Cubbon, local resident, captured a 120-pound marlin. The piers are crowded every day with anglers who bring in catches of fish.

ONTARIO VETERANS NOMINATE OFFICERS

ONTARIO, Aug. 14.—James G. Galanis, prominent poultryman, will probably be without opposition at the annual election of officers to head Ontario post of the American Legion at the annual election September 8.

The post's nominating committee today announced their slate for the election.

Galanis is nominated without opposition, for commander. Jack Davis is unopposed for first vice-commander, William Tebbetts for second vice-commander, Simon Powers, adjutant; Harold Glazier, Leland S. Davidson for executive committee. H. A. Cramer and John Galvin for historian.

Delegates from Ontario post to the State convention at Sacramento next week are H. J. Caldwell, J. G. Galanis, Leland S. Davidson, Sidney Herzberg, John Galvin, Frank Jones, Frank Martens, Roy Bowmer, J. J. Cox.

Leland S. Davidson is present commander of the post.

COUNTY OFFICIAL SUBMITS TO OPERATION

OXNARD, Aug. 14.—A. J. Dingeman, County Supervisor from this district and a local automobile dealer, was successfully operated on last night for appendicitis at St. John's Hospital. Dingeman was seized with a severe attack yesterday afternoon, making the operation necessary immediately.

He is reported as recovering rapidly today by hospital attaches.

ELECTION DATE SET

MAYWOOD, Aug. 14.—A special election is to be held on September 2, next, when the voters of the city will decide whether Mayor William E. Heath and Councilman Fred H. Brewer are to retain their official positions as members of the City Council. A special ballot is also to be printed and voted by the voters to decide whether they are in favor of Sunday dancing or otherwise.

NEW HEALTH CENTER TO BE DEDICATED

Alhambra Plant Most Complete in Country, Say Experts

Valley's Emergency Hospital
New institution to serve the needs of a community of 130,000.

ALHAMBRA, Aug. 14.—Dedication ceremonies will be held tomorrow for the new Alhambra Health and Welfare Center, one of the county's system of health units, which has just been completed at Sixth and Shorb streets. Health authorities consider it one of the finest and best-equipped institutions of its kind in the country. The center will serve a territory of approximately 130,000 population, including the communities of Alhambra, San Gabriel, Wilmar, El Monte, Puente, Baldwin Park, Monterey Park, Lamanda Park and Altadena.

The building and equipment represent a cost of about $180,000, with provision made for every type of health, welfare and emergency hospital service. The most modern equipment has been installed and many new ideas in health center construction have been incorporated in the plant. The site for the building was donated by the city of Alhambra.

One of the outstanding features of the center is the emergency hospital, which will serve the western San Gabriel Valley. This section of the building is arranged so that distracting noises are eliminated and is equipped with an ambulance entrance. Immediate surgical attention will be provided. In view of the increasing number of automobile accidents and other emergency cases, it is expected the new hospital will be the means of saving many lives and alleviating much suffering, correcting a condition which has arisen in the past due to delay in transporting patients to the more distant General Hospital.

The Alhambra center is under the direct supervision of Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, county health officer. Dr. S. J. Stewart, for the past six years district medical director here, continues as the active head of the institution. Dr. N. P. Crooks is the district health officer. The welfare department is under the direction of Minnie P. Aufderheide. Local physicians are co-operating in a comprehensive program of clinics.

The building is constructed along the Monterey type of architecture showing Andalusian and colonial California influence, with California padre tile roof, whitewashed brick exterior and green shutters with wrought-iron fixtures. Plans were drawn by Karl W. Muck, county architect, who also designed the East Side, Santa Monica and Pomona health centers. The floor plan of the building is in the shape of a double "L." Clinics, laboratories, emergency hospital, women's ward, etc., are on the first floor. Administrative offices, nursing section and district sanitation offices are on the second floor.

The dedication program tomorrow has been arranged by the Alhambra Chamber of Commerce and will begin at 2 o'clock. Frank L. Shaw, county supervisor, will make the dedicatory address. Others to speak will include Chris Campbell, president of the Alhambra City Commission; William H. Holland, county welfare director; Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, James Foley, Dr. Stewart and Rev. D. Edward Wright, chaplain of the local Legion post. The building will be open for inspection during the afternoon.

At 6:30 o'clock there will be a banquet at the Elks' Club and reservations have been made for 400. Representatives of many San Gabriel Valley and other Southern California cities will be present, as well as city and county officials. Walter Dickey, secretary of the State Board of Health, will speak, as well as A. L. Boyden, president of the Alhambra Chamber of Commerce, and W. H. Murphy, president of the Health Center Association. Dancing will follow the program.

Outfall Sewer Line on Way to End of Valley

VAN NUYS, Aug. 14. — Bids on the next two sections of the San Fernando Valley outfall sewere system, which will carry the line from Van Nuys to White Oak avenue, a mile east of Reseda Boulevard, were received yesterday by the Board of Public Works. Section 34-C which extends from Kester avenue and Burbank Boulevard to Havenhurst avenue and Oxnard street, and Section 34-D, which extends from Hayvenhurst avenue and Oxnard street to White Oak avenue and Vanowen street, were the two sections on which bids were asked.

The low bid for job 34-C was submitted by R. A. Watson & Co., and amounted to $139,600. Fourteen other contractors bid on this job. R. A. Watson & Co. also had low bid, $156,716, on job 34-D. Twelve submitted bids on this section. The Board of Public Works will send the name of the low bidder and the price to the Los Angeles City Council, the City Engineer analyzing the bid before it is returned to the board for further consideration. Work on the first two sections of the valley outfall sewer is progressing satisfactorily.

With the completion of Sections 34-C and 34-D there remains only the final and most important link of the line to be completed, that carrying the system to Owensmouth in the west end of the San Fernando Valley. When the whole project is finished another great public improvement, affecting not only the valley, but the entire city of Los Angeles, will be added to the city, engineers on the job state.

Candidates in Jail at Upland

UPLAND, Aug. 14.—C. E. Grier and F. C. Buffington, both residents of Upland, are out after the same political job, that of being County Supervisor from this district.

So when they both got put in the town's public jail, the public that passed by couldn't help stare at them in perplexity.

Right on the main corner of the business district an open-air jail has been erected, into which are thrown Upland residents who shave their whiskers off or cut their hair.

The jail was built by the vigilance committee of the Pioneer Pilgrimage, which is to be staged here September 9, and all smooth-shaven men are thrown into it for public humiliation.

Grier and Buffington spend much of their time in stumping their district for election. The contest between the two men has become quite intensified, and neither will jeopardize a vote or two by letting his chin become shaggy.

So they both shaved, and happened to appear in town simultaneously and the vigilantes at once spotted them. A smooth-chinned man in Upland now stands out like a Long Beach bathing beauty, and it wasn't hard to detect them. They landed behind the bars and stayed there until the vigilantes thought they had been punished sufficiently, and most of the citizens of the community had seen them in their plight.

While cooped up together in the same jail Buffington and Grier did not discuss the political situation.

WHITTIER MOURNS DEATH OF PIONEER

WHITTIER, Aug. 14.—Dillwin C. Andrews, 75 years of age, for more than forty years a resident of Southern California, and for the past thirty years a resident of Whittier, died at his home here today, 446 North Bright avenue, after an illness extending over two years.

He was a pioneer merchant of the city and a prominent stockholder in the Farmers' Hardware Company.

He was born near Salem, Iowa, and came to the Coast with the exodus of the late eighties, settling first in Pasadena. He was a birthright member of the Friends Church and was prominent in the committee work of the local church.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Hannah B. (Ella) Andrews, a daughter, Miss Esther Andrews, member of the faculty of Whittier College; Mrs. V. L. Porter, another daughter, living in Idaho, and an adopted daughter, Miss Helen Tate Andrews, living at home.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at the First Friends Church at 3:30 and interment will be in a local cemetery, Rose Hills.

INSPECTOR DISMISSED

MAYWOOD, Aug. 14.—W. C. Staring, who has been in charge of the building inspector's office, has been dismissed from service by the City Council and Mr. Ames has been placed in temporary charge of the office.

NEW VALLEY-TO-BEACH BUSSES START TODAY

SAN FERNANDO, Aug. 14.—The Bay Cities Transit Company will begin tomorrow a direct ninety-minute bus service between San Fernando and the beach cities district, via Van Nuys. Permission to operate was recently granted by the State Railroad Commission.

The first bus will leave here at 6:45 o'clock in the morning, and at ninety-minute intervals, until 7 p.m. After this there will be two night stages, from Ocean Park to San Fernando. They will leave at 9 and 11:35 p.m.

The new line will run through Van Nuys, the present northern terminal of the motor coach line, thence through Cahuenga Park, Westwood, and the University of California, Santa Monica, Venice and Ocean Park. In getting from San Fernando Valley into the beach cities district, the busses will use the new highway cut through the Santa Monica mountains south of Van Nuys.

FUNERAL OF VALLEY BANK EMPLOYEE

CALEXICO, Aug. 14.—The body of Mrs. J. J. Wilkerson, who died yesterday in a hospital in La Jolla, will be returned here tomorrow for burial Saturday morning. Mrs. Wilkerson, for several years a bookkeeper in the Varney Brothers Store here and for several years head of the First National Bank's book-keeping department here, was well known throughout the valley.

New Buildings to be Erected at State Farm

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 14.—Construction work on the chemical and insectary buildings, units for the citrus experiment station, made possible through a State appropriation, will begin within ten days, it was revealed today by the architect. The buildings, in which the State will invest more than $145,000, are expected to be ready for occupancy by January 1, 1931.

Contracts for the work were let yesterday by the regents of the University of California, of which the station is a subsidiary, to Van Reslar Construction Company of Los Angeles and Carpenter Brothers of Los Angeles. Van Reslar won the chemical building contract with a low bid of $46,635, and the insectary unit contract went to the other company on a bid of $15,500.

Cost of expensive equipment and furniture brought the investment to a total of $145,552.78.

The two buildings will materially increase the cluster of units of the famous station at the Box Springs grade location, and will materially broaden the scope of its activities. It is understood the station will entirely abandon the Mt. Rubidoux building, which served as the original headquarters, but that the government Department of Agriculture will take over the property.

Laguna Actors in Musical Play

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 14.—Preparations for the production of "Prunella," a three-act musical fantasy, with an all-star cast, are ready and the opening performance will be presented in "Fairy Woods on the evening of the 15th inst., by the Community Players.

The production is given under the direction of Oswell Leonard Jackson, well-known eastern stage director, who has spent twenty-five years on the professional stage as an actor and director.

An original musical score will be used for the production which was specially written for the play by Mrs. Gertrude Ross, noted composer of Los Angeles. Mrs. Nellye Schwanskovsky, pianist of renown, will direct and play the music at all performances.

A cast of twenty-five persons in fantastic costume will present the fantasy in an old-fashioned garden in Fairy Woods, an outdoor theater located on the Coast Highway in the heart of the art colony.

Performances will be given the 15th and 16th inst. continuing for the two week-ends. The theater has a seating capacity of 2000.

Two hundred members of the Orange County Coast Association have made reservations for the play for the 30th inst., following the banquet at the new Laguna Hotel. On another evening the Orange County Coast Association will attend in a body.

BOY ARRESTED ON BAD-CHECK CHARGE

MONTEBELLO, Aug. 14.—According to reports late last evening Chief of Police Martin arrested Halston Pyle, son of prominent local family, who is wanted for writing ten checks on a closed bank account. Young Pyle was picked up near 1286½ McDonnell street.

Later the county officers called at the above address and arrested Carl Hester, also a Montebello boy, for running a supposed beer joint. It is assumed that the boys were running the beer joint as partners.

The Pyle boy will be retained in the Montebello jail for hearing on the check accounts while Hester is under county jurisdiction.

OIL WORKER BAGS LARGEST WILDCAT

VENTURA, Aug. 14.—One of the largest wildcats to fall before a hunter recently in this region became the victim this morning of John Bennett, oil-company employee.

The cat was fifty inches long from tip to tip. Bennett shot it after his dog had treed it on the Shell lease just above Taylor-Lloyd No. 1 well.

REALTY BOARD TAKES SUMMER VACATION

HUNTINGTON PARK, Aug. 14.—Members of the Southeast Realty Board at their session held yesterday noon, decided that the organization will take a month's vacation as to session, so the next meeting will not be held until September 17. Each real-estate man will invite a property owner, not a member of the board, to be present at this session.

LONG JAIL TERM GIVEN ATTORNEY

Heavy Sentence After Appeal to Supreme Court

First Conviction on Charge of Contempt of Court

Prisoner will Devote Time Doing Legal Work

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 14.—D. T. Blodgett, whose latest legal escapade to disqualify all of the jurists in the State was nearly successful, is to start serving a 360-day jail sentence tomorrow in lieu of paying approximately $7000 in fines.

He was originally cited for contempt of court by Judge Frank I. Collier during a hearing of a suit brought by him against the Olympic Refining Company. He refused to appear in court and was cited for another act of contempt. His appeal that Judge Collier was prejudiced was successful before the Appellate Court and he also was supported by the Supreme Court later.

A second hearing, however, before the Supreme Court, at which time he attempted to disqualify all of the Supreme Court judges, was defeated and Judge Collier's contempt decisions were upheld and his petition for a rehearing was denied.

Word of the court's denial was received today by Blodgett. Warrant for his arrest will be issued tomorrow.

Blodgett declared that all of his property is tied up in litigation and for that reason he will be unable to pay the fine.

Blodgett said yesterday that he will probably spend the majority of his year's confinement in the County Jail in doing legal work for Sheriff Ross.

Sheriff Asks for Prisoner

EL CENTRO, Aug. 14. — Pat Thaanum, investigator for the District Attorney of Imperial county, today applied to the Governor of Arizona for extradition papers for Lee L. Roberts, now in jail in Yuma on charge of killing Mrs. Florence Miller, his sweetheart, who Saturday morning paid his fine of $1000 on his conviction on a bootlegging charge.

Although Roberts was arrested at the Miller home, where he had taken her body from his truck, following their celebration of his release, evidence tends to show the woman was beaten in California and died on the west side of the river as a result of the beating.

Mrs. Miller, who had visited Roberts almost daily in the Yuma jail during his seven months' imprisonment there, paid his fine Saturday at the expiration of his sentence. They then were seen Sunday in Algodones, Mex., both drinking heavily, witnesses say. An Indian reports seeing them in a fight near Winterhaven, in Imperial county. When approached, the woman was placed in the truck, which was driven away.

Roberts asserts the woman was killed when his truck struck a street sign in Yuma while returning from Algodones.

Woman Avoids Serious Injury

POMONA, Aug. 14.—Gasoline which ignited from the flame of a pilot light in a gas water heater in the room in which she was washing clothes in gasoline today caused painful burns on both arms and hands and the left side of Mrs. Hazel Oldfield's face and forehead. Prompt action in throwing out a panful of the liquid when it burst into flames probably saved the residence at 660 South Locust street from destruction.

Responding to an alarm, the fire department gave first-aid to the injured woman. She was suffering from severe shock in addition to the burns, which will not prove serious.

TRAMP'S BREAKFAST DISTURBS FIREMEN

ONTARIO, Aug. 14.—Being volunteer firemen, the members of Ontario department didn't mind it so much when they got called out of bed at 4 o'clock in the morning to fight a fire that was reported raging at the California Co-Operative Cannery.

But when they got there they discovered it was an ordinary fire, such as used by hobos in heating up their coffee cans.

And when they saw a hobo gingerly fingering a hot coffee can on a freight moving slowly out of town, they did feel a little put out.

The hobo evidently hadn't finished his breakfast when his Southern Pacific freight conveyance happened along, and he didn't have time to put out his morning blaze.

SUIT FILED FOLLOWING CRASH OF AUTOMOBILE

ONTARIO, Aug. 14.—Harry Gritzner, 815 North Campus avenue, today had on file in Superior Court suit for $10,338 damages against Dan Phillips, 1047 North Campus avenue, charging Phillips with having been responsible for an automobile crash May 14, at the intersection of Fourth street and Campus avenue.

Gritzner claims his head was severely cut, his arm wrenched, his face and body lacerated and injured, and that he suffered profound mental shock to the extent of $10,000. The plaintiff seeks $138 physician's fees.

In a separate cause of action Gritzner puts forth a claim for $100 damage done to his car, and for $100 as remuneration for loss of its use.

CORONER TO INVESTIGATE

Death of Los Angeles Man at San Diego Shrouded in Mystery

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 14.—An investigation was started by Coroner Kelly today into the strange "poison death" of Eugene Thurston, 46 years of age, Los Angeles cement man, here last Sunday. Thurston was found dead on the back porch of his mother's home at 734 Twelfth street.

The victim had arrived here Saturday to visit with his mother, Mrs. Nancy Askilden.

An examination of the body by Dr. J. J. Shea failed to reveal any definite cause for death and an analysis of the contents of the victim's stomach was ordered.

Dr. Ernst Mundkowski, County Hospital analyst, completed an analysis of the stomach today and reported that heavy traces of chloral hydrate poison were present.

Thurston, according to his mother, was in excellent spirits here Saturday and just prior to his death, she said, he had complained of feeling slightly ill, but aside from that appeared in a normal frame of mind.

She said she could advance no possible reason which would have prompted her son to take the poison himself.

Although only a cursory examination of the home has been made, Kelly planned to search today for a poison bottle and determine the source of the potion which killed the man. In view of the total absence of any reasons for the man to kill himself, Kelly said he would investigate any social or business connections that Thurston had here with a view to shedding some light on the strange case.

The body is at the Benbough mortuary pending an inquest.

COLLECTORS OF MEXICAN BOOKS RARE

Southern Country Works Hard to Obtain in Shops of United States

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 14.—Jurgen's famous word battle, with both warriors quoting impressive authorities who never existed, is recalled by an interview this week between the head of Gov. Tapia's new statistical bureau of Lower California and a well-known American magazine writer, compiling data on the peninsula.

"Well," began the writer, "Gov. Tapia has the distinction of ruling the most unknown land in the world."

"Your authority for that statement?" asked Santiago Reachi, politely.

"Why, it is common knowledge," replied the writer rather nonplused, "that compared with Lower California, 'darkest' Africa is bright. Perhaps the best proof I have is that the new Britannica gives seven works of reference on Lower California and thirty-eight on the better-known South Polar regions."

"Do you know," countered Reachi, "that your Arthur W. North lists a bibliography of 112 items on Lower California, and that your Edward W. Nelson, former chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey, lists a bibliography of 444 volumes on the peninsula? And, by the way, Gov. Tapia has instructed me to accumulate as many of these volumes as possible."

The American was all apologies. "Tell me," he said, taking out pencil and notebook, "where I can get some of these volumes of which I have never heard."

"Most of those books North and Nelson list are out of print," admitted Reachi.

"And where can I get the North volume?"

"That, too," admitted Reachi, "is out of print."

"And the Nelson volume?"

"Also out of print," admitted Reachi sadly.

Amid general laughter Reachi then told the story of a Hollywood film star who, amid the business and rare-book boom last year, decided to make a collection of volumes on Lower California. He mentioned his intention casually to his publicity man.

A few days later he telephoned the publicity man rather excitedly. "You haven't mentioned anything about that collection on Lower California, have you?" he asked. The other said he had.

The movie star groaned. "What did you say?" he asked.

"I gave out an interview to so-and-so magazine," was the reply, "and said you had the fifth largest collection of Lower Californiana in existence."

"Well," said the star, "I instructed every book store in Los Angeles and Hollywood to submit me everything they had on Lower California and what do you think I got—just one book! You better get busy and do something about this before the movie crowd drops in and asks to see the world's fifth largest collection of Lower Californiana, as you call it."

Two days later the publicity man called up the star. "Everything is jake," he said in a happy voice. "You do possess the world's fifth largest collection of Lower Californiana."

"What!" almost shrieked the star. "That's one book?"

"Yes," replied the publicity man. "In two days' search I haven't been able to trace a fifth collection on Lower California any larger than that."

Film Star and Wife Face Suit for $100,000

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—Victor McLaglen, motion-picture star, and his wife were sued for $100,000 damages here today for injuries sustained by Robert Henry Clarke, 15 years of age, in an automobile collision near Oceanside, July 7.

The youth, in bringing suit through his guardian and father, Henry G. Clarke, Oceanside garageman, asserts that Mrs. McLaglen was driving an automobile that collided with the car in which he was riding on the main Coast Highway between San Diego and Los Angeles.

The complaint states that the Clarke boy is still in a hospital recovering from a broken leg, a cut jawbone, cut tongue and numerous cuts and bruises.

VENTURA PAVING TO BE PUSHED WESTWARD

ENCINO, Aug. 14.—Plans have been completed and estimates made for the widening of the pavement on Ventura Boulevard from Sepulveda Boulevard to the west city boundaries. This provides for a fifty-foot pavement with five-foot shoulders of oil. The State will pay about 25 per cent of the cost of the project. The improvement will be made under the Mattoon Act.

VERNON BUSINESS MAN OFF FOR EUROPE

VERNON, Aug. 14.—Bruce F. Brown of Huntington Park, connected with the Fiberboard Products Company of this city, sailed today from New York for England. He will also travel in Scotland, Germany and France on business for the company. He expects to return here in October.

City Plans New Park and Street Extension Soon

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 14. Extensive improvements to the city will start in the near future with street improvements and purchase of right of way and park development, according to plans of the City Council.

Street improvements, purchase of right-of-way for through streets and electric lights for the East Side amounting to $96,000 will be accomplished. Frankfort street will be opened to Main, making a direct connection between the East Side and the downtown district. The opening of this street involves the purchase of private property through two city blocks, already appraised by the City Council. If a fair price cannot be agreed upon by the owners and the Council, title will be sought through condemnation proceedings. Frankfort, Hampshire, Wesley, Indianapolis, Mansion, Lake and a portion of Crest and Tenth streets will be improved.

Six thousand dollars will be expended for new poles and the transferring of electric lines from the telephone poles to the new standards. This work will be done by the Southern California Company.

The City Council in planning the year's budget set aside an appropriation of $12,000 for the improvement of city parks during the coming year, the most extensive development will be done on Lake Park, the officials planning to make it one of the most attractive parks in the city. The Boy Scout cabin is in the center of this park and Mayor Bowen expressed his opinion that he believed this would also be the most popular park.

A campaign is on foot by the Councilmen to remove abandoned derricks in the vicinity of Circle and Lake parks. Many of the oil wells have been idle for a number of years and the old derricks are a menace to life and property, as well as unsightly. City Engineer Merwin Rossen has just completed the demolition of a derrick near Crest and Thirteenth street and will soon commence on others in the neighborhood.

In planning the budget for the year, there will be left $125,000 which the Council plans to use for beach improvement.

Beach City Plans Paving

SAN CLEMENTE, Aug. 14.—One million square feet of roads in the golf unit here and the road from the State highway opposite the golf house to the ocean will be macadam paved. According to W. A. Ayer, City Engineer, the work which starts today will take ninety days to complete. Dan Mulherron is the contractor.

Roads to be paved range from seventy feet wide at the golf course to twenty-six feet in width. The road to the ocean is sixty feet wide at the State highway, which tapers to forty feet with a parking strip near the beach.

DANCE PLANNED BY POLICE ATHLETES

VAN NUYS, Aug. 14.—Closing of the summer session of the physical-education class held at the Van Nuys High School for police officers of this division, will take place the 27th inst., with a special celebration to be arranged by Coach Lober.

The program is to be an entertainment and dance for the officers and their friends, and will be held in the gymnasium. The public is invited.

Chairmen of the various committees are Coach Lober, program; Sergt. E. L. Berger, entertainment, and Sergt. P. E. Harrison, refreshments. The police valley ball team will play members from the Owensmouth League.

AUTO MISHAPS HARD ON LIGHTING SYSTEM

SOUTH GATE, Aug. 14.—Six automobiles crashed into light standards during the month of July, C. L. Wade, city electrician, has reported to the City Council. Of this number, four are metal standards and two are cement. There were replaced in the city lighting system during the month 466 lamps and thirteen globes.

BITE OF SPIDER FATAL TO TAFT HEIGHTS CHILD

TAFT, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—The bite of a spider proved fatal today for 2 1-2-year-old John William McKee, 230 Philippine street, Taft Heights. He died in a local hospital at 4 a.m.

While playing in the yard of his home early this week the little fellow was bitten on the leg. His condition had steadily grown worse and all efforts to save his life were unavailing.

The child was born here and leaves his parents and an older sister. Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow morning at the Taft undertaking parlor. Interment will be in Angelus Abbey, Los Angeles.

DOLLARS IN TRAVELING GO FURTHER

Fares on Railroads, Bus Lines and Airways Lowest in Many Years

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—The vacationeer's travel dollar is buying him more miles than ever before. The tired business man and his clerk who used to pay $50 and up for a ride to the mountains can go west for half that sum.

The traveler is spending less—tourist traffic on western railroads has dropped from 8 to 10 per cent this summer—but the roads have cut rates to the lowest level in many years. For the tourist willing to take his naps in a day coach there is a $25 round-trip rate from Chicago to the Rockies, unequaled in years.

Western trunk lines established the reductions jointly. W. J. Black, passenger traffic manager of the Santa Fe, said the popularity of coach excursions has been proved, 36,000 passengers having traveled to California on Santa Fe coach excursions in a single year.

One of the largest motor-bus lines announced fare reductions yesterday, and air-passengers' tariffs are generally at the lowest in aviation history.

NAVY WILL CUT RATIO OF RECRUITS

Decommissioning of Three Warships will Release 2400 Men for Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—Because 2400 men will be made available about October 1, through decommissioning of the battleships Florida, Utah and Wyoming, as provided under the London Treaty, the Navy has decided to cut its recruiting in half for three months.

To keep the Navy at 84,500 men, 1600 are admitted per month to balance expiring terms of enlistment. The 2400 men made available through decommissioning the three battleships will be released for other assignments and recruiting activities reduced to admit 800 men per month for the period.

The Florida and Utah have a complement of 967 enlisted men each, while the Wyoming carriers 1055 men. None will be retained on the Florida. Three hundred men each, while the Wyoming carrys and Wyoming, which will be placed in reserve status.

President will Hold Planeless Aviation Party

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—President Hoover has planned an aviation party without airplanes for the week-end trip to his lodge in the Virginia mountains.

Charles A. Lindbergh and four government officials handling aviation matters are to accompany the President to discuss with him various flying problems.

Lindbergh flew here late today to receive tomorrow from President Hoover the special medal voted to him by Congress in 1928. Mrs. Lindbergh accompanied him.

Lundgren's Plane at Old Orchard

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) Aug. 14. (AP)—The plane in which Ted Lundgren, Hollywood aviator, plans to fly around the world, will be taken to Old Orchard Beach, Me., tomorrow to await favorable weather for a take-off.

Roger Q. Williams, who may accompany Lundgren as copilot, telegraphed to the Maine beach today he would arrive there today, but this plan was changed on account of the weather.

Husband Sues Ex-Baroness

CLEVELAND, Aug. 14. (AP)—Suit for divorce from the former Baroness Ally Schwarzenberg of Russia was filed here late yesterday by Dr. Edward Gauly.

Dr. Gauly charged his wife and her two grown sons scratched and beat him, that she required him to support her children by a former marriage "as European nobility" and that her conduct had reduced his earning capacity to $250 a month.

Mrs. Gauly denied her husband's charges and asserted everything "was just the other way."

Fremont Scion Seeks Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—Benton Fremont, grandson of the illustrious general, John C. Fremont, today filed suit for divorce from Jesusa Guidi Fremont, declaring that she refuses to share his social activity and her temperament has made his life unbearable.

He asks custody of their 4-year-old son John, namesake of his grandfather. They were married in Elk Horn, Md., August 21, 1924.

Three Arrested and Dog Carries News to Wives

WILLIAMS (W. Va.) Aug. 14. (AP) The folks at home know now why Lute Hall, Lee Hall and Sam Davis didn't go home to supper last night. Just after sundown their shaggy dog, covered with dust and burrs, came bounding into the cabin. Around his neck a piece of rope held a note which read: "We're in jail." Jail is ten miles over the mountain.

"The law" bounced on the three men and the dog far up in the hills and they were taken to jail for illegally operating a still.

There are no telephones down where the cabin is and the women folks had to know, somehow. So Lute tied the note to the dog and pointed him homeward.

TRUSTEES LIST STANFORD GIFTS

Total of $84,413 Added to Endowment

New Faculty Appointments Also Announced

Cornell Engineering Dean Added to Staff

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Aug. 15. (Exclusive) — Appointments to the faculty and gifts amounting to $84,413 in cash, besides valuable equipment and material, were announced by the president's office here this afternoon, following the meeting of the university trustees.

The gifts provide support for a variety of enterprises under way on the campus, at the medical school in San Francisco and at the Hopkins marine station at Monterey Bay.

From the estate of the late Sara Anne Haile $10,000 was received to establish the James D. Haile memorial fellowship.

Mrs. George B. Somers, widow of Dr. George B. Somers, professor in the Stanford medical school, added $5000 to the medical research fund which she maintains as a memorial to her husband.

Mrs. Kate Felton Neilson turned over $1000 to the George Loomis fellowship, which she established, and another $1000 to the Charlotte Ashley memorial library, endowed by her.

Among the faculty appointments is that of Dr. Dexter S. Kimball, dean of the Cornell University college of engineering, who will be acting professor of industrial management in Stanford graduate school of business.

Dr. Emil Carl Wilm, author of many books on philosophy, will be acting professor of philosophy during the absence of Dr. Harold Chapman Brown on sabbatical leave.

Stanford graduates appointed to the faculty include: Dr. Thomas A. Bailey, acting professor of history; Kenneth B. Stoddard, to be instructor in physics; Albert Walton, to be instructor of psychology; Charles Gilbert Wrenn, acting instructor in education.

HEIFER WINS EQUALITY WITH STEER FOR STEAKS

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—This being the day of sex equality, the heifer has won recognition from meat study experts for as tender and juicy steaks as her brother, the steer, contrary to traditional belief.

The annual conference of meat investigators of thirty agricultural experiment stations and the United States Department of Agriculture reported today that up to a weight of 700 pounds the heifer produces beef which is just as palatable and economical as that from the steer.

In addition to bringing out that the consumer's dollar buys more meat today than at any time since the World War, the experts said housewives can make that dollar go still further by buying little known cuts, such as plate, flank, breast, chuck, picnic and shank.

Attorney Finds Leavitt's Will

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—The will of J. W. Leavitt, automobile dealer who shot his vice-president, A. D. Plughoff, and killed himself, was found today by his attorney, Milton Newmark, but the latter said there is nothing in it to explain the double tragedy.

The value of the estate, Newmark said, cannot be determined until after liquidation of the affairs of J. W. Leavitt & Co.

LIQUOR FOUND ON SHIP

BALTIMORE, Aug. 14. (AP)—Three hundred bottles of liquor were discovered aboard the steamer Sarcoxie, which docked today from Havre. Nobody would admit ownership, but the master of the ship faces a fine of $1500.

APPEALS COURT HALTS HANGING

Ryley will Not Tread Way to Gallows Today

Companion in Murder will Pay Penalty, However

Habeas Corpus Arguments Set for September 8

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. (AP)—Intervention by the Appellate Court here late today stopped the hanging of George Ryley at San Quentin prison at 10 a.m. tomorrow. The court granted a writ of habeas corpus which in effect granted Ryley a reprieve until September 8, next. No action was taken in the case of John Gomez, also scheduled to hang tomorrow morning.

Ryley, who is 20 years of age, and Gomez, 22, were convicted of the murder of George (Dad) Jones, taxi driver, at Livermore, several months ago.

Ryley was convicted under the insanity law of 1927, pleading not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity. Attorney Ernest Spagnoli asked the writ on the ground that this law is unconstitutional. He said the law declares all verdicts must be made by juries.

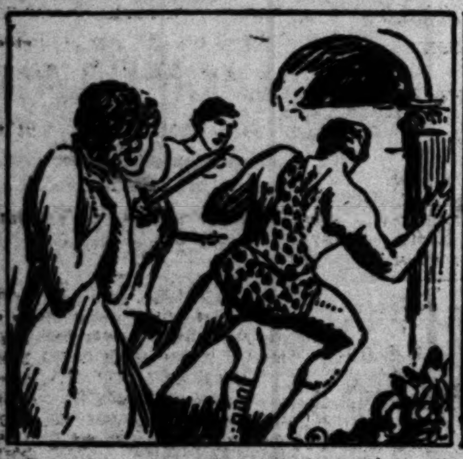
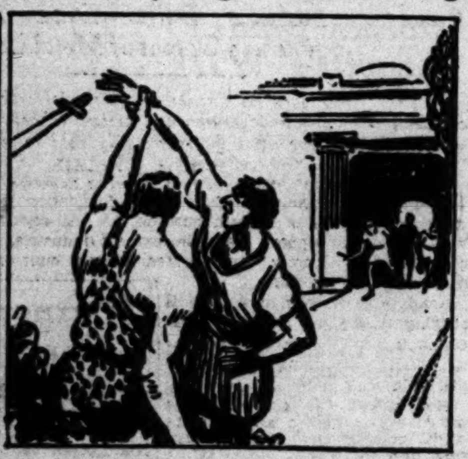
TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



The girl's heart was filled with admiration for this strange giant, who, though he was evidently a barbarian, looked more the patrician than Fastus himself. As Fastus attacked afresh, there was a swift movement on the part of his antagonist. A brown hand shot beneath the Roman's guard.



Fastus found his wrist gripped in steel fingers. An instant later his sword clattered to the tile walk of the courtyard. At the same moment, two white men and a negro hurried breathlessly into the garden and ran forward, two with daggers, and one, the black, with a sword.

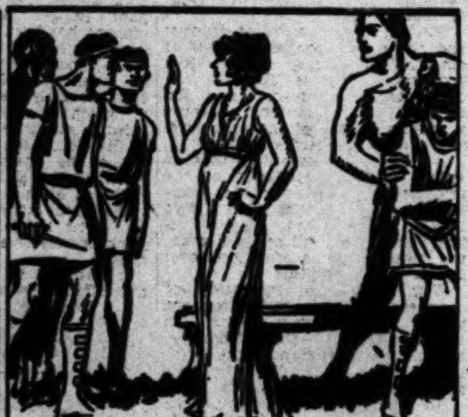
They saw Tarzan standing between Fastus and the girl. They saw the man in the grip of the stranger. They saw the sword on the ground, and naturally they reached the one conclusion, that Fastus was being worsted in a valiant attempt to protect the girl against the giant stranger.



Tarzan saw them coming toward him and realized that three to one were heavy odds. He was upon the point of using Fastus as a shield against his new enemies when the girl stepped before the three and motioned them to stop. She addressed Tarzan in a strange language.

Los Angeles brokers' loans for the week ending the 13th inst., as reported yesterday by members of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange totaled $20,808,418, a decrease of $430,867 from the figure reported for the previous week. The high loans figure for 1930 is $29,419,173, established for the week ending March 5; low for 1930 is $20,095,302 reported for the week ending July 30.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board announced today the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City had established a rediscount rate of 3½ per cent on all classes of paper on all maturities effective tomorrow. The former rate was 4 per cent.

The action of the Kansas City bank leaves only Minneapolis and Dallas with a 4 per cent rate.

Western Steel Backlog Holds Normal Volume

Unfilled orders of the Western Pipe and Steel Company of California now stand at $2,000,000, the company announced yesterday through its Los Angeles office, following the award of new contracts from the Procter & Gamble Company and the city of Los Angeles. This amount of forward orders represents a normal volume of unfilled business, the announcement stated.

Award of the Procter & Gamble contract involves the fabrication of large steel tankage for the new plant at Long Beach, while the city of Los Angeles contract calls for steel water pipe involving 2000 tons of steel plates. Fabrication of this business will start immediately, as will also construction of ten large high-pressure gas holders for the Southern Counties Gas Company involving 4283 tons of steel.

In addition to these contracts the company has just closed an order with the United States government for steel pipe for siphons in connection with the Vale (Or.) reclamation project. Fabrication has started at the San Francisco plant on a large penstock for the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and the company is now engaged in work on twenty lines of steel water pipe for the city of San Diego. Installation is also nearing completion of a large penstock for the city of Tacoma.

ZONITE NET OFF

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Zonite Products Corporation including Forhan Company and A. C. Barnes & Co. reported today earnings for the first six months of 65 cents a share on 704,771 shares as against 90 cents a share on 170,000 shares in the first half of 1929, excluding Forham and Barnes companies.

NEW TICKERS READY SOON

Facilities Capable of Handling 8,000,000-Share Volume will be Cut in About September 2

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Stock brokers and stock traders may be discouraged over the small volume of daily business, but the forward-looking Western Union Telegraph Company is about ready, after more than three years of preparation, to operate high-speed tickers geared to 6,000,000 and 8,000,000 share days.

W. R. Williams, Western Union superintendent in Los Angeles, yesterday received tentative confirmation of eastern reports that inauguration of the new service will begin about September 2. When the new tickers are cut in, the tape will print characters at the rate of 500 a minute, compared with 300 for the old equipment.

PROGRAM EXPENSIVE

For more than a year the Western Union has been installing the new tickers in 350 cities and towns in the United States and Canada. Seven hundred trained men have been doing the work, which involved the installation of 7000 tickers, the stringing of 30,000 miles of intercity wires, and a total investment of $4,500,000.

Of the 7000 new tickers carrying New York Stock Exchange quotations, eighty-four have already been installed in Los Angeles, Mr. Williams announced. Until the new service is cut in, the tickers have been operating at the old speed.

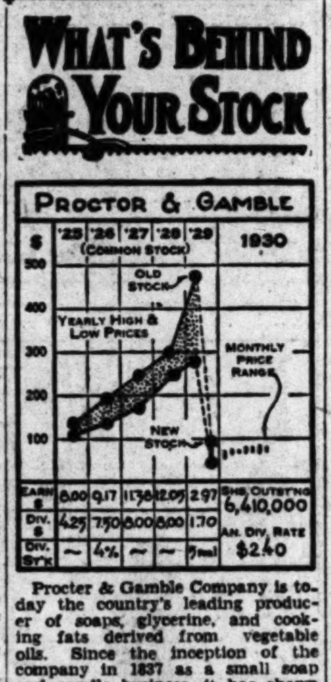
Western Union engineers believe the high-speed tickers will be able to keep pace with volume as high as 8,000,000 shares, and will not fall far behind on 10,000,000 share days. The inability of the old tickers to handle volumes of much more than 4,000,000 shares without falling an hour or more behind the market has been the source of costly confusion to brokers and their customers.

DELAYS ELIMINATED

Service under the new system will be further improved by the elimination of relay points. Nine cities where operators have retransmitted quotations over wide areas in the past will be made automatic repeater points, eliminating even momentary delays. These are Richmond, Atlanta, Cleveland, St. Louis, Dallas, Minneapolis, Denver, Los Angeles and Portland.

Old tickers were operated by current sent over two-line wires, while part of the mechanism of the new ticker is operated by electric motor on the ticker, requiring only one transmitting wire. Line interruptions to old tickers resulted in an average loss of 250 characters because the ticker was thrown out of synchronism. The failure of an impulse to operate the new mechanically operated ticker will result in the loss of only a few characters and some times in the loss of but one character, according to the Western Union engineers.

The whole program of the Western Union involves the largest change in quotation facilities in the history of the stock market, and was made only after a thorough survey of present and future demands for quotation service.



Procter & Gamble Company is today the country's leading producer of soaps, glycerine, and cooking fats derived from vegetable oils. Since the inception of the company in 1837 as a small soap and candle business, it has shown a consistent record of growth until today its popular products, "Ivory Soap," "Duz," "Chipso," "Crisco," and "P & G Naptha Soap" are well known in every household. At present seven large manufacturing plants and thirteen cotton seed oil mills are operated and a new unit is nearing completion at Baltimore, Md. In the past few years the company has absorbed many smaller concerns, the most recent acquisition being that of the James S. Kirk Company of Chicago, manufacturing a complete line of soaps and cosmetics.

For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1930, net income of $22,210,318, or $3.34 per common share was reported. This compares favorably with net of $19,148,933, equivalent to $2.97 a share, in the preceding twelve months. A current ratio of more than 13 to 1 reveals the sound financial status of the company.

Midcontinent Unit Discloses Earnings Status

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Net profits of the Midcontinent Petroleum Corporation for the quarter ended June 30, last, amounted to $1,683,779 after charges and taxes, the company reported today, equal to 91 cents a share on 1,857,912 shares. This compares with $1,013,280 or 54 cent in the preceding quarter.

In the June quarter of 1929, net profits totaled $3,866,407 after charges, but before depreciation, depletion and Federal taxes.

Six months' net profits were $2,697,059 after charges and taxes, equal to $1.45 a share on 1,857,912 shares. During the first half of 1929 net profits amounted to $5,987,398 before depreciation, depletion and Federal taxes.

Chrysler Net Profits Down for Quarter

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—The Chrysler Corporation today reported second-quarter net profits of $3,228,139, against $9,257,066 in the same 1929 period. Directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents on the common stock.

Profit for the entire first six months of 1930 was $3,408,856, compared with $18,095,239 in the first half of last year.

Earnings for the second quarter were equal to 73 cents a share of stock, against only 4 cents a share in the first quarter. In the second quarter of 1929 the corporation earned $2.07 a share.

RESERVE SYSTEM REPORTS

Federal Bank Board Statement Reveals Expansion of Credit During Past Week

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—The daily average volume of Federal reserve bank credit outstanding during the week ending the 13th inst., as reported by the Federal Reserve Board, was $1,001,000,000, an increase of $13,000,000 compared with the preceding week and a decrease of $380,000,000 compared with the corresponding week of 1929.

The Federal Reserve Board's weekly review today added that on the 13th inst. total reserve bank credits outstanding amounted to $982,000,000, an increase of $42,000,000 for the week. This increase corresponds with gains of $36,000,000 in member bank reserve balances and $5,000,000 in unexpended capital funds, etc., and a decrease of $5,000,000 in monetary gold stock offset in part by an increase of $5,000,000 in Treasury currency.

Holding of discounted bills decreased $15,000,000 during the week, the principal changes being decreases of $13,000,000 at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and $2,000,000 each at Philadelphia and Richmond and an increase of $2,000,000 at St. Louis. The system's holdings of bills bought in open market increased $20,000,000; of Treasury notes, $13,000,000; of United States bonds, $10,000,000; and of Treasury certificates and bills $7,000,000.

KINNER PLANS CAPITAL MOVE

Aircraft Engine Company to Revamp Structure

One New Share to be Issued for Ten Old

Stockholders Asked to Vote Other Changes

Reduction of the number of shares of outstanding stock through the issuance of one new no-par value share for each ten $1 par share of capital stock is proposed to stockholders of the Kinner Airplane and Motor Corporation in letters mailed yesterday.

It is also proposed to limit the liability of the stockholders by adding the abbreviation of the word "Limited" to the company's name and to permit the company to own stock in other corporations. Written assent of stockholders holding two-thirds of the outstanding stock is required to make the proposed changes effective.

In his letter to stockholders, Robert Porter, president, pointed out the advantages of the proposed changes. Regarding the change in par value, he said that the present par value of the stock does not permit of its being listed on certain large eastern exchanges, thus limiting the market for the company's securities whereas a unit value of $10 or more per share would make it eligible for listing on those exchanges in a much broader market.

"This would not change the value of one's holdings and would be quite beneficial should we find it advisable to list the stock in the East," the letter stated. "This change would also reduce quite materially the commissions in connection with trading in the stock."

The authorized number of shares is now 2,100,000 and it is proposed to make this number 199,934 shares. There are 1,967,399 shares outstanding.

Permission of stock ownership in other corporations would place the company in a position to improve sources of supply and sales outlets as well as to permit participation in consolidation with airplane manufacturers, the letter explained.

The company has firm contracts from reliable companies for several hundred engines, but these companies are not able to take delivery as fast as they had expected because of the effect of the general business depression on the sale of airplanes, Mr. Porter said. During the period from January 1 to July 31, last, the company shipped 214 engines and is now shipping two engines per day. Operations have been curtailed and every effort is being made to reduce inventory and to place the company in a position where it may profit when the industry gets back on its feet, he added.

Consumption of Rubber at Peak

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Despite subnormal conditions in general business, consumption of crude rubber for the first seven months of 1930 was the highest on record with the exception of last year, the Rubber Manufacturers' Association reports.

The consumption figure, 249,775 long tons, although 19.6 per cent below the like period last year, was .3 per cent above the same period in 1928; 7.9 per cent above 1927; 16.4 per cent above 1926; 6.6 per cent above 1925; 37 per cent over 1924, and 22.3 per cent over 1923.

BAY TOLL BRIDGE REPORTS NET LOSS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—Deficit of $232,699 was reported today by the San Francisco Bay Toll Bridge Company for its first year of operation. Total income amounted to $532,689 and operating expense to $156,929. Interest on bonds and debentures was $432,500, leaving loss from operations of $56,739 before provision of $135,700 for amortization and depreciation and $40,258 for amortization of bond discount and expense.

GUY M. RUSH DUE HERE NEXT MONTH

Guy M. Rush, recently elected vice-president of the American Trustee Shares Corporation, will return from New York about September 15 after completion of plans for further national distribution of Diversified Trustee Shares. More than $60,000,000 of the shares have been sold and dealers now number over 500. Mr. Rush, in addition to directing the national distribution, will continue as Pacific Coast distributor.

BRANCH BANK BALL TEAMS TO CLASH

Baseball enthusiasts in Los Angeles banks are keenly interested in a game scheduled for Saturday afternoon at Pirrone's Ball Park, between the local team of the Bank of Italy, champions of the Los Angeles Bank League, and a strong team from the Bank of Italy at San Francisco. A. K. Kiester, assistant cashier, Los Angeles main office, and manager of the local team, reports that a large delegation of San Francisco ball fans will accompany their team.

SCARCITY OF GOLD FEARED

Plans to Stabilize Dollar Draw Attention as Diminishing Output of Metal Looms

This is the fourth in a series of ten special articles discussing and analyzing the business depression and present economic conditions, with speculation regarding what the future may hold in store.

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Gold is the foundation stone of credit and credit is the basis of modern business. A well-regulated credit supply, with ample gold support, spells employment, industrial activity and social contentment. A poorly managed credit supply, built on too small a gold basis, means the reverse.

Nearly every nation now is or is striving to be on a gold basis. China is about to go on that basis. India is working on a modified gold basis.

How much new gold must be mined every year to maintain the credit equilibrium without business disturbance?

Prof. Lionel D. Edie, University of Chicago, who made an important study of the gold situation, estimated the world's gold stock in 1925 at $9,800,000,000. Sometime between 1930 and 1935 a deficiency of actual stock may be expected to exert an influence upon the value of gold.

"Owing to exhaustion of deposits and the application of the law of diminishing returns, future gold production is more likely to decline than to increase," says Dr. Edie. "That would tend to cause a relative decline of the price level in all gold standard countries."

It is the Edie contention that no serious long-time deflation of the price level in gold standard countries is likely to take place before 1935, but after that time "it is likely that there will set in a gradual lowering of the price level over a long period of years."

With regard to suggestions of changes in the gold standard which might bring about an economy of gold—the withdrawal of gold circulation and the pooling of reserves, Dr. Edie does not see anything but temporary relief.

No scheme for managing the monetary unit has yet been adopted by any nation. Scores of schemes have been suggested. One of the most famous is that of Dr. Irving Fisher of Yale who suggests these essentials in a plan to stabilize the dollar:

(1.) Setting up a commodity standard to replace the standard of a mere money metal.

(2.) Employing an index number for that purpose.

(3.) Correcting money metal standards through a sliding-scale relation to another standard.

But all students of the question agree that a stable money is desirable and increasingly necessary. The principle of a "managed gold standard" is gaining ground. But how to do it—that's the big question!

"By manipulation of the discount rate of central banks, or by international regulation of the amount of metal produced in the gold field, or by applying the principle of the compensated dollar, or by some other device, the value of money may be stabilized," says Dr. Edie.

That a solution is on its way, so the general price level can be stabilized, should be welcome news to every labor man and every business man in the world.

INVESTMENT TRUST ISSUES STATEMENT

Massachusetts Investors' Trust yesterday reported that as of June 30, last, its investment portfolio contained 208,705 shares of common stocks in 140 American corporations. Total market value of assets was shown as $16,276,696.26, and included cash of $381,983.26. During the three months ended June 30, the trustees invested $2,898,700 in the purchase of 32,6 , shares of stock. In the same period there were sold for capital account 7143 shares of stock for $388,965.

Warner Film Votes Issue of New Stock

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—The board of directors of Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., have voted to offer common stockholders the right to purchase one new share at $20 a share for each four shares of stock held at the close of business the 25th inst.

In a letter to stockholders made publ tonight the directors said the offering has been underwritten by a syndicate headed by Goldman, Sachs & Co., and Hayden, Stone & Co., to the extent of 755,000 shares, which is approximately the number of shares to which stockholders will be entitled to subscribe. Richard F. Hoyt of Hayden, Stone & Co., today joined the board of directors, of which Walter E. Sachs of Goldman, Sachs, is already a member.

Preferred stockholders may convert their holdings into common stock and receive subscription warrants.

It was said in Wall street circles the offering would provide more than $14,000,000 additional capital. Rights would be worth about $2 a share, equivalent to cutting a melon of about $3,500,000.

Merger of Oil Writs Approved

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Stockholders of the Transcontinental Oil Company today approved by more than 70 per cent the sale of assets to the Ohio Oil Company. At the same time, stockholders of the Ohio Oil Company, meeting in Cleveland, ratified terms for the acquisition of Transcontinental and also approved an increase in authorized common stock from 2,400,000 shares of $25 par value stock to 7,000,000 shares of no par stock. The exchange will be made on the basis of one old share for two new shares.

Directors were authorized to sell up to 291,914 shares of new common for any consideration "other than money alone."

Copper Prices Again Reduced

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—Sales of copper by customs smelters at 10 3-4 cents, reduction of one-quarter of a cent from the level at which the domestic price of the metal has held for some weeks, were reported today. Large producers, however, held at the 11-cent price.

NEW FREIGHT RATES WILL AID EL DORADO

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—Reduction in freight rates on cocoanut oil from Pacific Coast eastward to Missouri River from 75 cents 100 pounds to 60 cents by the Interstate Commerce Commission will benefit the El Dorado Oil Works materially, as 95 per cent of the company's output is shipped east, according to W. B. Reis, president.

STOCK MARKET TRADING SHAKY

New York Exchange Prices Run Mixed Course

Volume of Dealings Fall to Listless Levels

Bears Continue to Maintain Dominant Position

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—The speculative pulse fluttered feebly on the stock market today, but it remained in the hands of the bears.

It was the short interest that provided most of the activity, covering and selling alternately throughout an inconclusive session which saw a turnover of only 1,525,000 shares. The close was irregular. Many leading shares were virtually unchanged.

COPPER CUT

Events in the business world contributed meagerly to the course of the market. A cut in copper metal prices to 10 3-4 cents by some of the custom smelters inspired a flurry of selling soon after the irregularly higher opening, but it was felt chiefly in the steel and copper shares and the market soon turned upward. Prices continued to advance until leaders were one to seven points net higher, whereupon the shorts, having completed their profit taking for the time being, resumed selling and the market lost its advances.

Shares of three companies were particularly weak. Canadian Pacific tumbled 10 3-4 points to 165 3-4, another new low.

Republic Steel was freely offered. The third weak spot was International Paper, all of whose shares touched their lowest figures of the year.

STEEL ENDS FIRM

United States Steel, which closed at 159 Wednesday, sold as high as 160 5-8 and as low as 157 3-4, closing only 1-8 net lower. General Motors, Radio, General Electric, and American Can either finished unchanged or a shade either side of yesterday's finals.

The cut in copper, although not followed by the producers, carried the price to the lowest in years and again called attention to the generally unsatisfactory condition of the industry. The news was accompanied by breaks of one to two points in the copper shares, Kennecott and American Metal touching new minimums.

CREDIT EASIER

Brokers' loans dropped $59,000,000 in the trading week ended Tuesday to $3,155,000,000, the lowest since July, 1927. More interest was attached to the weekly Federal Reserve statement, and the extent to which the central bank is easing credit into the market to offset the gold exports. This showed the system's holdings of government securities had risen $30,000,000 while open market purchases of bills increased $21,000,000. Discounts declined $15,000,000.

Merchandising and rail shares firmed considerably, Sears Roebuck, Union Pacific, Rock Island, Atchison, and Safeway Stores gaining a point. American Telephone lost more than a point, while Woolworth and National Power & Light sagged to about the same extent.

A rally of half a cent an ounce in silver improved far eastern exchanges, but the European rates were easy. The French franc lost a little more ground, adding further relief to the gold situation.

OIL RUMOR SPIKED

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—S. B. Hunt, vice-president and treasurer of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, denied today that the company is negotiating to lend the Spanish government 1,000,000,000 pesetas, or $100,000,000 in return for the Spanish oil monopoly.

Wheat Values Turn Upward in Grain Mart

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—Reassurances banks will finance the 1930 movement of Canadian wheat and provincial government guarantees are probable, did much to lift wheat prices today. Persistent reports of unseasonable weather in Europe hampering the wheat harvest there counted also as a stimulus to upturns in wheat values. Besides, export business today in North American wheat was of more liberal volume than of late, 1,000,000 bushels, mainly wheat from the United States, with Liverpool quotations 18c above Chicago, the widest difference so far this season.

Chicago's closing prices on wheat were firm, ¾@1¼c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed unchanged to ¾c lower, oats ⅛@¾c up and provisions unchanged to 5c down.

Helping to emphasize that prospective financing of operations of the Canadian growers' pool would be conducted about as heretofore, except as to the amount of the initial payment to farmers, was word the heavy selling which upset the Winnipeg wheat market yesterday was largely for Chicago account. Wheat fluctuated rapidly, owing a good deal to a sharp transient break in corn values. The temporary tumble of the corn market, reaching at one stage 2½c under yesterday's finish, was ascribed to rains reported in parts of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas, but in the main only showers were received.

Corn rallied chiefly as a result of wheat strength, but the reports of rainfall scattered over many States checked enthusiasm so far as most corn buyers were concerned. Oats reflected late upturns in wheat.

Provisions averaged lower, influenced by the action of corn.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Listless Session Closes with Most Issues Inactive; Trading Volume Drops Sharply

With most of the list inactive and only four issues registering sales of 500 or more shares, trading slumped to a low point on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday. Prices continued to fluctuate within a narrow range.

Pacific Finance common, on sales of 700 shares, closed at 21 1-2, off 1-2, after touching a new bottom for the year at 21 1-4. It was the only issue to make a change in its year price range.

Transamerica was far ahead of any other issue in point of activity with sales totaling 7500 shares at prices running from 20 1-8 to 20 5-8. It closed at 20 1-4, unchanged from the previous close. Although Union Oil was untraded, Union Associates showed sales of 1000 shares and closed off 1-8 at 39 3-4.

Los Angeles Investment on sales of 500 shares, held steady at 16, the same price level which has prevailed for some time. International Re-Insurance, on 100 shares, dropped 2 points to 38. Southern Counties Gas 6 per cent preferred gained 1 1-2 to 100.

Southern California Edison common and Security-First National were among the inactive issues.

Sales totaled 11,259 shares, valued at $308,302; previous day, 19,496 shares, valued at $554,431.

Cattle strong to higher.

Hogs higher.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—A slight early advance was followed by declines in cotton here today owing to renewed liquidation combined with local and Wall-street selling promoted by the apparent absence of any general or aggressive demand and hope of showers in droughty sections.

Prices for all active positions made new low records for the movement with the new October contract selling at 11.79, and March at 12.27, making net declines of 10 to 14 points around 2 o'clock.

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—Cottonseed oil fairly active today with the tone as a rule barely steady. Moderate local and commission house liquidation appeared as a result of the reaction in lard and cotton unsettlement in grains and reports of an easier tone in tallow. Old contracts closed unchanged to 15 points lower and new unchanged to 5 points lower. Sales, 9900 barrels including 9000 old. Are You Watching The Utilities?

Production of electricity in 1929 amounted to 90 billion k.w.h. as against 2½ billion k.w.h. in 1900. Authorities predict consumption in 1945 will reach 270 billion k.w.h. Gas and telephone companies have had a similar growth.

PUBLIC SERVICE TRUST SHARES

offer a cross-section investment in 33 of America's greatest utility companies, which serve over 80,000,000 people in 45 States. Average annual distribution for past ten years, had the trust been in existence, would have exceeded 22% yearly on average price. For further data use coupon.

Leaders of Industry Shares

Have your investments equaled this record?

If Leaders of Industry Shares had been established in 1921, as they have now been established, the average annual yield would have been over 10% on the investment. Compare this yield with the return on the average bond or common stock investment of equal security.

In addition to the handsome yearly income, Leaders of Industry Shares would have grown to 260% of the original investment.

Following are a few of the stocks underlying Leaders of Industry Shares.

Annual Dividend Requirement on 1,500,000 Shares of Preferred Stock, $6 Series (including this issue)	9,000,000

NOTE: The above statement gives effect to 100% acceptance of the recent offer of The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation to exchange one share of its Preferred Stock $6 Series and $10.25 in cash for each share of $4,600,000 par value of 7% Preferred Stock of Ohio River Edison Company and to the redemption of the latter stock. Earnings and charges of companies and properties acquired since organization of the Corporation are included only from date of acquisition.

Balance of Earnings, as shown above, for the 12 months ended June 30, 1930, was equal to more than 3.45 Times the annual dividend requirement on 1,500,000 shares of Preferred Stock, $6 Series, presently to be outstanding.

Equity The Preferred Stock, $6 Series, is followed by Common Stock, which as of August 13, 1930, had a market value in excess of $430,000,000.

Management The entire Commonwealth & Southern Corporation group of properties is under the supervision of competent utility operators who, in conjunction with the local executive management, have been responsible for the development of the properties to their present state of high operating efficiency.

All legal matters in connection with the issuance of this Preferred Stock have been passed upon by Messrs. Winthrop, Stimson, Putnam & Roberts of New York, and by Messrs. Weadock & Willkie of New York.

This Stock is offered when, as and if issued and received by us, and subject to the approval of counsel at $100.50 a share and accrued dividend, to yield over 5.95%

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—Quickened interest in domestic investment issues tended to lift the bond market out of its midsummer trading rut today. The railroad section was strong and provided the leadership for the advance which carried the list upward to duplicate its recently established new high in the averages.

The demand for railroad obligations spread further among less active issues and allowed them to catch up with leaders which some time ago reached the best price levels of the year.

Canadian National Railways 5s of October, 1969; Chicago Northwestern 5s, Chesapeake & Ohio 4½s B, New York Central 4s of 1934, Norfolk & Western divisional 4s, and Pennsylvania 4½s were pushed into new high ground for the year. Many others sold at the best prices of the year.

Detroit Edison collateral 5s rose 1¼ points to a new high, and North American Edison 5s reached new peaks for the year.

Interest in second-grade bonds still lagged. High-grade industrials have crept forward gradually and made a new high in the averages, erasing the previous record established last March. Steel and oil-company loans were in demand. Further cuts in copper prices influenced selling of Revere Copper & Brass 6s. American Oil 5½s were very active and made a small advance. Warner Brothers 6s rallied more than a point.

Changes in the foreign list were inconsequential. United States governments moved irregularly in expanded activity. Liberty 3½s, and Treasury 3¾s sold off about ⅛ of a point.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

AD FEATURES METAL MARKET

rent Reports Indicate Greater Consumption of Zinc Reacts from Recent Advance and for Copper Holds to Fairly Active Pace

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS

increases in the lead price featured the metal market of past week, this coming as a result of buying that was heavier than producers desired. Lead advanced 5.25 to 5.35 and then to 5.50 New York. Zinc, however, its rapid advance and back from 4.75 to 4.45 St. Louis, and the market has on that price. There has no change in copper.

demand for all of the metals maintained well, but it has continued to be a speculative demand than a consumers' demand, ally all of the consumers taking advantage of the very low ebb metal market to stock themselves up against future requirements. Delivery dates have been well over the next three period.

LEAD INCREASE EXPECTED

increases in the price of lead not come as any surprise as it been expected and justified for time, the expectation being upon the demand, the statistical position, and the spread between domestic and London quotations. Producers are limiting their at current prices to August, September and October delivery.

lead demand has proportionately exceeded that of the other this metal having recently a sales record for a single and, as lead was already in most advantageous statistical position, concentrated buying resulted in a price advance. Current have it that lead consumption is increasing.

ZINC PRICE DROPS

height of zinc buying was the rising market and buying since the top was reached, has up, although maintaining a factory pace. The advance was rapid to expect the price to be although the fact that the was in a few strong hands, that they might be able hold the gain.

number of circumstances are responsible for the failure of zinc to its price advance. In the first it is believed that the mark in quotation was too rapid and fully justified by the statistical of the metal. Stocks are exceptionally large, but the that they are concentrated in strong hands and have not pressing for sale served to their influence on the at least for a time. However, the stocks are still there and know of their existence.

COPPER DEMAND ACTIVE

While the demand for copper is no means as large as it was a time ago, it is active. Large consumers are generally willing to place orders for November and December delivery at current prices, the producers will not quote far ahead. At present prices are willing to sell only through.

Custom smelters are also limiting for shipment over the next to ninety days. Because of the purchases made last month, in demand is only to be expected, particularly in view of the that many mills have probably copper than their order books fabricated material would warrant.

Foreign buying still maintains with the quota being promptly taken up each day. They are not with the quantity of copper are getting and some of them, an advance, are offering for copper to be delivered the Copper Export Association.

July copper sales have been good. domestic and export sales copper made in July are estimated to be much in excess of 250,- tons. Sales to domestic consumers, exclusive of the sales by of the leading producers to its consuming subsidiaries, are at approximately 170,000 tons. by the Copper Exporters in were in the neighborhood of tons, and to this should be added about 10,000 tons sold by who are not members of the organization.

ersonnel of Mart Changes

Appointment of Frank H. Partridge, secretary, as the active manager of the California Stock Exchange under the direction of Harold G. Ferguson, president, was announced yesterday.

Resignations of Charles P. Mathews, assistant to the president, and of Jacob Nathan as manager, were also announced. Mr. Mathews was for a number of years chief accountant of the New York Stock Exchange and Mr. Nathan was formerly secretary of the Detroit Stock Exchange. Both Messrs. Mathews and Nathan plan to remain in California.

HAZELTINE RADIO REPORTS PROFITS

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Hazeltine Corporation and subsidiaries reported today for the six months ended June 30, last, profits of $344,262, after depreciation, legal fees and Federal taxes, but before providing for amortization of patents. Net income after amortization of patents amounted to $207,522. Capital stock amounts to 175,000 no-par shares.

COSDEN OIL VOTES CAPITAL INCREASE

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Stockholders of the Cosden Oil Company today approved the increase in the authorized common stock to 500,000 no-par shares from 300,000 shares. Profits for the six months ended June 30, last, amounted to $936,187 before depreciation, depletion and Federal taxes, as against $1,202,710 in the first half of 1929.

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

Increase of the allowable production for the Signal Hill and Venice oil fields has been suggested by Umpire Neil H. Anderson as a means of accommodating the new production anticipated within the next two weeks. When the fact-finding committee meets at 10 a.m today it will consider the suggestion.

Members of the Signal Hill and Venice operators' committees conferred yesterday with the oil umpire and submitted figures to show that the production in the two fields soon will be increased by the completion of at least thirty new wells.

The allowable production at Signal Hill was set at 98,000 barrels a day at the last session of the fact-finding committee and it is understood that it may be raised to 100,000 barrels and that the Venice field's allowable of 8000 barrels daily may be increased to 10,000 barrels or more.

To Operate Soon

The Del Rey Oil and Refining Company's new absorption plant on the Union Oil Company's lease in the southwesterly portion of the Venice oil field is expected to be in operation within the next week or ten days. The plant will be capable of handling from 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day, and may be equipped to handle considerably more if the field shows up unusually well.

Del Rey has contracted to handle oil and gas from more than two dozen operators in the Venice field. At present it is handling the production of the Venice Oil Syndicate, Elinor Company, Deuel Petroleum Corporation, Santa Fe Springs Syndicate and George F. Getty, Inc. Its pipe line gathering system is flowing approximately 10,000 barrels of oil a day into the main pipe line controlled by the major companies and is storing the flow in the Shell Oil Company's tank farm near Watson.

The Shell Oil Company has perfected the necessary equipment to handle the Venice oil, although the latter is heavily saturated with sulphur. Special Mid-Continent refining equipment has been installed and the sulphur content is now a minor problem compared to what it was several months ago.

Reconsiders Test

Success of York & Lockhart in obtaining deeper production in the Potrero townlot area may definitely bring about a deep test to be undertaken by the Richfield Oil Company, southeast of the old brickyard in the North Inglewood district. Richfield is considering going on to a location just east of the Ring Exploration's Simons No. 1, which went to 5845 feet a year ago and will test out the theory that the townlot area at Potrero has a better producing sand below 6300 feet.

Richfield's Coffin No. 1 and Sloan No. 1 each were completed below 6100 feet and a little later York & Lockhart's Willis No. 2 came in from a depth of 6377 feet. It is flowing 500 barrels of 37-deg. gravity oil per day having been cleaned out to bottom to improve the yield. A number of other tests in the same general vicinity may go deeper.

Getting Down

The Belridge Oil Company continues to penetrate oil sand in No. 15, located in the north Belridge district. Its project is drilling below 5327 feet in oil sand and gas is building up pressure. Several months ago the company's No. 15 was producing high gravity oil from a depth of 5086 feet along with 3,400,000 cubic feet of gas a day and after sanding up due to formation of a bridge just below the shoe, was killed to clean out to bottom.

One mile due northwest of Belridge's No. 15, the Richfield Oil Company's No. 1 is drilling below 3520 feet and is making a deep test to determine possibilities in that district.

Deep Test Watched

The Star Petroleum Company's Coulter No. 1 near the intersection of Thirty-seventh and Elm streets in the Signal Hill field is interesting operators who have considered that area good for a deep test. Star's Coulter No. 1 is making progress with the drill below 8000 feet and is one of several in the field to prospect the lower zones for production.

Jack Johnston's Castle No. 1 at Signal Hill is drilling below 7050 feet and A. M. Macrate's Stevens No. 1 is running tubing to swab with bottom below 7028 feet. A half-dozen other projects in the Los Cerritos field are below 7000 feet and will be swabbing soon for production.

Drilling Permits Increase

Of the twenty-two drilling permits issued last week by the State Mining Bureau, six were at Signal Hill, three at Venice, four in the fields of Kern county, three in Tulare county, one in the Kettleman Hills oil field and one in the Newhall district, another in Santa Barbara county, one in San Bernardino county and one in the Ventura-avenue field. Seventeen permits were issued the previous week.

Following are the permits at Signal Hill: Magna Oil and Gas Company's the Emblem No. 1, Shell Oil Company's Jones Community No. 12 and Shell's Patton-Wilson No. 12, George N. Snyder's No. 2, Combs-Weaber's No. 1, Dabney-Johnston Oil Corporation's No. 78, Barnsdall-Cypress combination's Burke No. 13, Pan Gulf Petroleum Company's No. 1, Henry R. Dabney Oil Company's Venice No. 1 at Venice.

P. M. Peterson's Moore No. 1 on Sec. 17, 4-1, in San Bernardino county; E. U. Combs's No. 1 on Sec. 17, 3-13, in Los Angeles county; Southern Production Company's No. 1 in Newhall district; Associated Oil Company's V. L. & W. No. 17 in Ventura-avenue field; N. S. Wilson's No. 1 on Sec. 2, 7-33, in Santa Barbara county; Ohio Oil Company's No. 37 in Belridge district; Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company's No. 36 and No. 37 at Kern River; L. H. Larson and M. A. Stanford's No. 1 in Tulare county; Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company's No. 3-A at Round Mountain; Standard Oil Company's No. 32 on north dome at Kettleman Hills; Ford Alexander's No. 1 and Paul M. Lewis's No. 1 in Tulare county.

To Map Area

A map defining the productive area of the entire north dome of the Kettleman Hills oil field will be made soon as a result of a discussion yesterday by geologists of the various operating companies. The informal discussion was held in the offices of the California Oil and Gas Association and was presided over by R. R. Templeton of the Pacific Western Oil Company, William Reinhardt of the Shell Oil Company and chairman of the Kettleman Hills oil and gas conservation committee being out of the city.

Meetings Continue

Another informal discussion was held yesterday by the Elwood oil field operators' committee presided over by F. A. Fortine of the Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination. The operators of the Elwood field are working out a drilling and producing plan through which operators there will be controlled during the life of the field. One purpose of the plan is to aid in the State-wide oil-curtailment program.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Fresh receipts of seven loads combined with 522 held over from Wednesday, some of which were late arriving, included too many Mexican and low-grade native steers and the market on these kinds was weak to mostly 25c lower. Other steers and most she stock were barely steady and weak undertone prevailed on all killing classes.

A load of 1023-pound fed Colorado steers brought 9.00, with a few head out at less money. A load of California grass and cake fed steers averaging 1200 pounds brought 8.60, with a load of 989-pound local feed lot steers at 7.50. Four loads of 764 to 1108-pound natives brought 6.90 and 7.00, and five loads of Mexican steers well under 1000 pounds scored 5.75@6.00.

A few odd lots of medium to good heifers turned at 6.25@7.50, with three loads of low good 982 to 1160-pound northern cows at 6.50, with a few out. A load of 986-pound northern cows sold at 5.75. Odd head of best dairy type cows reached 6.00, with bulk of common to medium cows going at 4.50@5.75. Low cutters and cutters were taken largely at 2.50@4.25, with strong weight cutters to 4.50 and thin shelly cows down to 2.00 and under. Medium bulls brought 4.50@5.75, with cutter kinds down to 3.00.

CALVES—Receipts were negligible and little of good quality was included. One or two head of choice milk vealers sold up to 13.00, but medium to good calves and vealers were taken at 10.00@11.50, with cull and common on down to 6.00.

HOGS—Only a few head of trucked-in local fed butchers were offered and sold about steady at 10.75@10.90 for 201 to 206-pound weights. Some 265-pound butchers sold at 10.00, with 215 to 260-pound smooth sows at 9.00. Thin 300 to 410-pound packing sows sold down to 7.50. Good eastern hogs are quoted to around 11.25 or a little above.

SHEEP—Nothing was offered in this division, although two loads of lambs were due about noon. Quotations remain unchanged, with medium to choice lambs, 75 pounds down, quoted at 6.50@8.00, and medium to choice ewes quoted 3.00@4.50.

Redactor Exonerado por Von Hindenburg

BERLIN, Agosto 14.—El presidente von Hindenburg hizo hoy cuanto le fue posible por anular su juicio de difamación contra Paul Foebbels, redactor fascista y miembro del Reichstag. Fue leída una carta del presidente en una audiencia del Tribunal de Apelación, en la que el primer magistrado asegura estar convencido de que no era el ánimo de Goebbels lanzarle un insulto personal cuando escribió un artículo intitulado "Vive todavia von Hindenburg?"

Funcionan en Berlín Cuadrillas de Bandidos Femeninos

BERLIN, Agosto 14.—La policia ha dado parte hoy de que algunas pandillas de mujeres ladronas están haciéndoles la vida muy molesta a los cansados hombres de negocios que regresan a su casa de noche, después de haber ido a algún espectáculo.

Wilhelm Ruge, individuo de 59 años, fue hoy golpeado y robado por cuatro mujeres, cuando se encaminaba tranquilamente a su domicilio.

Ley Contra los Proprietarios de Solares Vacios

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Agosto 14. El presidente Ortiz Rubio ha propuesto que se redacte una disposición legal por la cual se de un plazo fijo a todos los propietarios de solares vacíos en la ciudad de Méjico, para que edifiquen en ellos, so pena de confiscarles la propiedad caso que no lo hicieren. Dícese que esta decisión del presidente obedece a su creencia de que muchos solares desocupados se han convertido en montones de escombros y basuras que desdicen mucho de la belleza de la ciudad.

Fallece en Francia una de las Madres de la Estrella de Oro

VERDUN (Francia), Agosto 14.—La señora Harriet Bates, esposa de Henry Bates, de Portage (Pensilvania), ha fallecido hoy en el Hotel Verdún. Es la única de las madres de Estrella de Oro que ha fallecido en Francia, adonde vinieron 2000 a visitar este verano los cementerios de los campos de batalla.

Madre que Mata a su Yerno

FILADELFIA, Agosto 14.—La señora Elizabeth Attillio, de 40 años de edad, mató hoy a James Cassidy, de 48, cuando fue éste a la casa de ella a decirle que se había casado con su hija Rosa, de 18 años de edad. La muchacha, que iba en compañía de Cassidy, perdió el sentido.

Foshay Lucha para Recuperar su Perdida Fortuna

SALIDA (Colorado), Agosto 14.—W. B. Foshay, financiero de Minneapolis, cuya compañía quebró en $29,000,000 en Noviembre próximo pasado, causando gran emoción en los círculos de hombres de negocios, se encuentra aquí tratando de recuperar su fortuna. Es gerente general de la Mountain Cross Granite Corporation, cuyas oficinas se hallaban en ésta.

Foshay vino aquí en Abril, y se fue para volver en Junio, poco después de la constitución de la Compañía de Granito, en cuyo gerente se ha convertido. La empresa tiene $1,000,000 de capital.

Foshay, que tiene al presente 49 años, entró, mediante la influencia de algunos amigos suyos a esta negociación de Colorado, cuyos fines son explotar una cantera de granito para monumentos. La empresa, que es la mayor en esta parte del país, está sostenida por capitalistas del Este.

Le Roban su Levita a Jesse James

KNOXVILLE (Lousiana), Agosto 14.—La levita Principe Alberto de Jessie James le fue robada a éste de sus propios hombres el día de ayer, mientras el empresario de una exhibición de figuras de cera estaba perorando ante una muchedumbre en la feria del condado de Marion, y haciendo consideraciones sobre los males que acarrea el crimen. Entre las figuras de cera figuraba el famoso bandido de Missouri vestido de levita.

El empresario del referido museo apeló a la policía para que protegiera a su indefensa banda de pistoleros de cera contra análogas raterías, y ofreció una prima de $50 por la devolución de la levita en cuestión.

Charlas Infantiles para Chiquillos de Escuela

III.

Tuvo John James padre francés y madre española, y probablemente por eso parecía más bien un chiquillo extranjero que del país, con largo pelo castaño que le llegaba muy abajo de los hombros, oscura piel y ojos brillantes y profundos (John James had a French father and a Spanish mother. That is probably why he looked more like a foreign child than an American, with his long brown hair falling way down below his shoulders, his dark skin, and deep, bright eyes).

Empleó los primeros años de su vida en estirarse demasiado para su edad, según todo el mundo decía, en recolectar flores, observar insectos, y esperar ansiosamente a que los pájaros volvieran en primavera a sus bosques (The first years of his life were spent in growing tall for his age, as every one said, gathering flowers, watching insects, and waiting eagerly for the birds to come back to their wood-home in the spring). Y al llegar a los once años, acontecióle algo muy triste. La cosa ocurrió hallándose él y su madre de visita en una isla llamada Santo Domingo (And then, when he was eleven, a very sad thing happened to him. It happened when he and his mother were on a visit to an island called San Domingo).

ISSUE AUTHORIZED BY PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION OF INDIANA

The following information has been summarized by Mr. Norman A. Perry, President of Indianapolis Power & Light Company, from his letter dated August 14, 1930, copies of which may be obtained upon request, and is subject to the more complete information contained therein:

Business and Property: Indianapolis Power & Light Company, an Indiana corporation, supplies without competition all the electric power and light service in the City of Indianapolis and surrounding territory, except that supplied to the Indianapolis electric railway systems. The territory served by the Company covers more than 390 square miles.

The Company owns a modern and efficient electrical plant (including three principal steam power generating stations) and has under construction on the White River near Indianapolis, the first 70,000 kw. section of a super-power plant of 140,000 kw. ultimate capacity. The Company also purchases a large block of current for resale pending completion of its new power plant. Over 91% of the gross revenue of the Company is derived from the sale of electricity, of which more than 56% is derived from power contracts. The output of electric energy for the twelve months ended June 30, 1930 was 388,389,000 kwh.

Capitalization: Upon completion of the present financing the capitalization of the Company will be as follows:

	Authorized	Outstanding
First Mortgage Gold Bonds, Series A, 5% (including this issue)	(a)	$38,000,000
Cumulative Preferred Stock ($100 par)	$15,000,000
6½% Series		12,000,000
6% Series		2,500,000*
Common Stock (no par)	750,000 Shs.	750,000 Shs.

(a) Issuance of additional bonds restricted by provisions of mortgage indenture.
*To be presently issued.

Purpose of Issue: The proceeds from the sale of these Bonds will provide funds to reimburse the Company for capital heretofore expended, to pay for the cost of the power plant now under construction, and for other corporate purposes.

Security: The First Mortgage Gold Bonds are secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct first mortgage on all of the fixed properties owned by the Company, including the new power plant now under construction.

Earnings: The earnings of Indianapolis Power & Light Company, as certified by Messrs. F. W. Lafrentz & Co., Certified Public Accountants, for the past three calendar years ended December 31, 1927, 1928 and 1929, and as per books of the Company for the twelve months ended June 30, 1930, were as follows:

Twelve months ended	Dec. 31 1927	Dec. 31 1928	Dec. 31 1929	Dec. 31 1930
Gross revenue	$8,787,703	$9,467,332	$10,594,390	$10,712,233
*Operating expenses, maintenance and taxes (other than Federal income)	4,529,833	4,848,872	5,355,671	5,517,535
Net earnings (before interest, Federal income taxes and depreciation reserves)	$4,257,870	$4,618,460	$ 5,238,719	$ 5,194,698
Annual interest requirements on $38,000,000 First Mortgage Gold Bonds, Series A, 5% (including this issue)				$ 1,900,000

*Operating expenses, maintenance and taxes (other than Federal income) include 8% of gross operating revenue for maintenance in accordance with the requirements of the Mortgage.

Net earnings available for interest for the twelve months ended June 30, 1930, as shown above, were equivalent to approximately 2¾ times the annual interest requirements of the First Mortgage Gold Bonds, Series A, 5%, to be outstanding upon completion of this financing. Net earnings for each of the twelve months' periods ended December 31 shown above were equivalent to substantially over twice such interest requirements. The above earnings do not reflect any benefits which are expected to accrue from the new White River power plant now under construction.

THE COMPANY HAS AGREED TO MAKE APPLICATION TO LIST THE FIRST MORTGAGE GOLD BONDS ON THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

Price 100 and accrued interest, to yield 5%

The above Bonds are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and received by us, subject to approval of all legal matters by our counsel, Messrs. Rushmore, Bisbee & Stern, New York City, and by counsel for the Company, Messrs. Matthews and Koegel, Chicago. It is expected that Bonds in temporary or definitive form, or Interim Receipts, will be available for delivery on or about August 26, 1930.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Bard's, Eighth between Broadway and Hill—"White Cargo." The heat and what it does, down yonder in the tropics. Gypsy Rhoma.

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"Women Everywhere." Reviewed in today's Times.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Holiday." A film play of quality and delight with Ann Harding at her best in defense of youth.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood — "Hell's Angels." It took Howard Hughes four years and $4,000,000 to produce the colossus of the air; and it was worth it.

Criterion, 642 South Grand — "Our Blushing Brides." A scintillating fast-moving story of the younger set with a heart throb or two from Joan Crawford.

Egyptian, Hollywood Boulevard—"The Man From Wyoming."

Filmarte, 1228 North Vine—"The Glorious Adventure." Opens tonight.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"Golden Dawn." The sun comes up with song, but who cares? Vivienne Segal.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Common Clay." Reviewed in today's Times.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"The Storm." Reviewed in today's Times.

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine—"Romance." The glamorous Garbo does not come up to expectations. Nor does the picture.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"For the Defense." Reviewed in today's Times.

Ritz, Wilshire at La Brea—"The Man From Wyoming." A rambling account of the war which doesn't get anywhere. Gary Cooper.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Night Work." Reviewed in today's Times.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"The Dawn Patrol." An air victory, as well as a film one. Richard Barthelmess is excellent.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"Recaptured Love." Amusing, sophisticated is this conflict between Belle Bennett and John Halliday.

United Artists, Broadway, near 9th—"Grumpy." A diamond theft done with taste and refinement by one of England's more select families. Cyril Maude's debut.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"The Unholy Three." Lon Chaney's trick voices aid the mystery of this still successful story.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"Moby Dick." Opens today.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Top Speed." Opens today.

Westlake, 638 Alvarado—"In Gay Madrid." Ramon Novarro is charming, more so than the picture.

STAGE

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland "Tea for Three." A triangular view of a modern home becomes entertaining. Tom Moore, Gladys George and Ernest Glendenning.

Production of Texas Oil Pared

AUSTIN (Tex.) Aug. 14. (AP)—Curtailment of oil production in Texas to 750,000 barrels a day, effective the 27th inst. and for a ninety-day period, was ordered today by the State Railroad Commission in the interests of conservation of natural resources.

The commission found that storage of oil above ground in ever-increasing quantities was responsible for an enormous amount of waste, justifying the committee to take steps to curb this waste, by restricting supply to a point more nearly equal in demand. It also found that "the existing and threatened overproduction in Texas is the chief menace to balancing of the world's supply and demand." Protestants to the order will be given a hearing here the 25th inst.

NEBRASKA BANDITS ROB BANK OF $7000

GRETNA (Neb.) Aug. 14. (AP)—Waiting until an assistant cashier and the cashier's daughter were alone in the building, two unmasked men entered the Bank of Gretna today, forced the pair to lie on the floor, while they gathered $7000 from the vault and counters, and escaped.

New Son-in-Law Slain by Mother

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14. (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Attillio, 40 years of age, killed James Cassidy, 48, today when he called at her home to tell her he had married her 18-year-old daughter, Rose. The girl, who had accompanied Cassidy, collapsed.

FEDERAL REVENUE FALLS OFF

Treasury's Statement Shows Deficit for Six Weeks of $214,518,952

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—A deficit of $214,518,952 in the cost of operating the government from July 1 to the 12th inst. was indicated today in the Treasury's daily statement.

The deficit, however, was $2,558,768 less than for the same period last year. It probably will be wiped out when the installment on 1929 income taxes is received for the third quarter in September. About $400,000,000 is expected then.

For the forty-two-day period of the present fiscal year, the government collected $183,340,729, or $53,202,509 less than receipts for the same period last year. Expenditures amounted to $397,859,682, or $55,726,277 less than those of a year ago. The chief cause of the decrease in expenditures was in the sinking fund, only $25,000,000 having been credited to it, while on August 12, 1929, $103,864,950 had been placed in that fund.

Customs collections up to the 12th inst. amounted to $38,999,646 this fiscal year, compared to $72,744,542 last year, while the income-tax receipts totaled $33,892,165, compared with $42,123,694 a year ago.

The miscellaneous tax netted $76,674,488, about $3,000,000 more than collected in the same period last year.

OKLAHOMAN REMANDED FOR TRIAL

Ex-Congress Member Fails to Acquit Self in Still-Case Hearing

BALTIMORE, Aug. 14. (AP)—Manuel Herrick, former Oklahoma Representative, acted as his own attorney today at a hearing growing out of his arrest last week while working at a still in St. Mary's county, Maryland, as a $15 a week handy man.

He cross-examined witnesses, making frequent side comments, but despite his attempt to prove he was at the still for the purpose of obtaining evidence for the Prohibition Department at Washington, he was held for a Federal District Court trial under $1500 bond.

He has been in jail here since his arrest and there is no indication today that he will be able to provide bond. Two men arrested with him were held under $1000 bonds.

Prohibition agents said Herrick was passing buckets of mash to a Negro at the still when they arrived. Herrick drew from John P. Moore, senior clerk at the prohibition bureau at Washington, an admission that Moore had promised he would "attempt to get compensation" for any evidence Herrick might report.

Moore said, however, he refused Herrick a regular job with the department and warned him he would be collecting evidence at his own risk.

NICARAGUANS CALL HER "JOAN OF ARC"

Mrs. Gunnar Fromen

Nicaragua's interior promises to be transformed within the next five years from a bandit-infested wilderness to an orderly country surpassed only by the United States in development of natural resources. That was the opinion expressed yesterday by Gunnar G. O. Fromen, young Swedish attorney who has been financial adviser to President Moncada, and his wife, as they arrived from Corinto aboard the Panama Mail liner Venezuela.

Mrs. Fromen, a native Nicaraguan, has become known as Nicaragua's "Joan of Arc" for her work as educational adviser, on which duty she has doubled the number of public schools in the country since January, 1929. She was before her marriage Juanita Molino and met Mr. Fromen when both were students at Columbia University.

BASQUETTE SUIT HINTED BY HUSBAND

Divorce Action Against Actress May be Filed by Cameraman This Week

The filing of divorce proceedings against Lina Basquette, danseuse and motion-picture actress, by her husband, Peverell Marley, cameraman, loomed yesterday as a result of a statement issued by Miss Basquette. She declared her husband informed her yesterday papers are being prepared for filing in Superior Court today or tomorrow.

Miss Basquette, who is now recuperating at her apartment following an attempt to end her life with poison in her apartment on Wilshire Boulevard early Wednesday morning, asserted that their attorneys were in conference yesterday.

"I will not contest the action," she asserted. "He has made up his mind to file suit for divorce against me. Reconciliation is out of the question."

Marley admitted he intends to ask for divorce and that the complaint will be filed in court before the week is over. He is to confer again with his attorney, William R. James, this morning, he said.

"She is a wonderful girl and I am sorry it has to be this way," Marley asserted.

Miss Basquette took a quantity of poison during a fit of despondency over the refusal of Harry M. Warner, president of Warner Brothers' Pictures, to send her daughter, Lita Basquette Warner, 3 years of age, to California for a visit.

"I am so blue for my child," said Miss Basquette yesterday.

As soon as her physician, Dr. James Beggs, pronounces her able, she will leave Los Angeles for some near-by resort for a complete rest before returning to open a new gown shop.

Miss Basquette intends taking the

BAR WILL BAN WET-DRY ISSUE

Governors Approve State Convention Plans

Three Named to Supreme Court for Disbarment

Monthly Meeting Held at Hotel Huntington

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Aug. 14. — Prohibition repeal discussion will be banned at the convention of the State Bar Association to be held here next month, it was decided by seventeen members of the board of governors who held their monthly meeting at the Huntington today. The board recommended disbarment of one Los Angeles and two San Francisco attorneys.

Several State associations of attorneys are reported to have adopted resolutions favoring prohibition repeal, but the California bar at its convention will concentrate upon discussion of ethical standards for lawyers, according to Charles A. Beardsley, president of the organization.

PLANS APPROVED

In the course of their all-day program the governors approved detailed plans for the convention, which, opening September 18, at the Huntington, is expected to be attended by more than 1000 attorneys from all parts of California.

Late this afternoon the governing board recommended to the California Supreme Court disbarment of Louis F. D'Elia, Jr., of Los Angeles, and Irvin De Roy and Daniel Barton, both of San Francisco. The Supreme Court has invariably upheld the board's disbarment recommendations.

D'Elia is charged with misappropriating a client's money. De Roy is asserted to have represented conflicting interests, and Barton is accused of moral turpitude and corruption.

THOSE AT MEETING

The following members of the board of governors attended the monthly meeting, which will be concluded tomorrow noon:

J. E. Brenner, J. G. Sweet, Max C. Sloss, Francis V. Keesling and Andrew G. Wood, all of San Francisco; J. W. S. Butler, Sacramento; Eugene Daney, San Diego; Leonard B. Slosson, Thomas C. Ridgway, Alfred L. Bartlett and Henry G. Bodkin, all of Los Angeles; Lawrence F. Tuter, Eureka; Jesse Carter, Redding; William H. Donahue and President Beardsley, bith of Oakland; J. W. Hawkins, Modesto, and David M. Burnett, San Jose.

DELEGATES LEAVE TONIGHT FOR CHICAGO CONVENTION

Bound for Chicago, where they will attend the annual convention of the American Bar Association, nine members of the California division headed by Judge Charles A. Beardsley will leave Los Angeles tonight over the Union Pacific.

Included in the party are Thomas C. Ridway, Jepson E. Chandler, Judge H. A. Hollzer, Judge George W. Nilssen, Los Angeles, and Mr. Burnett, San Jose, Charles S. Cushing, San Francisco, E. F. Treadwell, San Francisco, and Roy Reppy, Los Angeles.

Racing Yacht Reaches Home After Delay

The racing yawl Contender, which radioed that she was in difficulty at sea because of adverse winds and lack of fuel 400 miles off San Pedro, came into port shortly before midnight last night under her own power.

As she rounded Breakwater Light and passed down the channel to her berth at the California Yacht Club she spoke briefly with the Marine Exchange look-out and said everything was in good order.

Her master said he had not seen the Coast Guard cutter Algonquin, which went to the aid of the yawl. A message from the cutter, however, said she expected to return to port about 8 p.m. tonight.

The Contender, a 110-foot yawl owned by Walter Horne of Long Beach, is returning from the Honolulu yacht race. The Algonquin was dispatched to assist her with fuel for auxiliary motors, but apparently more favorable conditions prevailed and she made port without mishap.

DAM'S RAIL WORK TO START

Union Pacific Engineers will Begin Boulder Branch Line Survey Next Week

The initial steps in constructing the proposed Boulder Dam railroad line will be taken during the coming week when more than twenty-five men from the Union Pacific system leave Los Angeles for the preliminary survey work.

This group will consist of engineers, surveyor's crew, office and accounting forces which will establish headquarters in Las Vegas, Nev., according to R. L. Adamson, chief engineer of the Union Pacific System.

Their work will consist of surveying and mapping of the proposed route of the 22.30-mile rail line to be built by the Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad, subsidiary of the Union Pacific, from a point five miles south of Las Vegas into the Black Canyon district.

From this point the government will have charge of the construction of the line to the site of "Boulder City" atop of the Black Canyon, above the dam site.

Bids for the grading of the initial work have been sent to approximately twenty-five contractors throughout the United States and are returnable on September 5, when they will be awarded from the Los Angeles offices of the railroad. Work will begin immediately thereafter, according to Adamson.

Walker R. Young, construction engineer, United States Bureau of Reclamation, has established headquarters in Las Vegas and already has a crew in the field surveying the last few miles of the proposed line as well as the site for the workmen's city at the dam.

Construction of the railroad, which will be used for hauling supplies, equipment and other necessities, is expected to take from three to four months, Adamson pointed out. The engineer has just returned from Las Vegas, where he has made preliminary arrangements for the starting of work.

NEW PRISON TRIP FACED BY BERMAN

Return to McNeil Island Probable Pending Delay in Julian Overissue Case

Jacob Berman, Federal prisoner from McNeil Island and also under conviction on forgery charges growing out of the crash of the Julian Petroleum Corporation in 1927, will probably be returned to his Federal prison some time next week.

Here for the past two months both as a prosecution witness in a number of Julian cases and for trial himself, the early return of Berman became probable yesterday when it was learned that a continuance of the conspiracy overissue Julian case set for trial the 25th inst. will probably be asked.

Defense counsel for the nine persons named in the conspiracy indictments made it known yesterday that the death of Motley Flint, shot down several weeks ago by Frank D. Keaton while giving testimony in a local courtroom and who was one of the defendants in the last of the Julian cases, makes the continuance necessary.

Scheduled for trial before Superior Judge Schauer, the overissue case will have to be set over by him, but yesterday Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart announced that the motion for more time will not be contested by the prosecution. He also declared that if the case is continued Berman will be returned to McNeil Island and then brought to this city again some time in October, when the case will probably be tried.

Yesterday, shortly after it became known that more time was to be asked by the defense, Berman, who has been confined in the County Jail hospital on account of poor health, was ordered back to his cell in the County Jail by Dr. E. H. Anthony, Federal jail physician. Berman was placed in the hospital following a physical examination, which disclosed that he was suffering from a bad case of nerves.

NEW TYPE PLANE FLOWN

Veteran Pilot Demonstrates Craft with Wings Movable in Flight, Solving Air-Bump Problems

Solution of one of the greatest problems in aircraft development—that of changing the angle of attack of an airplane's wings while in flight—was demonstrated yesterday at Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport when Waldo D. Waterman, veteran flyer and aviation engineer, test-flew successfully a craft secretly developed and constructed by him.

The new ship—a low-wing cabin monoplane capable of carrying four persons—went through its amazing paces of raising and lowering its wings while in flight, took off after a remarkably short run and stopped within 200 feet after its wheels touched the ground.

With its wings hinged to the fuselage and supported by air shock-absorbing struts, the ship demonstrated that it is immune to air bumps.

The supporting struts and air cylinders—one cylinder on each side of the fuselage—are controlled from the pilot's compartment by valves. Each shock-absorbing unit, capable of standing air pressure of 500 pounds per square inch, provided by the standard air pump on the motor's starter, not only controls the angle of the wing desired by the pilot, but takes up the jolts of bumpy air just as a shock absorber on an automobile.

TAKE-OFF AND LANDING

At the take-off full pressure is forced into the control cylinders, forcing the wings down, with resulting high angle of attack and air resistance, necessary for a quick take-off and fast climbing. When the plane gets in the air, pressure is reduced in the control units and the tips of the wings rise six feet above their take-off position. This reduces the air resistance and the plane picks up 12½ per cent more speed.

On landing the wings are forced down again and offer so much resistance that the plane floats in at less than forty-five miles an hour. If all air is released just after the wheels touch, the wings go up again, letting the full weight of the plane down on a central six-foot

PLEA SEEKS OLD BADGES FOR POLICE

Commission will Request Council for Extension on Use of Insignia

The Police Commission will ask the City Council this morning to extend until October 1 the legality of police badges now in use. To do this the Council will have to amend the ordinance outlawing existing badges tomorrow. As the new badges are not ready for delivery by Bastian Brothers of Rochester, N. Y., the manufacturers, the city is confronted by the possibility of having a badgeless police force until the new supply is at hand, several weeks hence.

Failure of the new badges to arrive for distribution before expiration of the date set in the ordinance outlawing them tomorrow, is blamed on the fact the local representatives of the Rochester concern did not receive the order until a few days ago.

Fire Department Property to be Sold by City

Placing a minimum value of $79,920 on the fire department property at 1218 North Vine street, the Finance Committee of the City Council has directed City Attorney Werner to prepare a notice of sale and advertise for bids on the site, the Fire Commission was informed yesterday.

The site was obtained by the Fire Commission two years ago for a new Hollywood fire station, but because of opposition by neighbors the new station, now being completed, was located at Wilcox and De Longpre avenue.

Blind Teddy and His Bible

While promising youngsters have been wasting their time sitting in trees and mature gentlemen have been seeking to establish records at the peaks of flagpoles, the public has overlooked a marathon which has been in progress beneath their very eyes almost every day for three years.

So far as present statistics go, no one can dispute the title of Theodore Fancher, 63 years of age, as the champion Bible reader of the United States, if not the entire universe. And Theodore is blind.

Since 1927 Fancher has spent an average of eight hours a day seated on a box in front of an auto park on Broadway between First and Court streets, reading the Bible to the public from a book printed in the Braille system.

"I read the New Testament through in about a week," Teddy said. "I have been reading it here every day for three years. Sometimes I grow tired of reading the New Testament stories in the Good Book, so I turn to the Psalms and read them to the public."

At this rate Blind Teddy has read the New Testament through 156 times in the last three years.

Teddy says that he does not belong to any particular religious denomination. "I just read the Good Book," he said. "That is the basis of Christianity and I don't believe the denomination matters so very much so long as one follows the Bible's teachings."

Mr. Fancher is really a minister of the gospel.

Teddy is a resident of Los Angeles,

JUROR GIVEN REPRIMAND

Court So Disposes of Case of Woman Cited for Contempt in Upsetting of Red Trial

Court proceedings against Mrs. Maudeen Ward of 1247 West Sixty-first street, juror cited for contempt of court, following assertions that she admitted in the jury room being influenced in her verdict by a Communist paper which she purchased during the trial of ten Reds, were closed yesterday by Municipal Judge Stutsman with a public reprimand. The jury was dismissed last week after it failed to agree on a verdict.

"I believe Mrs. Ward was free of criminal intent, honest and sincere," Judge Stutsman said. "I feel, however, that reading of any newspaper which might influence the attitude of a juror is, at the least, inattention to duty as a juror. It was a mistake which I am sure she will not make again, for Mrs. Ward to purchase any paper for the purpose of getting information during the trial of a case."

Mrs. Ward, in an affidavit filed in reply to those of three jurors who accused her of improper conduct, said she was browbeaten and called a "Red" and a "sob sister" in the jury room by several members of the jury. On the stand she wept and declared, "I'm not a Communist." The defense introduced thirty-five witnesses, she said, and she believed that a preponderance of testimony over the prosecution, which called only a few police officers as witnesses.

"I didn't think they were guilty of rioting and that's what we were trying them for," she concluded. Records of the case show that two of the ten defendants were charged with rioting, the others being accused of lesser offenses.

Leo Gallagher, attorney for the defendant Communists during the trial, twice tried to interrupt the proceedings yesterday by demanding that the court cite for contempt the jurors named in Mrs. Ward's

WRECK OF BUS FATAL TO CHILD

Eighteen Companions Hurt in San Dimas Crash

U.C.L.A. Faculty Member May Die from Injuries

Woman Held to Blame for Monday Fatality

Struck by a heavy truck, nineteen children returning in a bus from a Sunday-school picnic yesterday at Juanita and Glendora avenues, San Dimas, were cut and bruised, while one of their number, Mary Greer, 14 years of age, was injured fatally, dying later en route to the Covina Hospital.

The machine in which the party was riding was demolished. Ranchers and motorists gave the children what aid was possible until the arrival of physicians.

In Los Angeles last night a member of the faculty of the University of California in Los Angeles was possibly fatally injured when Prof. O. T. Doran, 42, of 901 Exposition Boulevard, was struck by a car at Thirty-sixth Place and University avenue. He received a basal skull fracture, it was determined in Georgia-street Hospital, where he was taken, and is expected to die. He was attending the University of Southern California, studying for his degree of doctor of philosophy. The machine which struck him was driven by Fred Meyers of 1226 South Georgia street. Prof. Doran taught in the educational department. Two children of the family were killed recently in a rail accident.

DEAD CHILD ORPHAN

Mary Greer, the girl who was killed in the bus accident, was an orphan and lived with her grandparents on the outskirts of San Dimas.

The eighteen other children, ranging from 10 to 16 years in age, were cut and bruised, but none received serious injuries, according to reports reaching the office of the Sheriff.

The eighteen children, all members of the Bible class of the Regular Baptist Church of San Dimas, as was little Mary Greer also, all live in San Dimas and Covina. They are: Dennis Parks, Addie Parks, Winifred Netzley, Priscilla Netzley, Richard Netzley, Willard Netzley, Kenneth Johnson, Kathryn Brown, Alice White, Tom Boling, John Galley, Jessie Oldham, Nellie Dotts, Phyllis Dotts, John Dotts, Raynetta Carter, Marjorie Friederich and Warren Friederich.

RANCHERS GIVE AID

The outing yesterday had been long planned. A light delivery truck had been converted into a bus, with Dale H. Satterthwaite of 150 San Dimas avenue, San Dimas, as driver.

The truck which collided with the bus was driven by George E. Motter of Covina. The bus, according to one report, was thrown nearly ten feet by the impact. Neither bus driver was held.

Mary Greer was placed in one of the automobiles and hastened to Covina Hospital, where Dr. S. S. Magan found she had died of a basal fracture of the skull and other injuries.

Deputy Sheriffs Robertson and Stevens were sent to the scene from the local office. The child's body was removed to the undertaking rooms of Custer, Christianson & Moore at Covina.

Miss Catherine Booth, cosmetician of 146 1-2 Palm Drive, Beverly Hills, as the result of fatal injuries received by Charles F. Leech, merchant of Torrance, in an automobile collision on the 11th inst., faces a possible charge of manslaughter.

A Coroner's jury yesterday held that Leech came to his death from injuries received when his car was struck by Miss Booth's machine at Normandie avenue and Carson street.

Testimony placed responsibility for the crash on the young woman, who still is confined to Torrance Hospital with a broken collarbone, bruises and other injuries.

A pedestrian ran down an automobile driven by Capt. Dan Long, commander of harbor division police, yesterday, at Fourth street and Harbor Boulevard, San Pedro, while hurrying from one bus to board another. A window in the car was broken. The man gave his name as Alexander Campbell of 850 Hamilton avenue, San Pedro, when treated at the Emergency Hospital for a head injury.

Fingerprints served to establish the identity of a Mexican who was killed in a traffic accident on the 12th inst., as Abraham Rodriguez. The impressions were taken two years ago when he was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace. The accident occurred at Aliso and Lyons street.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

AT A Rotary luncheon the other day I sat next to Francis Price, who has fought the legal battles of Santa Barbara's water rights.

He has put an extraordinary amount of philosophy and thought into the job. He says that, except for water conditions, Southern California would undoubtedly have been the seat of the ancient Mayan and Aztec cultures. His reasons are convincing.

AZTECS PASS THROUGH

No sane person can doubt that all these early people came from Asia—either in open boats or across a land bridge that has since disappeared.

There still are signs in the rocks to show that they made their way through California—in all human probability through the Coachella Valley, on through Arizona and into Mexico, making their way down until they came to the valleys where they finally settled in Yucatan and the Valley of Mexico.

They were a people of engineering knowledge. They would certainly have builded their empires in these California valleys except for one thing—agua.

A REDWOOD TOWER

When these millionaires come out here to play they indulge in interesting ideas.

On the George Owen Knapp estate in Montecito the owner has a fancy for playing chimes. They are hung all over the beautiful oak trees, and he sits in his Italian loggia and plays old-fashioned hymns on a little organ connected by electricity with the chimes.

Among other things he has brought down a huge redwood tree from another of his estates in Northern California. A caracol stairway winds around the inside of the trunk and ends in a lookout tower from the top of the old tree.

A CHUMMY FORTRESS

The ancient presidio whose location was commemorated by tablets in Santa Barbara the other day was a unique sort of place.

There never were more than thirty-five soldiers stationed there, and most of them seem to have been relatives of each other. There are old maps of the fort showing the location where each soldier lived with his family. Most of them were married and the Presidio must have been more or less of a clubhouse.

The first comandante was the young Capt. Ortega, who commanded the advance guard for Portola when he made his voyage of discovery and came upon San Francisco Bay.

The young Jose Antonio Julian de la Guerra y Noriega, who was to become the greatest grandee in all California, came originally to California as first lieutenant of the garrison.

SANTA BARBARA YEARNS

Santa Barbara, which has a new yacht breakwater, has a burning desire to have the sailing events of the Olympic Games run off there.

A FUTURE STAR

The finest dancer in the Santa Barbara fiesta was a little girl 14 years of age, who looked like Lillian Gish and came here direct from Spain. Like so many Spanish girls, she is very blond. Her dancing name—whatever her real one may be—is Ballado.

ROSWELL FOLK TO DANCE

Former residents of Roswell, N. M., and vicinity will meet and dance in Moose Hall, 1024 South Grand avenue, next Friday.

STATE NEAR END IN ATTIC TRIAL

Mrs. Oesterreich Accused by Friend

Wisconsin Witness Tells of Conversations

Quotes Widow on Seeking Mate's Riddance

Presenting new and colorful testimony, the prosecution yesterday practically closed its case against Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, on trial in Superior Judge Hardy's court for the murder of her husband.

The new testimony was presented through the medium of Mrs. Alvie Judkins, who arrived in Los Angeles from Milwaukee at noon yesterday and took the witness stand in Judge Hardy's court at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Judkins, it developed through questioning by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Costello, was an employee in the apron factory operated by Fred Oesterreich, the murdered man, in the Wisconsin city a score of years ago.

LOCKED IN BEDROOM

"I was only 16 years of age then and Mr. Oesterreich asked me one day to go to his house and keep Mrs. Oesterreich company while he was gone on a trip," testified the Milwaukee witness.

"Was that after Mrs. Oesterreich and Otto Sanhuber had run away to St. Louis and returned?" asked Costello.

"It was."

"Well, what happened?"

"When I got there Mrs. Oesterreich told me to go to bed and she locked the door after me," testified Mrs. Judkins.

Defense Attorneys Giesler and Davis objected to the materiality of this testimony but Costello contended it had a direct bearing on the testimony of previous witnesses that Sanhuber went to live in the Oesterreich attic a few weeks after he and Mrs. Oesterreich had returned from their St. Louis escapade.

"ONLY ONE WAY"

Mrs. Judkins continued her testimony with the declaration that when the Oesterreichs proposed moving to California Mrs. Oesterreich said to her, in substance:

"I don't know why I'm going; you know how I feel toward him."

"I asked her why she didn't get a divorce," continued the witness, "and she said: 'I can't get rid of him that way, there's only one way of getting rid of him.'"

A few months after the murder, Mrs. Judkins said, Mrs. Oesterreich returned to Milwaukee and had another conversation with her.

"I asked her who murdered him and she said, 'Don't ever ask me that,'" continued the witness.

Mrs. Judkins maintained that Mrs. Oesterreich said that she "sweat blood" when she was questioned by the police, but that she was "hard" and "foxy."

FIGHT LIKE LIONS

"I asked her what happened on the night of the murder," asserted the Milwaukee woman, "and she said that she and her husband had come home that night fighting like lions; that he drank half a gallon of water and that then the commotion had begun."

On cross-examination, Mrs.

TESTIFIES AGAINST MRS. OESTERREICH

Mrs. Alice Judkins

Judkins admitted that during and subsequent to this time she maintained apparently friendly relations with Mrs. Oesterreich. She said she decided to give her testimony because Oesterreich was once her employer. She also admitted the Los Angeles District Attorney's office paid the expenses of herself and her husband from Milwaukee to Los Angeles.

Former Chief of Detectives Herman Cline was put on the stand to relate a conversation he had with Mrs. Oesterreich, in which she denied knowledge of a gun that another man has testified she gave him after the murder, to throw away. Two county employees also testified the guns were several years ago received as evidence at a preliminary hearing in the Oesterreich case but subsequently were released to a former attorney who defended Mrs. Oesterreich when the first murder charges brought against her were dismissed.

Shortly before 4 p.m. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Costello advised Judge Hardy that the State's case was complete with the exception of brief testimony from one witness, whom he could not produce until this morning. The defense then asked for an adjournment until Monday, Attorney Davis having an infected eye, and the request was granted. The defense also indicated it might put on its case in one day and if so the case may go to the jury by next Wednesday.

MISSOURI RALLY PLANNED

The latest arrival from Missouri to make Los Angeles his home, and the oldest former Missourian living here will receive prizes at the reunion of the local Missouri State Society next Tuesday in Moose Hall, 1024 South Grand avenue.

COUPLE ON MATRIMONIAL SEAS FIFTY-THREE YEARS

Fifty-three years on the matrimonial seas, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Sanger of 2910 Budlong avenue are celebrating their wedding anniversary at Catalina on board their yacht, the Dreamer. The Sangers were married at Palmer, Mass., in 1877. They came to Los Angeles in 1903, where they have made their home since, cruising to Catalina each summer for twenty-seven years on board the Dreamer.

Tolerance, kindness and thoughtfulness, one for the other, is the oil that smooths the sea of matrimony, say the Sangers.

"We play together and we work together," said Mrs. Sanger. "And one thing a wife should remember, let a man have a hobby."

Mr. Sanger is champion of the national horse-shoe tournament held at Exposition Park this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanger have three children, Capt. Arthur Sanger, Mrs. Agnes Mondon and Mrs. John Burns of New York. Capt. Sanger and Mrs. Mondon live with Mr. and Mrs. Sanger, who are also grandparents and great-grandparents. Their daughter is Mrs. William Bryant, who has two little daughters, Betty and Agnes.

The Sangers, accompanied by their son and daughter, plan to cruise to San Miguel Island next week on their annual expedition for Indian relics.

More than 150 guests boarded the Dreamer to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Sanger on their fifty-third wedding anniversary.

Shriners Send Tons of Tinfoil to Aid Hospital

Two tons of tinfoil gathered from stores, streets, railroad yards and many other places in Los Angeles and other Southern California communities was shipped north last night over the Southern Pacific by F. J. Wadley, Jr., Potentate of Al Malaikah Temple of this city to be delivered to the Shrine Hospital in San Francisco.

Potentate Wadley left last night with the huge shipment gathered during recent weeks as part of a nation-wide campaign to aid the crippled children being helped by the Shrine organization.

The discarded foil was gathered under the general direction of Angus M. Campbell, campaign chairman for Al Malaikah Temple, railroad workers being under the direction of Fireman R. H. Angier, chairman of the Southern Pacific unit. Hundreds of men and women participated in the novel task.

The national campaign will provide funds toward the $2,000,000 required annually by the Shrine for maintenance of twenty-one hospitals for children throughout the country.

Wife Divorces Absent Spouse

"Tired of her face," Mrs. Gladys E. Gribble yesterday complained her husband told her, so she asked a divorce from Bernard G. Gribble. Superior Judge Collier granted her a decree.

Mrs. Gribble said Gribble left her several times, always being taken back. June 12, last, she said, he borrowed money from her mother to buy a suit, and also induced the mother-in-law to refund $20 board he had paid, after which he left.

BORDER-TO-BORDER AIR SERVICE BROADENED

An overnight border-to-border air mail-passenger-express plane service spanning practically the entire distance between the Mexican and Canadian boundaries became effective yesterday on Pacific Air Transport's Seattle-San Diego route of Boeing system. The Boeing mail-express-passenger planes make a round trip between San Diego and Seattle, 2400 miles, in thirty-six hours, which includes an eight-hour daylight layover in Seattle.

TOP SPEED SHOWN

Waterman, aided by Max Harlow and Ivar Shogran, aircraft engineers, showed that his craft has a top speed of 130 miles an hour and a cruising speed of 110 miles an hour. The ship is powered with the first 190-horsepower Axelson engine of a new series. The motor also was built here.

The craft embodies the lessons learned in aircraft design by Waterman since he built and flew his own plane in San Diego twenty years ago. He is credited with having flown more years than any active pilot in the country.

He and Mrs. Waterman, accompanied by Victor Clark, will fly the revolutionary-type craft to Chicago next week and demonstrate it at the 1930 national air races. They will then make a tour of the country before returning to place the design in production.

When interrupted the second time Judge Stutsman said:

"The court does not feel the need of assistance. If you desire to bring any action there is a prescribed method of doing so."

"But Your Honor, the affidavit is on file; it has just been filed by Mrs. Ward," Gallagher said.

"That affidavit was filed in the contempt matter which I have just concluded," Judge Stutsman said, returning to the bench, which he had left. "There is nothing before the court at this time. If you persist in your actions it will be necessary to cite you for contempt."

Gallagher dropped his papers on the counsel table and remained silent.

Edward Fitswater, 60 years of age, was found guilty by a jury in the same court of blocking the sidewalk in front of a hall at Twenty-fifth and Main streets during an attempt to hold a Communist meeting on March 23, last. He will be sentenced this morning by Judge Stutsman.

Ex-Mayoralty Candidate to Defend Sanity

Once a candidate for the Mayoralty nomination, Mrs. Mildred Green yesterday was arraigned in psychopathic court, where Superior Judge Guerin committed her to Patton State Hospital. Mrs. Green demanded a jury trial, which was granted, automatically staying her removal to the institution.

She attracted attention several years ago when she personally circulated a petition nominating herself for Mayor, on which she obtained many signatures. Mrs. Green at one time was in the county civil service. She has been under the psychopathic parole's supervision for the last two years.

Bridge Teacher Takes Poison

Before swallowing poison yesterday Mrs. Clara Curtis, 29 years of age, 348 South Hobart Boulevard, bridge teacher, wrote two notes.

One addressed to "Ted" read: Don't say I am a coward. I am not. It took great courage to leave my boy. Constant drag, worry and grind . . . could not ease my mind. I am sorry to leave you any obligations. This bill is due. Take good care of my boy."

The other, addressed to "A. J.:" "I am sorry but it seems much too difficult to carry on. Love."

"CLARA."

She was removed to California Lutheran Hospital, where her condition is pronounced precarious.

COUNTY'S LEGAL GUIDE REPORTS

Revenue of Mattoon's Office for Year $79,997.27

Forfeited Bail Collections Largest Item in Total

Fiscal Period Accounting Shows Varied Scope

Revenue produced by County Counsel Mattoon's office during the fiscal year just closed amounted to $79,997.27, according to his report, which will be filed with the Board of Supervisors today. The figures disclose that this department is more than 60 per cent self-supporting.

The revenue total is made up of $8105.26 collected from various suits brought by the county for damage to county property; refunds from county charity patients and other matters; $2570 as fees paid by the estates handled by the public administrator; $65,166.49 collected on forfeited bail bonds and interest; $1819.34 collected on agricultural liens and $2336.18 collected on weed liens.

MANY LAWSUITS

During the fiscal year of 1929-30 406 lawsuits were disposed of by the office, the report shows. These suits involved many legal situations and large sums. The approximate amount involved in these cases, not including condemnation cases, was $940,261.65. At the beginning of the fiscal year there were 481 cases pending. A total of 375 new cases was entered on the county counsel's docket during the year, and after 406 cases had been closed 450 cases were left still pending. In the new cases the county was plaintiff in 141 and defendant in 234.

The office during the year prepared at the request of the Board of Supervisors a total of 392 contracts involving an expenditure of $8,110,859.57. The board adopted 147 new ordinances which were prepared by the county counsel's office.

SUBDIVISION CASES

The department also engaged in considerable activity against delinquent subdividers during the year, commencing sixty-six suits against them to compel completion of street work in subdivisions located in county territory. The cost of the unfinished work sued for by the county was $121,110.25.

The report further shows that the county counsel's office was called upon to examine 86,358 claims against the county involving a total of $20,449,794.78. A total of 199 of such warrants, involving $56,046, was rejected. In addition 185 claims for tax refunds were disapproved, although 3954 claims for tax funds involving a total of $196,438.73 were approved.

OPINIONS WRITTEN

The Board of Supervisors and county officials obtained 435 opinions in the twelve-month period.

Special districts formed by the county require a great variety of legal work. During the fiscal year the county counsel's office handled fifty-five cases involving the acquisition of property for highways estimated at $5,299,047.02.

The 160 school districts in the county called on the county counsel for legal aid, according to the report. During the fiscal period just closed the county counsel approved 151 building contracts totaling $1,016,689, for the Los Angeles city school district alone.

Proceedings for fourteen separate bond elections were prepared for school districts, totaling $885,900. At the present time there is outstanding more than $100,000,000 in school bonds. The office also handled twenty-nine condemnation actions for school districts.

FORFEITED BAIL BONDS

There were 137 cases for the collection of forfeited criminal bail bonds involving the sum of $209,100. Bonds amounting to $61,750 were exonerated by the courts and $67,500 was collected on forfeited bonds, together with interest amounting to $249. Forty bail-bond cases were still pending at the close of the year.

The county counsel also is ex-officio attorney for the Los Angeles Flood Control District.

Deeds and easements for rights of way are approved by the county counsel's office before acceptance, the report reveals. Approximately 110 parcels of land were obtained under eminent domain proceedings, in addition to those purchased or secured without compensation.

Thirty-two contracts were prepared for construction work amounting to more than $1,000,000.

The report further discloses that the county counsel's office handled all of the matters relative to the conveyance of the site for the new State building near the Hall of Records and the purchase of many parcels of land for the extension of Spring street from Temple street to Sunset Boulevard. In addition to this 850 deeds to the county of parcels of land for highway purposes were examined and approved.

Staff Honors Lloyd S. Nix

Lloyd S. Nix, retiring City Prosecutor, was presented with a large electric clock by his staff yesterday at a farewell breakfast at a downtown cafe. William Krowl, assistant City Prosecutor, made the presentation.

Nix's resignation, demanded by Mayor Porter some time ago, becomes effective tonight. He will be succeeded by Charles P. Johnson, recently appointed, whose nomination was confirmed by the City Council yesterday.

Matron Jailed in Liquor Case

The statement of Patricia Jernigan, 20 years of age, that liquor found in her husband's home in Belvedere was not hers did not keep the young woman out of jail. Yesterday she began serving a sentence of 150 days in lieu of a fine of $300 imposed by Justice of the Peace Zaring of Belvedere.

Mrs. Jernigan was arrested as she entered the house, and found guilty.

CONFIDENCE EXPRESSED IN BAR LIST

Laymen Seek Names of Those Indorsed for Bench by Lawyer Plebiscite

Approval of the services rendered by the Los Angeles Bar Association in its recommendation of candidates for the Superior Court is signified by the many requests for information concerning the personnel of the indorsements, according to Andrew W. Francisco, acting chairman of the judiciary campaign committee.

"Calls come into our headquarters for hundreds of Bar Association tickets of recommendation every day," Mr. Francisco explained. "Merchants, heads of civic organizations, and leaders in every type of activity are expressing their confidence in the bar associations of Los Angeles county by asking for information concerning our indorsements.

"For the first time in its history the Los Angeles Bar Association included in its vote on candidates for the Superior Court the entire membership of the twelve bar associations in this county.

"The voters realize that lawyers have the best possible opportunity to decide on the qualifications and abilities of candidates for judicial office and turn to their friends in the bar associations for information.

"The recommendation represents the cross-section of opinion derived from 2750 plebiscite ballots. In every case where an indorsement was made the majority was overwhelming. We urge the election of Arthur Keetch, Henry M. Willis, John L. Fleming, Harry A. Archbald, Hartley Shaw, Edward T. Bishop, Frank C. Collier, J. Walter Hanby, William Hazlett and Walter Guerin."

County and Gas Company Reach Ag Gabriel River Channel Strai

One of the obstacles to the plan of Los Angeles county the channel of the lower end of the San Gabriel River moved, it was learned yesterday with announcement that with the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation over the ment have been ironed out.

Following the announcement of the improvement by the Los Angeles county flood control district, condemnation suits were filed in both this and Orange county. One was against the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, which has a large power plant and property in the vicinity of the new proposed entrance of San Gabriel River into Alamitos Bay near Long Beach.

The company immediately filed an answer to the condemnation action in which it asserted the straightening of the channel will do damage to its property to the extent of $10,000,000.

Conferences then were held between representatives of the corporation and the county resulting, according to E. C. Eaton, chief engineer of the flood-control district, with the differences being settled. By the aid of dikes and bulwarks the gas company's property will be benefitted by the improvement instead of damaged, it is asserted.

The condemnation suit, however, which is on file, will be allowed to go to trial on technical points. The hearing probably will be held this fall.

It is the plan of the county to straighten out the channel of the lower end of the San Gabriel River to relieve flood conditions during high water periods. The improvement is to cost $661,000. The new entrance of the river into Alamitos Bay will be several hundred yards west of the present one.

'Prince Igor' to be Presented at Bowl Tonight

The final ballet number of the season will be presented in the Hollywood Bowl tonight when 125 Michio Ito dancers will interpret Borodin's "Prince Igor." The Japanese ballet master has been rehearsing the dancers for several weeks and the performance is expected to be one of the most brilliant in Bowl history.

"Prince Igor" is founded on a famous episode in Russian history. Borodin worked on the opera for seven years, but died before he could complete it. The ballet music is ranked high in music history.

Bernardino Molinari, who ends his local engagement tomorrow night, will conduct three other selections on this evening's program, including Rimsky-Korsakow's popular "Scheherazade," founded on the Arabian Nights tales.

LOVE SECRETS TOLD BY CLEOPATRA'S KIN

Princess Athena

Women who have failed to find the romance that their natures crave need not despair. By following the technique of Cleopatra, they can make themselves irrisistible to men and be successful in love.

That message comes from a descendant of the famous siren, Princess Athena Piearibes, who is in Hollywood making her motion-picture debut in Paramount's "Morocco."

Princess Athena offers the following advice:

First and last, keep yourself mysterious to all men, keep a man worrying, never make him an idol, and give a man first a little suffering and then a litle joy.

The Princess was born in Arabia and educated in Egypt. Her royal title is derived from her mother's family, which ruled for centuries in the Island of Cypress. The present visit is her first to Hollywood.

FIRE CHIEF GETS OFFER ON EXPENSE

Bay City Chamber Sends Word Scott Can Have $500 to Attend Session There

An offer to provide $500 to pay expenses for attendance of the Los Angeles fire chief at the State Fire Chiefs' convention in San Francisco on September 1, has been made by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, the Fire Commission was informed yesterday by Fire Chief Scott.

The chief explained that the chamber's communication stated that the offer is made in case Los Angeles is "too poor" to pay his expenses. He said he does not contemplate taking advantage of the offer. President Werdin declared that some arrangement will be made to insure his attendance at the session.

Due to the condition of municipal finances, the City Council recently placed a ban on payment of expenses of city officials attending conventions, on recommendation of the Council Finance Committee.

Chief Scott is president of the International Fire Criefs' Association, which convenes in Winnipeg, Man., from September 9 to 12, and he is scheduled to be present to open the conference. In view of the Council order no money will be provided by the city for his expenses.

President Werdin said that some private arrangement will be made to pay Scott's expenses to the convention, as it would be a black eye for Los Angeles to have the president of the association absent because of financial reasons.

The home, the only one of its kind in Southern California, is sponsored by the State and county and indorsed by many civic, charity and religious organizations.

The home at El Monte is one of a series of such institutions established by Mrs. Kerr and her associates of the west coast. The chain of homes includes an institution for "down and out" men at Tacoma, Wash.; a similar home for men at Portland, Or.; two homes for girls at Portland, a girls' home at Everett, Wash., and homes for babies at Seattle and Portland.

The Ruth Protective Home, formerly known as Ruth Sanitarium, will be finished within the next three months, according to those in charge of construction.

"Some of the objectives of the Ruth home are to prevent blindness at birth, to provide scientific treatment for young mothers, to help decrease insanity and to educate and make worth-while citizens of the young women who enter the institution," said Mrs. Kerr. "We also try to find suitable homes and employment for our patients after they are dismissed from the home. Within the twenty-two years in which the Pacific Protective Society has been operated, it has cared for and studied the cases of more than 7000 girls and 3210 babies."

Today's Bible Text

TOAD MARKET

There appears to be a market for healthy toads in France. Gardeners are paying nearly a dollar a dozen for the hoppers. They are great punishers of the insect pests that beset their gardens and a colony of toads is considered a genuine asset. They can eat their weight in bugs in a single day if they get a chance.

MOTOR INDUSTRY

Nearly 150,000 automobile workers in Detroit returned to their tasks on a single day after being on vacation for an average of three weeks. That must make quite a difference in the earning capacity of the town. They doubtless draw an average of better than $6 a day. The motor industry means a lot to the City of the Straits.

LOOKS GOOD TO THEM

The credit men of America tell the world that business skies are clearing. Also inventories are unusually low, so that extensive buying will be necessary this fall. The credit men are supposed to know these things and if they feel encouraged over the condition of the country the rest of us can afford to perk up a bit.

MANY OCTILLIONS

A Holland professor says that the radius of our universe is represented by the figures 109, followed by twenty-one ciphers—meaning that many miles. It isn't likely that even our most accomplished and venturesome flyers will be undertaking a trip around the universe. It is a long, cold journey. The Dutch professor does not explain how he made his measurements.

SALES OF THE SOVIET

Last year France sold to Russia about $10,000,000 worth of her wares. But Russia sold to the French more than $33,000,000 of soviet products. It is said that the Russians sell much of their stuff at less than cost with the idea of gumming up the trade balances of the world and reaping some future advantage to themselves. It doesn't seem reasonable, but the Communists do not have to be reasonable.

MORE TARIFF TALK

Senator Swanson and the Democratic National Committee join in a demand for another complete revision of the tariff—along Democratic lines, of course. But they will find the masses singularly unresponsive to their plea. If there is anything that the people of America want it is that the tariff be let alone until they find out what it is doing. The revision just finished is satisfactory to almost everybody save the politicians to whom the tariff is a thing to be juggled with to their official advantage.

THE FEDERAL SITE

The warning that the new Federal Building will not necessarily be located in the Civic Center, if property owners in that section have exaggerated ideas of value, is one that requires careful attention from civic official and unofficial bodies. The Civic Center is obviously the logical place for the building from all points of view, but the Federal government cannot be blamed for not caring to submit to a hold-up, if any such thing should chance to be encountered.

Private property taken for a public purpose should, of course, be paid for at its full proper price and its owner should receive what it is reasonably worth, but no more. The government can, of course, condemn if necessary, but it will not resort to this expedient if it can buy what it wants at a fair figure. An area of about 90,000 square feet will be needed, which is twice the size of the present Federal Building.

William Arthur Newman, official site picker for the Treasury Department on the Pacific Coast, should receive full cooperation from the local governments and from local organizations and individuals in his search. It goes without saying that every effort should be made to discover a site in the Civic Center area for this building at a reasonable price. The new Federal Building will be worth three times as much to the city if it is so placed.

THE LESSON OF NEBRASKA

By long odds the greatest physical problem of the Southwest is that of securing and maintaining an adequate water supply for the millions already here and the more millions coming. As the metropolis of this area and the head and center of its multifold activities, the problem is particularly that of Los Angeles.

From a semiarid country largely devoted to pasturage, water has made Southern California the greatest agricultural section of its area in the world. For years Los Angeles county has led every county in the United States in value of its field and orchard products; riches which constitute the foundation for every other activity of the community. Water alone has made possible the conversion of great expanses of semidesert country into smiling gardens whose scenic beauty is one of the Southland's chief attractions to tourists and prospective residents.

While, in our dry season, we are dependent upon stored water for irrigation and domestic uses and have spent and will spend many millions to bring adequate supplies from distant sources, there is no part of the country where rainfall means more to a community's welfare; in fact, to its actual existence. Upon consistent and regular rains in their season depends the replenishment of the underground reservoirs from which is pumped much of the water used for agricultural purposes in the dry months and of the streams and lakes that supply the rest, both in our irrigation ditches and our city water mains. Upon them depends the life of the protective blanket of plant life on our hillsides, without whose anchoring roots flood-time erosion would annually menace our fertile valleys.

Southern California thus has a tremendously vital interest in proven methods for stabilizing and increasing rainfall and in preventing abnormal droughts, not only in its own immediate area, but in all the far reaches of the mountain watersheds whence come her distant supplies. Sharp and painful point to the importance of such methods has been given us by the recent succession of winters well below normal in rainfall, years which have seen our subterranean water tables drop below the danger line.

Southern California is beginning to realize that, as a dependable supply of water is by far the biggest and most important thing in her existence, so are the execution of scientific plans for the conservation and maintenance of that supply among the most important duties of her public servants.

One of the few mitigating features of this summer's drought in the East and Middle West is that it has brought with it a powerful object lesson as to practical methods which may be nationally employed to avert similar catastrophes in future. Nebraska, located in the heart of the drought belt, has suffered much less than her neighbor States. Her rainfall this summer, while below normal, has been so much larger than in the rest of the Midwestern grain area as to make it unnecessary, according to Gov. Weaver, to include Nebraska in the national relief plans.

It was no accident that spared Nebraska, but careful study of rainfall causes and half a century of application of the knowledge thereby gained. Nearly fifty years ago Nebraska embarked upon a scientific program of reforestation, under the official auspices and direction of the State government. Before that time Nebraska was the largest area of treeless land in the United States. For years her rainfall had been far below that of her neighboring States and she suffered from annual plagues of destructive insects. In 1873 J. Sterling Martin, just elected Governor of Nebraska, launched a tree-planting program throughout the State. Everyone was encouraged to plant trees. Big grants of land were made to any who would plant a quarter of the area to trees. In the first year 18,000,000 young trees were set out in Nebraska and in the next twenty-five years 2,500,000,000 were planted.

Droughts stopped in Nebraska. In 1885, twelve years after the first trees were planted, the State's average annual rainfall had increased to fifteen inches. From then on it increased consistently, year by year, until in 1925, the greatest drought year in the history of the United States, more than thirty-three inches of rain fell in Nebraska. In that year forty-two of the forty-eight States were on domestic-water rations, power and light supplies were curtailed, streams dried up, crops failed and insect plagues held high carnival on what was left. In the middle of the dryest area Nebraska, with her green blanket of 2,500,000,000 moisture-creating, moisture-circulating trees, had abundant rainfall, normal crops and prosperity. And that experience has been Nebraska's again this year, though, because of the lesser drought, the comparison has been less striking.

There is no agricultural area in the United States but can profit by the lesson of Nebraska. For Southern California, where rainfall is so important, it has exceptional significance.

To attain its maximum effect, because of the great expanses over which rain-producing pressure areas form, a reforestation program cannot be localized. It should extend over State boundary lines and include in its scope thousands rather than hundreds of square miles. In other words, it should be nationally rather than State or locally conducted. It is a program for the government, through Congress, to initiate; thence to be carried forward by the correlated efforts of the several States under the direction, perhaps, of the Department of Agriculture.

In the candidacy for Congress from the Tenth District of George H. Barnes, Los Angeles has an extraordinary opportunity to supply the means through which such a national program may be launched, for the benefit of the whole country as well as of Southern California. Mr. Barnes, as head of the American Green Cross, is perhaps the country's foremost exponent of scientific reforestation. He has made a lifetime study of the subject. In the national organization, of which he is the executive, he has already in active operation one of the great agencies through which the program can expeditiously be worked out. He is, further, a business man of long experience, capable, energetic and thoroughly familiar with the needs and problems of the Tenth District, most of which lies in the city of Los Angeles. These needs, incidentally, have suffered long enough from the neglect of the incumbent, Congressman Crail, whose opposition to the Hoover administration has crippled his usefulness in any national activity, even had he the energy, ability and disposition usefully to participate therein.

McKINLEY FOR SENATOR

The new State constitutional amendment providing that no county shall have more than one State Senator becomes effective in the primary election to be held one week from Tuesday and in accordance therewith the city and county of Los Angeles, heretofore represented by eight members of the State Senate, will elect a single representative to that body.

The usual importance connected with naming those deemed qualified for membership in the State Senate, therefore, has been materially increased in this county by reason of the fact that the individual now selected to represent us will face tremendously greater responsibilities, heavier tasks and find added exactions of time and energy.

Having such considerations in mind, The Times has carefully scanned the relative claims for consideration advanced by the various candidates for the office, a final decision eventually resting between two incumbent Senators who are opposing each other for the place.

These are J. W. McKinley and C. W. Lyon. The Times in former elections has supported the candidacies of each. There can be no question either of personal or political bias in approving either of the two, and wholly on the basis of what this newspaper considers the best interests of the people of Los Angeles county, The Times recommends the nomination and election of Senator McKinley.

McKinley has shown himself to be an attentive, energetic, studious legislator, whose sole purpose in going to Sacramento has been to serve his constituents and the people of the State as a whole. He has contributed in a material way to the constructive work of the legislative branch of government and is recognized as one of the most thoughtful and reliable members of either house of the Legislature.

Trained as an attorney, possessing excellent business judgment and aligned with the best elements in the community, McKinley has shown by his record in office that he may be depended upon to exercise independent judgment and that his vote is cast under all circumstances strictly in accord with his convictions.

His election will assure the people of this district a competent representative in a position requiring more than ordinary industry and discretion. This newspaper unhesitatingly recommends him for election as Los Angeles county's next—and only—State Senator.

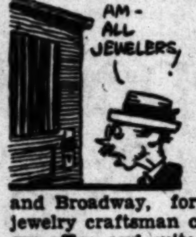
THE AMERICA'S CUP

Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht Shamrock V is after that famous cup. Sir Thomas possibly could use it in his tea service, but he has been a long time in tracking it to its lair. The cup has been here for seventy-nine years and has withstood more than a score of assaults upon its possession. If the thing could now be left to popular vote in this country Sir Thomas would get it by a safe majority. The feeling is that he is entitled to it by reason of his sportsmanship and persistence.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

A LARGE number of "forty-five-minute parking" signs have blossomed out in what might be called the near-downtown district. We can't figure out just why those signs are posted on some of the quieter streets—unless it is because the motor park men have an association now.

The Jewelry Hive



There are wheels within wheels and communities within communities in a great city like Los Angeles. The Metropolitan Building at Fifth and Broadway, for instance, is the jewelry craftsman center. Nearly every office and suite in that building, above the lower floors which are occupied by shops, is tenanted by a manufacturing jeweler, a watchmaker or some other craftsman or firm connected with the making of jewelry. The things they make or repair may be handed out to customers blocks or miles or hundreds of miles away, but a great deal of the work for the trade of the whole Southwest is done right there. The big jewelers, of course, have their own craftsmen and designers, where very fine individual work is turned out. Many of the small jewelry stores, too, are owned by expert craftsmen who have struck out for themselves. But there also are any number of jewelry stores which are run by business men rather than craftsmen and when you take your watch in to one of them for repairs the manager merely looks wise and names a figure he thinks is safe. Often he doesn't know what's the matter with it himself, nor how much it will cost to repair it, till he has sent it over to some watchmaker in the Metropolitan Building with whom he has established relations. Most of the old jewelers are real watchmakers and craftsmen, but some of the young ones learned the jewelry business mainly as an adjunct to the money-lending business.

Jazz Headquarters

Just as the Metropolitan Building is the jewelry hive, so the Majestic Theater Building is our tin-pan alley. Song writers, song-and-dance coaches, composers who can dash off something appropriate for any occasion and teachers of acrobatic piano playing, saxophone wrangling and trombone torturing infest that temple of art—or should one say Tower of Babel? But it sounds rather good, at that. It livens one up just to walk through there—and if his perceptions are acute he is sure to chuckle frequently.

Tips to the Wise

When you're feeling a little saggy, get a shoeshine. It always peps you up. But let us not butt in on Doc Lovell's department. What we started out to report was that yesterday we tramped all over the downtown area without finding anything interesting to write about. The first time you stroll down Broadway looking for human interest it jumps at you from every doorway, but try it for several years, seven days a week, and it doesn't jump. So we slumped into our favorite shine stand to get our feet brightened up, even if our head continued dull. It's a small, one-man shine stand, and the young fellow who stepped forward to serve us was one we had not noticed there before.

"Where's the regular man here?" we asked, which wasn't very good grammar, but the intelligent shine boy understood.

"He's up in Yosemite, takin' his vacation," he replied.

"When'll he be back?"

"Two weeks. And he sure better not be a day late, for I've got my car all ready for a trip up the Redwood Highway."

It isn't everyone who can make the most of every little tip. But some waiters and shine boys can.

Many Lost But Few Called For

MY CAR

Every day dozens of bundles of articles are left on Los Angeles street cars by absent-minded passengers and every year thousands of those parcels which have not been called for are sold to junk dealers. Though practically all of the really valuable parcels are called for, so many are uncalled for that their sale, after they have been held for months, brings in almost enough to pay the expenses of the lost-and-found offices. The surprising thing is that more of the articles turned in by conductors are uncalled for than are called for.

Joshua Little Says

The killing of a radio announcer is said to be a mystery. Then he could not have been one of those wise-cracking announcers.

If Nero had only had a good up-to-date press agent he probably would have been given a Carnegie medal for heroically averting a panic when he fiddled while Rome burned.

DRY

A good motto for picnickers in dry areas: A little burning is a dangerous thing.

Few people write "How true" on the margins of books nowadays. But when one reads the books one finds that there's a reason.

Real Champion

The medal for needless worry goes to E. D., who notes that 414 candidates for admission to the bar are taking tests here, and fears that soon there won't be enough crime and divorce to go around.

WHALES

By James J. Montague

When Billy grows to manhood,
To strong and lusty manhood,
So he can sail
Before the gale
To far off Baffin's Bay;
He means to brave the billows
That look like giant pillows,
And, free from fear,
To wield a spear
And harpoon whales all day.

With arms held strong and steady,
He always will be ready,
To watch a chance
To thrust his lance
Across the tossing floes.
And how his eyes will glisten
The while he sits to listen,
Till, strong and stout,
The cry rings out:
"Ahoy, Bill! Thar she blows!"

But whales are not so plenty
As back in eighteen twenty,
When they would ride
The tossing tide
Like herds of buffalo.
And Billy's filled with worry,
For if he doesn't hurry,
There'll be no more
Up there before
He's old enough to go!

BOYHOOD OF FAMOUS AMERICANS

GEORGE F. BAKER

[This is the seventh of a series of eighteen articles on the boyhood of famous Americans and telling how they got their start in life.]

BY J. V. FITZ GERALD

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

Uncle John could sit on his porch and take it easy while the other farmers were hard at work. He lived well and enjoyed himself. His nephew wondered how a man could have all the necessities of life, and some of the luxuries, without having to labor. Being of an inquiring mind he asked for the answer to such a puzzle. He was told that his uncle had an income from his savings and was able to live on the interest on his money.

That was how George F. Baker got his first lesson in thrift and in the value of saving and investing. He was visiting his grandparents in Dedham, Mass., where he spent some of his vacations as a boy, when he learned the lesson that was to help make him one of the world's leading bankers and enable him to amass a tremendous fortune.

George F. Baker was born in Troy, N. Y., in 1840. His father was a merchant, who at one time had a shoe business in New York City. The elder Baker didn't enjoy buying and selling. He became a reporter under Horace Greeley on the New York Tribune. He specialized in politics. He became a Washington correspondent for his paper, later holding political positions.

His son was 8 years old when the family moved to Brooklyn. Young George went to school in Williamsburg, but spent much time with his grandparents in Massachusetts. The country air agreed with him. He thrived on it and became a sturdy and robust youngster.

It was at Dedham that he laid the foundation for the strong constitution that has enabled him to be active for so many years. There also, through the example of his uncle, he learned the lesson in finance that helped him in laying the foundation for his great fortune. He earned his first money, during a vacation at Dedham, by gathering cranberries left under the bushes by the pickers.

He carried the berries to the barn in pails, dumped them in a sleigh stored there, and when it was full and all the berries salvaged, he sold the batch for $7. That was good money for a boy in those days—before the Civil War. Young Baker didn't waste it on candy or entertainment. With the example of his uncle in mind he saved it.

The youthful financier finished his education at Seward University at Florida, N. Y., when he was 16 years old. His first job was in a small Albany bank. His father, whose interest in politics had gained him an election to the State Legislature, was secretary to Gov. Myron H. Clark at the time.

The youngster worked hard learning the rudiments of the banking business, but he had time to enjoy himself after the fashion of the youth of the period. He drove his own horse and buggy. He got his exercise by rowing on the upper Hudson.

Sculling was a great sport on the river at Albany and Troy in those days. There were good boat clubs and good oarsmen. Young Baker was one of the best. He was skilled enough to win a sculling championship of the upper Hudson. He was also active in church and lecture work.

He was badly injured in a railroad accident in 1859. For a time it was thought one of his legs would have to be amputated. He recovered and served as secretary and assistant military secretary to Gov. Edwin D. Morgan, who was the State's chief executive at the outbreak of the Civil War.

Before this he had worked as a clerk in the State Banking Department. His pay there was only $500 a year, but he managed to save $100 of his first year's salary. His father was in Washington as secretary to William H. Seward and young Baker returned to the banking department when Gov. Morgan retired from office.

He was known as the best-informed clerk there. His knowledge soon gave him an opportunity to enter the banking business for himself. He became interested in the plan of Secretary of the Treasury Chase to sell bonds through banks and to form banks which could pledge bonds themselves for the circulation of currency up to 90 per cent of their value.

He talked the proposition over with John Thompson, a New York financier, and in 1863 they launched the First National Bank with a capital of $200,000. Thompson offered the young banker all the stock he wanted and promised to carry it for him. But George Baker, at the time, didn't believe in borrowing money. Some misguided friend, apparently, had warned him against being a borrower.

So he used only his own savings to buy stock. His nest egg permitted him to buy thirty shares. He also became a teller and before long the cashier of the bank. He prospered and later borrowed the money with which to get control of the institution which he was destined to make one of the strongest financial concerns in the world.

(Next: Walter F. Gifford.)

The little grand-daughter, three times removed, of the composer of "Hail Columbia" unveiled the tablet on the Philadelphia house, where her famous ancestor lived, last month, in commemoration of the one hundred and thirty-second anniversary of the patriotic song.

Tots Train Before Mirrors

To arouse the interest of children while taking their gymnastic exercises, a school in Berlin, Germany, has installed mirrors near the horizontal bars and other apparatus. The tots, from 1 to 5 years of age, watch themselves as they perform and make greater effort to do so correctly.

Next to a secret, the hardest thing in the world for a woman to keep is her opinion.

WHERE TIME CEASES

BY ARTHUR MILLIER

Time rings its signal bells at her four corners. Time is propelled through macadamized space to north, south, east and west of her with much honking of horns and emitting of smoke. Out there on Main, Los Angeles, Plaza street and Sunset, time is immensely important. But the Plaza herself is a tiny islet in the ocean of time.

At the door of the church of Nuestra Senora de Los Angeles a solemn hearse pauses, filled with flowers—another victory for old Time. But here in the charmed circle we sinners shift a little on our benches, cross the right leg over the left to ease a cramped muscle, and go on with our thoughts and conversations. What matters Time to us? Let him bluster and puff at the stop signals. He is a rank outsider and we will have no traffic with him.

They tell us the Plaza is a historical spot, that here de Neve or de Anza or some other gentleman did something sometime. What time? Time is no concern of ours. After today we have tomorrow and a thousand tomorrows. Each year we see the leaves fall from the sycamores, the white blooms wax and wane on the magnolias.

The Pico House has a new coat of paint. Time will attend to that, too We care little for new paint, it makes too sharp a break in time and we spend our days out of that ancient's earshot

Sometimes a go-getter from south of First slips in, walks self-consciously around our green pond, looks at us with sharp, unmellowed eyes that say: "I would like to put you bums to work—make you hustle!" But he never stays more than a few moments With all his fine clothes, cars and possessions he cannot call even his time his own. Whereas, we have so much time we think no more of it than of the air we breathe. We have enough time to forget Time.

Adam and Eve in the Garden must have felt much as we do. They walked about among flowers and beasts, pulling fruit off the trees at will. We sit here and watch the sparrows take their baths, and Providence feeds us, too—in time.

There, the funeral is off now. Some one taking his last ride. The cost has been figured on the basis of so much time to the cemetery and back—and the hearse driver is discreetly speeding up the procession to cheat time of a few dollars. And here comes a benign old Chinaman carrying his little granddaughter and pointing out the chirping birds. Thus we sit on our island and contemplate the beginning and end of time without shifting from the bench.

We are not unfriendly to Time, but we differentiate between his attributes. We like him not as the swift mover, the relentless bringer of sudden change, but as the slow, unseen artist who stains and polishes life's hard surfaces till they acquire his unmatched patina. Let them paint the Pico House, say we—that is a momentary triumph for the go-getter's time, he of the nicely trimmed beard and pressed pants who drives a harvester and plugs an electric clock in his light socket. But our black coats have long been green, the seats of our trousers take a high polish and we know that, in the long run, Time, the slow modifier, will attend to these upstart happenings as surely and beautifully as he has painted the bark of the rubber tree silver and black, the better to set off the fresh spring green of the sycamores.

What's that? Four o'clock? Good gracious we must be hurrying! We had forgot the time.

And when we want to forget time again we shall slip back into this charmed circle. And once more the spell will come over us and the ringing of bells and rushing of cars will seem a fantastic concern of those people out there. Now we must plunge back into the stream of time, but it is good to know a place where, in the very heart of time, time ceases.

WAR'S DEBRIS

At the National Military Home Hospital.

Men who marched to fife and drum,
Waiting for the end to come.

Men who charged up San Juan Hill.
Men whose trade it was to kill.

Men who sailed the seven seas,
Wasting slowly with disease.

Brooding men who seldom speak.
Men who wake up with a shriek.

Laughing men who found a joke
Even in the battle smoke.

Common men who did their bit,
Carrying on till they were hit.

Coughing men with lungs burnt out.
Broken men who once were stout.

Lame men leading 'round the blind.
Crippled men of every kind.

Men who seem a little queer.
Every kind of wreck is here.

Men who sit around and wait,
Victims of insensate hate.

CITY OVERRULED ON RECALL DEMURRER

By a ruling handed down in Superior Judge Tuttle's court yesterday the City Attorney's office must make a formal answer in the mandamus suit brought by E. S. Parker and others, taxpayers in the Fourteenth District, who sought to have City Clerk Dominguez certify the recall petition against Councilman Holland.

Judge Tuttle overruled the city's demurrer to Parker's action on technical grounds, giving the city ten days to file its answer.

Parker charged that Dominguez refused to certify the full recall petitions against Holland on the ground that each separate page of signatures did not have the necessary affidavit attached.

Husband Asking Divorce, Has His Wife's Approval

Wifely congratulations to a husband who found a girl he wants to marry were offered in evidence yesterday at the trial of Royal F. Ellet's suit for divorce from Lucille Ellet. He lives in Pico and she wrote from San Luis Obispo, as follows:

"I'm really glad you found her, Roy, and I'm glad I feel that way about her. Guess we were pretty good at taking chances. So why not again? I've been going around with an awful nice kid. Didn't want to go with him. Guess he wanted to show me he's different. Treats me like I'm a respectable single person."

"Show my letter to your lawyer. That ought to get you a divorce." It did. Superior Judge Collier granted the decree.

DEAL ON FOR SAN DIEGO'S R.-K.-O. HOUSE

Closing Brings Word of Likelihood of Addition to Fox West Coast Chain

Word of the closing of the R.-K.-O. Orpheum Theater at San Diego yesterday was closely linked with a report, as yet unconfirmed, that the house will be taken over by the Fox West Coast Theaters chain.

Definite announcement that R.-K.-O. is through in the southern city was made by Jack Edwards, who for several weeks has been acting manager, according to a news dispatch received here.

First intimation that the house will be added to the Fox chain was given by Leslie Fountain, district manager for the Fox theater interests in San Diego, in making public a formal statement signed by Harry Hartman. The statement reads:

"The R.-K.-O. Theaters has offered the lease of the San Diego R.-K.-O. Theater to Fox West Coast Theaters.

STREET PROTESTS DENIED

Protests were denied yesterday by the City Council against the widening of Council street between Edgemont street and Alexandria avenue and against the lighting of Avenue Thirty-four between Verdugo Road and Eagle Rock Boulevard.

Children will be Safeguarded

That extraordinary precautions will be taken to safeguard the health of the children when the public schools open September 2, by watching for and immediately investigating cases of illness among the pupils was the report made to the Board of Education yesterday by Dr. Sven Lokrantz, head of the health bureau of the schools.

Dr. Lokrantz said 37,000 pupils attended the summer school sessions and but four contracted infantile paralysis. He believes that the epidemic is under control.

During the summer school sessions an extra force of school nurses was employed.

Zoo Owner Sued for Use of Name

J. Hale Kerr yesterday sued Horne's Zoological Arena for $50,000 and an injunction to prevent its using the name "Animal Land" for a rival business of renting animals to motion-picture companies.

Kerr asserts in his complaint that he maintains his establishment at One Hundred and Tenth street and Normandie avenue, and that the defendant recently has been laying claim to the name "Animal Land."

Youth Accused as Auto Thief

Bill Moore, 17 years of age, decided to steal an automobile, say police. He'd just arrived in Los Angeles from Hockerville, Okla., and decided it would be novel to take a car from in front of traffic court.

Moore yesterday made a selection, then ran afoul of the traffic law. Traffic Officer Roche saw him run through a traffic signal at Sunset Boulevard and Castelar street.

Roche gave chase, Moore abandoned the car on a hill allowing it to coast swiftly backward, Roche stopped the car by jumping on the running board and applying the emergency brake, and Policeman Aselin overtook Moore, who now is in jail on a grand-larceny charge.

WATER DEPARTMENT TO SELL OWN SALVAGE

An ordinance permitting the Department of Water and Power to sell its own salvage, without operating through the City Purchasing Agent, was adopted yesterday by the Council. An ordinance granting the same authority to the Harbor Department was held over one week, due to three dissenting votes. It was stated that the Department of Water and Power now has $70,000 worth of material it wishes to dispose of, including eighty tons of scrap copper and 1000 tons of hay in the Owens River Valley.

ANNOYER OF TREE SITTER PUT IN JAIL

Four Months' Term Given Man Accused by Father of Sowder Girl

Convicted of annoying Ruthella Sowder, 12 years of age, champion girl tree-sitter, John Ragsdale, alias Joe Griffin, 48, a transient, yesterday was sentenced to spend four months in the County Jail.

Ragsdale, who was arrested by deputy sheriffs of the Fairfax substation on the complaint of Grover Sowder of 7539 Santa Monica Boulevard, the girl's father, was found guilty in the court of Justice of the Peace Billings of Beverly Hills.

Ruthella, her mother stated yesterday, now lays claim to the tree-sitting championship for girls and today will check off her twenty-second day in the perch of a tree in the rear of her home.

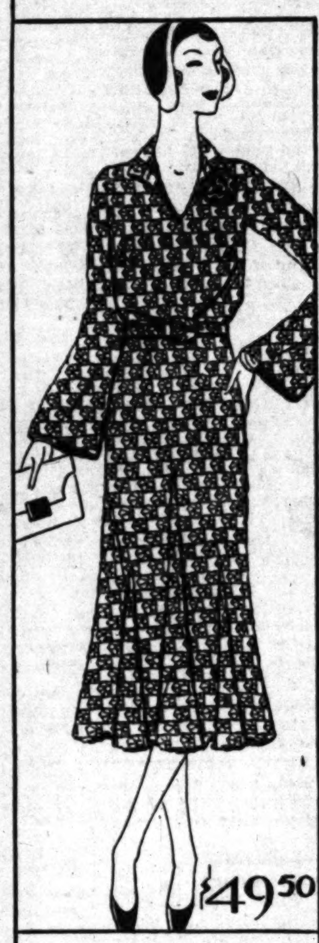
FALL FASHIONS



CHANEL'S WOOL LACE

Bullock's *Collegienne highlights the fashions that will appear on the Campus . . . at the Rushes . . . and in the starlight this Fall, presenting faithful replicas of the most exciting models.

You must be picturesque!—and the picture may have all the accents of the Rue de la Paix—but the grand effect is Russian! Russian as caviar and just as exotic! The silhouette—more dashing than subtle. Colors brilliant and gay . . . and contrasts are of utmost importance.

Chanel's Wool Lace. You'll adore this brand new idea! Entrancingly feminine, so smart and different that it fits any daytime occasion. (There are separate blouses, too.) Dresses—$29.50, $49.50.

Patou's La Russe, a stunning replica of the Russian Tunic Frock that caused a furore at the openings . . . Edgings of dyed ermine are the clever touches of a distinguished designer. Canton crepe; Moscow green, brown, black, $59.50.

Patou also contributes the most interesting of the Sunday Supper Frocks, favoring velvet and tiny puff sleeves of beads—Beads are being done this year for formal afternoon and evening wear. Sunday Supper modes: $49.50.

Lanvin's exquisite Gardenia Gown is of lustrous off-white satin. Shown in the salons with ruby accessories. Satin, $45.00. Velvet, $59.50.

Worth's Contrasting Dress is shown with a Russian blouse of natural cashmere and contrasting skirt of moussa cloth. The same model appears in silk crepe, also. In wool fabric: $29.50. In crepe: $39.50.

The Russian Guimpe Frock, shown first at the Paris openings by Goupy, will, without doubt be the important Campus fashion. Developed by *Collegienne in various woolen fabrics with guimpes of vivid contrast or white. $25 to $39.50.

*Collegienne is a trade mark name registered by BULLOCK'S.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

One of the lovely affairs of the week was the luncheon with which Mrs. Victor C. Hornung entertained at her home, 312 North Citrus avenue, Hollywood, honoring Mrs. Bobbie Thorpe and Mrs. Joe Miller, Jr., of the 101 Ranch, Ponca City, Okla., who motored out last week and are house guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. William Cathriner, at her home in Whittier.

The guests included many members of Gamma Phi Beta Sorority at the University of California at Los Angeles and University of Southern California, with which the honored guests are affiliated.

Pastel shaded flowers and ferns predominated in the decorations and appointments of the table, and those included were Mrs. Thorpe, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Cathriner, Mrs. Robert Gilmore, Mrs. Don Weaver and Mrs. William Mae of Whittier, Miss Ines Lester of Beverly Hills, Mrs. Hugh Wright, Mrs. Jerome Reynolds, Mrs. Warren Ten Eyck of Long Beach, Mrs. Carleton Armitage of Sunset Beach, Mrs. Hugh Lee Spencer, Miss Clarice Topman of Chickasha, Okla., Mrs. William C. Mullerdore and Miss Ruth Hornung.

Miss Ruth Hornung, Mrs. Gilmore and Mrs. Ten Eyck assisted the hostess.

Mrs. Thorpe and Mrs. Miller are planning to be in Southern California for another ten days and will then motor back to their homes in Oklahoma.

Motoring North

Mr. and Mrs. William Winters Tritt, accompanied by their daughter-in-law, Mrs. William B. Tritt, are motoring north to meet their daughter, Miss Margaret Tritt, who is arriving in San Francisco aboard the Matsonia from an extended sojourn in Honolulu. They will pass a few days in Monterey before going on to San Francisco over the Redwood Highway.

Evening Bridge

A charmingly appointed bridge party was given Monday evening in the new Italian salon of the Hollywood Plaza Hotel by Mrs. Harriette Mahler. Gathered around the tables were Mrs. Charles Bowers, Mme. Mabel Du Rose, Lee Colodny, Donald Roame, Katherine Hensler, Roger Zucker, Arlynne Sherman, Mrs. James Thompson, Martha Kitchen, Josef Swickard, Mrs. Sadie Neuroschl, Mrs. Rebecca Voorsanger, Mrs. Charles Danziger, Harold Sussman and Mme. Maria Grever.

Delightful Trip

Dr. and Mrs. Harvey David Thornburg of 8545 West Knoll Drive have returned to Hollywood after a delightful visit in Santa Barbara, where they went to attend the annual Spanish fiesta. While in the Channel City they were guests of Feodor Kolin, noted Anglo-Slav composer-conductor, and attended the fiesta tea party given by him honoring Dr. Walter B. Coffey.

Mr. Kolin returned to Hollywood with the Thornburgs and is their house guest during his stay in Southern California. Yesterday afternoon the Thornburgs entertained with a charmingly appointed tea honoring their visitor.

Church Ceremony

Holy Trinity Church of Alhambra was the setting chosen by Miss Bernice Elizabeth West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey West of Santa Monica, for her marriage Saturday afternoon to Pemberton Morris Price, with Rev. G. R. E. MacDonald officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a becoming ensemble of orchid with hat to match and corsage of gardenias and lilies of the valley completing the costume.

Mrs. Thacker Squire Balch of Los Angeles, only attendant, wore a French blue ensemble with hat to match, and a corsage of pink roses, and Philip E. P. Brine of Santa Barbara served as best man.

A reception and wedding supper at the home of the bride's parents, 315 Eighteenth street, followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Price left on a short honeymoon and will make their future home in Santa Monica.

The bride was graduated from the Fresno State College, where she was active in campus and social affairs, and affiliated with Alpha Theta, Delta Mu Phi and Tokalom honor sororities. She also attended the college of music at the University of Southern California, where she is a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary music sorority. She is now connected with the music department of the Santa Monica schools.

Mr. Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Bowman Price of Philadelphia and Virginia, received his schooling at Episcopal Academy in Philadelphia and at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

At Beach Club

One of the prettiest parties of the season at the Surf and Sand Club, Hermosa Beach, was that given Wednesday by Mrs. L. B. Martin. Three large baskets filled with summer flowers in shades of yellow and lavender, with ferns, formed the attractive centerpiece, while gay-colored fans marked the covers for the hostess, Mrs. J. H. Miles, Mrs. N. Parks, Mrs. J. Carey, Mrs. M. Barton, Mrs. P. F. McManus, Mrs. L. D. McFarland, Mrs. J. E. Deagan, Mrs. G. M. Furman, Mrs. George Lafayette Crenshaw, Mrs. E. O'Neil, Mrs. N. Stemper, Mrs. W. R. Ray, Mrs. C. Crombie, Mrs. S. Dymond, Mrs. J. Heath, Mrs. W. Warren, Mrs. Pettee, Mrs. J. B. Martin, Mrs. B. Moses, Mrs. E. S. Bogardus, Mrs. S. S. Sandberg, Mrs. E. Rhodes, Mrs. M. Field of Washington, D. C., Mrs. R. Ferris and Mrs. E. Simpson of Dallas, Tex., and Mrs. J. H. Cubban of Shanghai, China. Bridge featured the afternoon's entertainment.

Plans for Fall

Mrs. Betty Lee Sargent, daughter of Mrs. L. D. Sargent of Tuxedo Terrace, Hollywood, has been enjoying her summer's vacation after having been graduated in June from Hollywood School for Girls, and is planning to enter the University of Southern California in the fall.

Miss Sargent has chosen rather an unusual field for a girl, entering the new department of international relations at the university, and will work toward her degree. This course is preparatory for the diplomatic service, and with that in view Miss Sargent will specialize in languages, later planning to go abroad.

Concerning Tea

Tea strength should be regulated by the amount of tea leaves used, never by the length of time the water and leaves stand for strengthening. The leaves in three minutes will give up all flavor, aroma and caffein. After three minutes the leaves begin to give up their tannin.

WILD DUCK CONTEST ENJOYED

Southlanders Frolic at Resort Plunge

[J. P. Graham, Del Monte]

Miss Elaine Cochrane, Ralph Forbes and Miss Marjorie Webb

WATER sports form an interesting feature at Del Monte this summer and among the recent activities was a wild duck contest which featured a swimming meet in the Roman Plunge.

Among those particularly interested were Miss Elaine Cochrane of Los Angeles, Ralph Forbes of Pasadena and Miss Marjorie Webb of San Jose, who are passing the summer at the resort.

Rites Conducted for War Veteran

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m., in the McNamara chapel, North Hollywood, for William A. Paul, 87-year-old veteran of the Confederate forces in the Civil War, who died Tuesday night at his home, 6836 Gentry avenue, North Hollywood. Interment was in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Mr. Paul served with the Southern forces from the beginning to the end of the struggle. At the close of the war he moved from Georgia to Texas, where he lived until 1922, when he came to California. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Ezzie Paul; six sons, Earl M., John F., Hilliard G., Robert A., Charles T., and James W. Paul, and two daughters, Mrs. Julia V. Thompson and Mrs. Eva P. Whitlock.

Entertainment Features Added

More actors and features have been added to the all-day program of entertainment to be offered at Luna Park the 24th inst. by the California Restoration Society, which is seeking to raise money to preserve historic San Miguel Mission. Founded July 25, 1797, the venerable structure is in need of a new roof and other renovations for which $50,000 is required.

Prominent speakers, Hollywood stars, and other celebrities will be on hand to entertain the crowd. As an incidental attraction the visitors will have opportunity to view the fine collection of animals at the zoo.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

The Times' free cooking school conducted by Chef Wyman has been discontinued for the summer. Date for resuming has not been set but will be announced later.

EGGS AND CHEESE

Beat six eggs, and add to them one-half cupful of thin cream or rich milk, place in a saute pan two tablespoonfuls of butter, four tablespoonfuls of chopped green pepper, two tablespoonfuls of grated cheese, and one tablespoonful of tomato catsup, allow to cook until the pepper is tender, then add the well beaten eggs, and simmer, slowly stirring constantly until the mixture has thickened, serve at once, on slices of buttered toast.

ROUND STEAK AND POTATO MOLD

Pare and slice enough potatoes to make three cupfuls, cut one and three-fourths pounds of round steak into pieces, about two inches square, slice two large onions very thin; take one cupful of fine cracker crumbs. Butter a covered baking dish, and in this place a layer of the potato slices, lining the bottom and sides with them, then add a thin layer of the sliced onion, season with salt, and paprika, then place in it a layer of the meat, dot with bits of butter and sprinkle with the bread crumbs. Repeat this until all the materials have been used, pour in enough hot rich milk until it begins to appear on the top, cover closely, place in the oven and bake slowly for two hours.

STUFFED ONIONS

Six or eight medium-sized onions, one cupful of chopped boiled carrots, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, two hard-boiled eggs, three-quarters of a cupful of bread crumbs. Peel the onions, cover them with boiling water, and cook until beginning to get soft, remove the centers, leaving the root end intact. Chop what has been removed, add the chopped carrot, bread crumbs, and if liked a little chopped cooked meat, season with salt and paprika and moisten with a little cream and melted butter, stuff the onions with the mixture, place them close together in a buttered baking dish, and cover with a white sauce, to which has been added the chopped hard-boiled eggs, and the parsley. Dot with bits of butter, dust with bread crumbs, place in the oven and bake until the onions are tender.

FROZEN FRUIT MAYONNAISE

One cupful of whipping cream, one-third of a cupful of mayonnaise, one-half cupful of sugar, one cupful of crushed pineapple, one-half cupful of strawberries, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, two medium-sized bananas. Beat the cream, fold in the mayonnaise, and sugar, add the pineapple, the strawberries cut in half, lemon juice, and the mashed bananas. Mix well, turn into a mould that has been rinsed out in cold water, cover tightly and if placed in the ordinary ice box allow to stand overnight if an electric is used let stand for four hours. Slice and serve on a bed of lettuce garnished with a few whole strawberries.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Warm Over the Chest

So often the little sacques given baby are open down the front and never stay snugly closed across his chest, where he needs it most. If mother will crochet it closed on the wrong side, just leaving enough room to slip it over the baby's head, it will be much more of a protection.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

THE TRUTH AT LAST

The truth will out if you but wait.
Alas, it is sometimes too late.
—Mother West Wind.

Peter Rabbit was getting very much provoked. Peter doesn't often lose his temper, but he was very near to losing it now. You see, he had a feeling that he was the victim of a joke. He had the feeling that Striped Chipmunk was playing a joke on him. First he would see Striped Chipmunk on the old stone wall, then he would hear a litle noise in the other direction and turning his head would see a black Chipmunk. When he looked back Striped Chipmunk would be gone, only to reappear where he had seen, or thought he had seen, the black Chipmunk. It was getting so that Peter didn't know whether he was dreaming or awake. He didn't know whether he was really seeing things or thinking that he was seeing things. But he had a strong suspicion that it was all the fault of Striped Chipmunk.

"If I ever catch that little scamp," muttered Peter to himself, "I'll teach him that he can't play tricks on me."

"Did you ever catch him?" inquired a voice.

Peter whirled about. There sat Striped Chipmunk on a big stone and beside him sat—what do you think? Why, it was another Chipmunk, dresed wholly in black. There they sat, side by side, Striped Chipmunk and the coal-black stranger. Both were grinning at Peter. Yes, sir, both were grinning at Peter.

"Well, Peter," said Striped Chipmund, "what do you see now?"

"I—I"—began Peter, and stopped. He didn't know what to say.

Striped Chipmunk chuckled. "I don't wonder you are puzzled, Peter," said he. "This is one of my last family of children. I have named him Impy. Even Black Pussy the Cat is no blacker. I have heard it said that one of my great-great, ever-so-great, grandfathers wore a black coat, which may or may not explain how Impy came by his. He has been keeping pretty much out of sight, but, of course, he has had to come out some time, and you and Sammy Jay and one or two others have had glimpses of him."

"Well, Peter," said Striped Chipmunk, "what do you see now?"

Peter gave a great sigh. Striped Chipmunk looked at him inquiringly. "It's a great relief," said Peter.

"What is a great relief?" asked Striped Chipmunk.

"To know that my eyes are all right," replied Peter, "and to know that I know that I'm awake. I remember that Reddy Fox one time had a son with a black coat, but I didn't suppose that there ever was a black coat in the Chipmunk family. If I were in Impy's place, I know what I would do."

"What would you do?" asked Striped Chipmunk.

"I would sleep all day and travel around at night," replied Peter.

"What for?" asked Impy, speaking for the first time.

"Because I would feel safer then," replied Peter. "I don't believe that even Hooty the Owl, despite his wonderful eyes, would be able to see you running around in the Black Shadows."

"Humph!" said Striped Chipmunk. "He wouldn't be able to see himself. You see, Peter, we Squirrels have been given eyes for light not for dark. Now, it doesn't seem to make a great deal of difference to you whether you are running around at night or in the daytime. But it does make a great deal of difference to us. So I guess Impy will have to live like the rest of us Chipmunks, even if he doesn't look like us."

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday:

Sunday—Breakfast: Large dish of berries with cream (no sugar;) Zucchini (Italian squash) omelet; celery and ripe olives. Dinner: Tomato bouillon; roast chicken, Melba toast dressing; small carrots roasted with chicken; salad of cucumbers on lettuce; Jello or Jell-Well.

Monday — Breakfast: Poached eggs on toasted Shredded Wheat Biscuits; stewed prunes. Lunch: As much as desired of any one kind of fresh fruit. Dinner: Broiled steak; escalloped celery, small green peas; salad of watermelon and cantaloupe balls; no dessert.

Tuesday—Breakfast: Wholewheat muffins, peanut butter; stewed raisins. Lunch: Large glass of tomato juice (canned or fresh.) Dinner: Casserole of mutton; baked squash; salad of chopped raw cabbage and celery; baked apples.

Wednesday—Breakfast: Cantaloupe; coddled eggs; Melba toast. Lunch: Combination salad of cold cooked and raw vegetables, such as carrots, beets, peas, cucumbers and celery. Dinner: Baked white fish; asparagus; buttered beets; salad of tomatoes on lettuce; no dessert.

Thursday—Breakfast: Cottage cheese; pineapple, fresh or canned; Lunch: Watermelon or cantaloupe, as much as desired. Dinner: Vegetable soup; roast beef; spinach; carrots; celery; ice cream.

Friday—Breakfast: French omelet; toasted cereal biscuit; fresh figs with cream. Lunch: Large glass of tomato or orange juice. Dinner: Broiled fillet of sole; baked stuffed tomatoes; string beans; salad of crisp raw spinach (shredded;) small slice of watermelon.

Saturday—Breakfast: Glass of grapefruit juice thirty minutes before breakfast of: broiled ham, coddled egg; Melba toast. Lunch: Fresh peaches and cream (no suggar.) Dinner: Broiled lamb chops; small green peas; five-minute cabbage; artichoke salad; apricot whip.

Salad of watermelon and cantaloupe: Select a thoroughly ripe, dark-colored watermelon and small well-flavored yellow cantaloupes. Chill and cut melons through center. Remove all seeds, and with a Parisian potato baller (which may be purchased in any hardware store) scoop out small balls of each melon and heap on large lettuce-covered plates. Serve very cold, with no kind of dressing. Smaller portions, of only two or three balls of each kind of melon, may be served as cocktails at the beginning of a meal, if desired.

The acids of these fruits are very mild and their combination causes no harm, as in the ordinary fruit salad where the more acid fruits are used and where, dietetically considered, the juices are not compatible.

The Toy Box

A shirtwaist box or wooden chest may be covered with a gay cretonne cover and serve as a holder for the youngster's toys. It is a great aid in keeping the child's room in order and when the child is taught to put them back after playing, mother's troubles are about over.

Rust Spots

Iron rust can usually be removed from lace by using lemon and salt and exposing it to the strong sunlight. However, if this is not wholly successful, why not dip the lace in coffee and make it ecru, thus covering any remains of the rusted portion.

Milk Bottles

After washing milk bottles, do not stand them upside down to drain. Let them stand in their natural position and let the air circulate and dry them. It will keep them much more sweet and fresh.

A Pipe Cleanser

Whenever you use gasoline for cleansing purposes pour the refuse down the sink. The gasoline will cut the grease deposits wonderfully. Pour boiling water down immediately following the gasoline bath.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

SPOON AND CUP FEEDINGS BEGUN BEFORE FIRST YEAR

The use of both spoon and cup by baby himself, in a manner to successfully convey food to his mouth, is not accomplished at any certain day or age. The legitimate use of both of these articles begins when baby can first sit up, and his early introduction to these useful utensils should be as playthings. All babies bang spoons on their feeding trays and tiny cups are one of the first toys. From familiar and untrained use of these to an imitation of the mother's actions, is a step which is rapid if the mother is willing.

Baby can have his cereal and vegetables by spoon from the fifth month on. He can dig his head into a cup and while only a few trickles reach his tummy at first he can acquire more and more liquid in this manner if the mother offers it to him consistently by cup. If he is used to holding a spoon in his hand while his mother is feeding him it won't be long before he is prodding his cereal with it and making an effort to lift a spoonful to his mouth.

These first attempts are always so awkward and messy that the average mother discourages them, preferring her own, neat, competent spoonfuls that reach their destination, instead of baby's, which leave his mouth encrusted with cereal and sticky blobs on bib and floor. But how is baby ever to learn this delicate ceremony unless he practices it? One must shut one's eyes to the inevitable devastation with a view to the future joy of both when baby can feed himself.

BABY PREFERS FEEDING HIMSELF

A child fed by the mother is inevitably indifferent to his food. Opening his mouth automatically while food is shoveled into it deprives the infant of all zest for eating. He prefers his own active efforts, even if half his food is lost in transit. It is by such efforts that baby becomes independent of his mother, an independence which is necessary for his social development. One can only pity the mother who feels it her duty to sit by a child old enough to feed himself and patiently wheedle spoonful after spoonful into his reluctant mouth, interspersing each mouthful with a drink of milk. She is patient, conscientious but very short-sighted, for a baby's whole development depends on her knowledge of when it is right and proper for her to shift responsibilities from her shoulders to his.

Even a six-months-old baby, if he can sit up, is capable of taking large portions of his liquid by cup. By the time he is 1 year old bottles are entirely out of the picture. The old, old excuse that he won't take as much milk by cup as bottle can be used to indefinitely postpone his graduation from infancy to childhood, and retard his mental and physical development in every other particular. If he is given a spoon and cup to play with from an early age, and despite his messy mistakes is allowed to use them usefully he will in a remarkably short time be able to practice the art of feeding happily and expertly all by himself.

GRAYING HAIR
...do you know what it indicates?

Graying hair is the result of lack of pigment in the hair roots. This is a condition that can be counteracted naturally by use of Nourishine, a tonic that stimulates the roots of the hair. Nourishine will tone up the scalp in a number of ways . . . allowing it to perform its functions correctly.

Nourishine cleanses the scalp, banishes the dandruff, and stimulates the roots of the hair. The one liquid restores to any original color, whether blond, brunette or auburn. No harmful ingredients. $1.25 at all drug and dept. stores.

Winch, well-known sportsman, in a talk on "Sportsmanship," while 6:15 will bring Frank Watanabe of Blue Monday Jamboree fame, buying a butler's uniform for himself as a Japanese houseboy. At 6:30 p.m. KNX's Hollywood Theater Studio will be on the air—from backstage. Gwendolyn Moncrieff is to be the featured singer. For fight fans 9:45 p.m. will bring the clash of Buckey Lawless and Babe Anderson at the Hollywood Legion Stadium.

KFWB points to its "Friday Follies" at 2 o'clock this afternoon. This feature offers all of the KFWB studio staff, including Jean Cowan, the Harmony Boys, Billy Van and Tom Brenneman. At 8 tonight Ito Oysta will punish the English language—and promises to repeat his performance on Monday and Friday evenings from 8 to 8:30. "Listen in and have fun with Ito and Chris, Dick and Bill—their offerings are sure to please you," is the station comment on this program.

KMTR will offer songs and music, popular and old-time melodies, during the evening until 8:30, when Hollywood is to tangle with Seattle at Wrigley Field.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Tango selections of early Spanish origin will be featured, along with modern fox trots and waltzes, at George Olsen's new club, Culver City, tonight, when the fourth of the new series of dancing contests will be held with a Cabrillo pouch of $100 in gold to be awarded to the winning couples. This gold will be divided, $50 first prize, $25 second, $15 third, and $10 fourth. The revue also will be presented tonight, with Olsen and his music, George Murphy and Juliette Johnson, dancers, M. Kuznetzoff, Mme. Nicolina and M. Vasiloff, Russian singing trio, Jack Shutta, funster, Bob Rice, troubadour, and Olsen's ensemble of moonkist show girls.

DANCERS AT SILVER SLIPPER

Cortez and Marquis, late of the Corrientes Club, Buenos Aires, are featured nightly at the Silver Slipper Inn, 110 East Market street, the most modern of night clubs. These well-known international dancers come to the Silver Slipper direct from a two-year tour with the R.-K.-O. circuit.

With leaders of the motion-picture industry and scores of stars, directors and theater executives in attendance, Greater Talkie Season will be celebrated in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Monday night, with Harold B. Franklin, president and general manager of Fox West Coast Theaters, as honor guest. A program of entertainment headed by a specially arranged Fanchon and Marco presentation and Ben Bernie's band will be a feature. With the public invited it is indicated that Monday night's event will be a "sell-out." It is reported that tables have been booked by more than 100 film celebrities to date.

Very Handy

A metal clip placed at a convenient height over the kitchen table will be found useful to hold the recipe while mixing is being done. In this way the recipe is kept clean and out of the way during the cooking process.

Fine Patterns

Perhaps you have found a pattern in crocheting or embroidering in a newspaper that you would like to copy, but it is too fine. Try using a magnifying glass and see if you then cannot readily copy the stitches.

EXPERT TO SIFT DEATH OF WIDOW

Sheriff's Laboratory Chief Called Off Vacation to Work on Tujunga Mystery

Frank Gompert, head of the Sheriff's office criminological laboratory, yesterday was assigned by Capt. Bright of the homicide detail to take up the investigation of the death of Mrs. Barbara Doyle, 70 years of age, a widow, whose body was found in her Tujunga home last Monday.

The assignment of Gompert, who was recalled from his vacation, followed the findings of Assistant Autopsy Surgeon Schaefer that Mrs. Doyle came to her death as the result of a hemorrhage following a compound fracture of the bones of the face.

Bright yesterday reiterated a previous statement that there is thus far practically as much evidence pointing to accidental death as murder. Until every available clew is exhausted investigators will proceed on the theory of murder, he said. In this connection, he pointed out, the only unexplainable detail uncovered by officers is fingerprints in blood on a glass in a door and on the floor near the body. Efforts to identify the prints through comparison with persons known to have been at the scene have not been successful.

Gompert today will begin his scientific examinations at the house where the body was found. In the meantime other phases of the investigation will be continued by Deputy Sheriffs Bell and Brewster.

Walter C. Doyle of Buffalo, a son of Mrs. Doyle's, is expected to arrive here from the East, it was learned yesterday.

Head of Home Calls Attention to News Error

F. B. Putnam, president of the Strickland Home for Boys, yesterday called attention to the fact this institution is not a place for subnormal children. His statement was called forth by an article appearing in The Times on the 9th inst. that La Verne McDonald, boy slayer, had been ordered to the Strickland institution, a "school for subnormal children."

"All the boys are wards of Juvenile Court, of grammar school age, and are generally normal physically and mentally," said Mr. Putnam. "Rather than being subnormal, they are quite apt to be above the average in intelligence."

Curtis D. Wilbur, ex-Secretary of the Navy, was the first president of the Strickland Home, which was organized to provide a home for the wards of the Juvenile Court ineligible for the Whittier State School and for other wards where it was not deemed advisable to commit them to the State school. It has been in operation for about sixteen years.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

[Requests for recipes and information pertaining to the proper preparation and serving of foods will be answered in this column every Friday. Address all requests to A. L. Wyman, Laboratory Kitchen, 424 Arden avenue, Glendale.—Ed.]

CHILI CON CARNE

P. B., Los Angeles, Cal. The Mexicans as a usual rule use lard in making up the majority of their dishes. Sometimes oil is used. Chop fine two pounds of clear beef, and place it in a saute pan in which has been melted three tablespoonfuls of hot lard, add two cloves of garlic chopped, one medium-sized onion chopped, and cook slowly for thirty minutes. Add one cupful of tomato, one teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of Spanish seasoning, that has been diluted in half a cupful of hot water. Let simmer gently until the meat is tender, do not let cook too dry, but add a little more water as it is needed. This can be served separately or with cooked California pink beans, or the Mexican bayo beans.

COOKIE DOUGH

I think that you have reference to a cookie dough for pies. Herewith the recipe. It would be impossible to use a cake dough.

Sift two cupfuls of sifted flour, with one teaspoonful of baking powder and half a cupful of sugar, rub into this four tablespoonfuls of butter, and when like coarse meal, mix to a smooth dough with one slightly beaten egg and half a cupful of cold milk. Place in the ice box for three hours before using.

PECAN OR BUTTERSCOTCH ROLLS

Two cupfuls of flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, six tablespoonfuls of shortening, two-thirds of a cupful of milk. Sift the flour, baking powder and the salt together, chop in the shortening and add the milk to make a fairly soft dough, place on a board and roll out in a long sheet, about one-fourth of an inch thick, spread with creamed butter and sprinkle with brown sugar, and chop pecan meats, roll up like a jelly roll, cut off small pieces, stand them on end in a well-buttered pan and bake in a hot oven for fifteen minutes.

OATMEAL SCONES

Two cupfuls of flour, two cupfuls of oatmeal, one tablespoonful of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt, five level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two eggs. Sift the flour, baking powder, sugar and salt together, chop in the three tablespoonfuls of shortening, then add the two beaten eggs, add enough sweet milk to make a rather soft dough, knead a little, divide into five pieces, then roll them out and cut them in small cakes. Lay them on an oiled tin, brush with beaten egg and bake in a hot oven for ten minutes.

VEGETABLE RECIPE

A. E., Los Angeles, Calif.: Have been giving you some recipes for vegetables in the regular daily column, as it is almost impossible to do so in this column.

SCALLOPED CLAMS

Place a layer of the whole clams in the bottom of a well-buttered baking dish, cover with a layer of fine bread crumbs, dust with paprika, and dot with bits of butter, continue this method until all the clams have been used, then pour over one and one-half cupfuls of a thin, rich cream sauce, which has been made with part clam liquor and thick cream. Cover with grated cheese and bake in a medium oven for thirty minutes. There are many other ways of using clams. They are nice in cocktails as well.

MUSTARD SAUCE

Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter in a small sauce pan, stir in three tablespoonfuls of flour, stir and cook until smooth, slowly add one cupful of hot water, or the same amount of stock that the fish was boiled in, and stir until the mixture boils. Mix one tablespoonful of strained lemon juice, with one teaspoonful of mustard, add one teaspoonful of French mustard, and combine with the other mixture. Beat until smooth, remove from the fire and add two tablespoonfuls of cream.

WAFFLES

B. R., Los Angeles, Calif.: I do not send recipes by mail. All answers to questions are given through this column every Friday.

Sift one and one-half cupfuls of sifted flour with four tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, three level teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, and one teaspoonful of sugar. Beat the yolks of three eggs until light and add to them three-quarters of a cupful of rich milk and one-half cupful of cream. Beat well, then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the three eggs, add one tablespoonful of melted butter, beat well and bake in a hot waffle iron.

CHEESE LOAF

W. W., Huntington Beach, Cal.: One cupful of grated cheese, one cupful of chopped walnut meats, one cupful of bread crumbs, two eggs, one tablespoonful of butter, three tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, two tablespoonfuls of chopped onion, a seasoning of salt, and paprika. Cook the onions in the butter, add two tablespoonfuls of water and cook until tender. Mix the other ingredients all together, adding the well-beaten egg yolks, add the onion and the water it was cooked in, beat the whites until stiff, fold them into the mixture, place in a baking dish and bake until brown.

VANILLA ICE CREAM

C. E. W., Huntington Park, Cal.: Three quarts of milk, eight tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, three cupfuls of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt, four eggs, four teaspoonfuls of vanilla and one pint of cream. Mix the sugar and salt and cornstarch together, add the milk gradually to the mixture, place in the double boiler and cook slowly, stirring constantly, for twenty minutes. Remove from the fire and gradually add to the mixture the well-beaten eggs, allow to cool, add the cream and flavoring. Strain into the freezer and freeze.

A Test for Freshness

If the ham you have bought does not look just right to you, run a clean knife into the ham, right close to the center knuckle. If it comes out sweet and odorless the ham is good, but if the knife is smeary and has a strong odor the ham is not fit for use.

MURDER-HALTED TRIAL RESUMED

Hearing of Selznick Suit on Bank Loan Goes On

Motley Flint Slain Month Ago by Keaton

Film Producer Contending Dividends Paid Pledge

Trial of the suit of David O. Selznick against the Los Angeles-First National Trust and Savings Bank was resumed yesterday, exactly one month after it was interrupted sensationally by the murder of Motley H. Flint in Superior Judge Collier's court. Flint, formerly an officer of the bank, had just completed his examination and was leaving the counsel inclosure when Frank D. Keaton shot him dead. Keaton asserted he had lost heavily on investments advised by Flint, an accusation disproved by records.

Immediately following the killing, Judge Collier, who arrested the slayer, adjourned the Selznick case until yesterday. It was said the long-drawn-out trial, begun April 8, will end today.

Selznick, a motion-picture producer, is suing to recover 1000 shares of United Studio stock, placed in 1922 with the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings Bank, since merged into the defendant bank, as security for a loan. The plaintiff estimates the value of the stock at $150,000 and asserts that dividends of nearly $100,000 have been paid, thereby clearing off the loan. The bank opposes this view of the transaction, contending the loan was not taken up.

Attorneys Barry Brannen and George Clark represent Selznick and Attorney W. A. Bowen represents the bank.

Yesterday's session was devoted to cross-examination of Ned Lovett, an accountant, regarding whether all amounts received by the bank could be traced and by reading of many of the hundreds of documents introduced as exhibits.

DEATH RELIEVES SCALDED CHILD

Three-Year-Old Boy Dies of Burns Caused by Boiling Water

Succumbing to second-degree burns of the upper portion of his body which he sustained last Monday, Robbert Wright, 3 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wright, 3666 Aureola street, died yesterday in the Children's Hospital.

The child, according to Deputy Sheriffs Darwin and Gilmore, was burned when he overturned a pan of boiling starch water on himself in the laundry room of his home.

Federal Bureau Chief Praises Fruit Exchange

High praise of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange and pledge of continued co-operation with it by the United States Bureau of Plant Industry was voiced yesterday by Dr. William Taylor, head of the bureau, who is on a tour of California. Dr. Taylor expressed similar sentiments in an address before the board of directors of the fruit exchange last Wednesday.

"There is a lesson in farm relief for many agricultural groups in the way the California citrus growers have stuck together in this exchange and brought the industry to its present state of development and prosperity," said Dr. Taylor.

DUNN RITES IN CHARGE OF MASONS

Ex-Kansan Had Been in "Times - Mirror" Service for Twenty-three Years

CHARLES M. DUNN

Charles Meigs Dunn, 70 years of age, for twenty-three years an employee of The Times-Mirror Printing and Binding House, died yesterday after two weeks' illness at his home, 3606 Farris Drive, Palms.

Throughout his long service he had been held in high regard by his associates.

Mr. Dunn had been employed in the composing room of The Times - Mirror. He had been acting foreman and at times had charge of the composing room desk. He was a member of Craftsman's Lodge, F. & A. M.

Born at Minneapolis, Kan., he came to Los Angeles in 1905, entering the employ of The Times-Mirror two years later. He leaves his widow, Blanche, and a son, Charles B. Dunn.

Craftsman's Lodge will have charge of the services at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the Herbert S. Noice & Sons Funeral Parlor at Culver City. Burial will be in Inglewood Cemetery.

SISTER OF ACTRESS TO WED NEW YORKER

Annette Sleeper, sister of Martha Sleeper, film actress, and herself in pictures a year or so ago, will be married early in September to Horace Stephen Tuthill, Jr., of New York. The couple filed their notice of intention to wed here yesterday. The bride-to-be gave her age as 23 years while he is 25. Tuthill is connected with a New York financial institution. The wedding will be at the home of the bride's uncle, J. J. Murdock, in Beverly Hills.

YOUNG SCORED IN TAX DISPUTE

Governor Asked to Clarify Stand on New Law

Fitts Pledges Change in Act, Says Radio Speaker

Oil Companies' Small Levies by State Mentioned

It is not a question of city and county taxes that Buron Fitts has called Gov. Young to account for, but instead State taxes, which in cases of certain banks and large oil companies have been reduced to absurd sums, declared Antonio Entenza, Los Angeles veterans' leader, in a radio talk last night replying to Gov. Young's attempted justification of the present assertedly inequitable tax laws.

Entenza, who spoke in behalf of Buron Fitts, Los Angeles District Attorney and former Lieutenant-Governor and candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, pleaded for a clarification by the Governor of this matter, pointing out that the $4,000,000 paid by large oil companies in 1929 was for city and county taxes alone and not for State taxes.

"INIQUITOUS SYSTEM"

"In replying to Gov. Young tonight," said the speaker, "I trust that I shall be able to clear the atmosphere of the confusion concerning this matter that has come from the efforts of the Governor and his aides to defend the iniquitous tax system now in effect and for which they accept responsibility.

"I realize that my reply is made in answer to the arguments of high-salaried officials, flanking the Governor—gentlemen who may fall into the error of prejudice, since the continuation of the Young administration means their political life and positions at salaries generally fixed at $10,000 a year in each instance.

"Buron Fitts has charged that Gov. Young, at an expenditure of $150,000, caused to be drafted by a commission of specially selected men, advised by a tax expert at $100 per day, who formerly was the financial and tax adviser of the American Bankers' Association, a law which completely reorganized the tax system of California.

AUTHORITIES CITED

"Buron Fitts is supported by Edward F. Treadwell in the California Law Review of July, published by the University of California, and by other authorities, in his assertion that since 1910, California operated under a tax law that was a model of perfection and which in twenty years had not been disturbed by the appellate courts of our State. Under this law our taxes increased from $10,000,000 to $45,000,000. He says that a substitute law, such as the Young law of 1929, has not become necessary and that no exigency existed to make an adjustment expedient or even advisable.

"Gov. Young and his apologists for the law state that Buron Fitts has recanted and that he has been unable to sustain his charges. Buron Fitts has not recanted and he invites every interested voter to inquire fully into the facts to determine whether or not his charges are justified.

RELIEF PROMISED

"Buron Fitts has not recanted, but he promises, if elected, to amend the present law so as to place the burden of taxation where it properly belongs and where it rested prior to the tax tinkering of Gov. Young and his commission. He promises to restore the power of the State Board of Equalization, a body elected by and responsible to the people.

"In 1929 the six major oil companies paid only $25 each under the Young law. But the Governor says that these oil companies paid more than $4,000,000 in taxes in 1929. That is true, but it was for city and county taxes and not State taxes. They will continue to pay approximately this amount for city and county taxes regardless of Young's new tax law, but will continue to pay only $25 each per year for State taxes until the Young tax law is changed. These facts are plainly set forth in the July issue of the University of California Law Review. Buron Fitts has also pointed out that there is a loss of more than $4,000,000 annually from bank taxes under the Young system."

In closing, Entenza reminded his listeners that Gov. Young admits spending $139,000,000 more of the people's money than his predecessor and that Buron Fitts charges that such increase is unjustified.

BURKHART APPEAL TRANSCRIPT FILED

A transcript of Superior Court proceedings at the trial of William H. Burkhart on a charge of having slain his wife, Ann McKnight Burkhart, 22 years of age, was filed in the Supreme Court yesterday as a preliminary step in Burkhart's appeal from a death sentence. Burkhart is asserted to have shot his wife on March 24, last.

DOG SHOWS GOOD TASTE BUT LACK OF BREEDING

Out in the Kalmia-street neighborhood several families had been annoyed by an early morning prowler who had an especial penchant for The Times. They could find no fault with his choice of reading matter, but they saw no reason why they should contribute their copies regularly every morning to satisfy a perfect stranger's news yearnings. And furthermore, what would one reader want with several copies?

So, three victims took matters into their own hands. H. W. Hempstead of 9317, R. Battersey of 9316, and E. C. Roberts of 9407 Kalmia street took turns rising in the wee small hours of the cold, gray dawn to wait for the culprit and catch him red-handed.

And this is what they saw. About 5 a.m. the thief came slinking down the street, passed disdainfully by the publications on other lawns of the street, gathered in his three copies of The Times and disappeared in the darkness. The injured parties tried in vain to stop this vandalism before appealing to the law. They pleaded and threatened, but still the early morning thefts continued and at length the situation was reported to the Sheriff's office.

Deputy Sheriff Mayhew was detailed to apprehend the thief, but his chase promised to be more difficult than one might think from a first glance, for the only description which the residents of the district have been able to give of the intruder is that he has four legs, reddish brown hair, barks and is of a decidedly mongrel character.

Mayhew's investigation took him to a lumber yard at Ninety-fifth and Alameda streets, where he found a great mound of copies of The Times piled up behind some lumber, and then to the home of the dog's owner, who promised to keep the incorrigible tied up in the future. The residents decided to pursue the matter no further.

ARTISTS TO HEAR TALK OF BARNES

Candidate for Congress will Attend Salon Given by Portrait Painter

A group of artists, writers and musicians who are sponsoring George H. Barnes for Representative in Congress will be the guests of Mme. Ivy de Verley, portrait painter, at her Monday afternoon salon where Mr. Barnes will make a brief address.

Mme. De Verley, who is a painter of trees as well as portraits, declares that if adequate measures are not adopted to save trees that not only great economic, but tremendous cultural loss will result. "Beauty is the world's greatest civilizing force," said Mme. De Verley, "and in fighting to save the trees Mr. Barnes has allied himself with the artist as strongly as with the practical conservationist and the economist."

Alyse Whitaker Kimball, writer, declares that trees are the greatest inspiration which a writer has and that the world's greatest poets and philosophers have come from countries where trees abounded.

Julia Bracken Wendt, sculptor, says: "The tree more closely resembles the human body than anything else in nature and to me the unnecessary cutting down of a tree is murder. I am for the man who is fighting for the forests."

Blanche Upright, novelist and playwright, declares that the things which Mr. Barnes is sponsoring are the most fundamental in life. "Our breath, our climate our water supply all depend on the tree. It is an universal benefactor."

Besides these, many others will indorse Mr. Barnes at Mme. De Verley's on Monday. Among them are Mrs. B. B. McCollum, Mrs. John Brooks Wright, Mrs. Katherine Weaver, Mrs. John C. Spaulding, Miss Lois Leeson and Belle Bennett, motion-picture actress.

Mexican Laws Cited to Get Ties Annulled

Tia Juana marriages of minors are void unless parents or guardians consent, it was shown yesterday to Superior Judge Yankwich. He had refused Wednesday to grant Mrs. Evelyn N. Ion, 17 years of age, an annulment of her marriage with Edwin F. Ion, contracted June 15, 1929, at Tia Juana, until he could be shown that the law of Lower California forbids minors to contract marriages without parental consent. Attorney Gordon M. Gale yesterday produced the Mexican code.

After reading the law prescribing parental consent for persons under 21 years of age, Judge Yankwich granted an annulment.

Noted Jockey Hurt in Fall; May Not Ride

NOTTINGHAM (Eng.) Aug. 14. (AP)—Little Steve Donoghue, credited with being one of the greatest jockeys the world ever has known, may never ride again. Donoghue, who rode six Derby winners, three of them in succession, is in a nursing home here with his right leg broken in two places just above the ankle as a result of his fall from Pamplona in Monday's races. King George has sent a personal message to Steve to cheer him.

ANGELS IN WIN OVER SENATORS

Ed Baecht Allows but Four Hits as Seraphs Cop, 4 to 1

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 14. (AP)—The veteran Ed Baecht pitched the Los Angeles Angels to a 4-to-1 win over the Sacramento Solons here tonight before an estimated ladies' night gathering of 10,000 Baecht allowed only four hits and struck out seven men, outpitching the Solon southpaw, Tom Flynn, who allowed seven hits.

Baecht had a shutout in sight until the ninth when the Sacs loaded the bases with none down and were finally able to squeeze over one score on Ray Rohwer's sacrifice fly. Wes Schulmerich hit his second home run of the series for the Angels. Score:

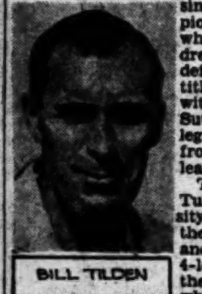
DAVIS CUP ACE QUITS TOURNEY

Right Leg Bothers Tennis King in Match

Sutter Takes Default from Former Champion

Gledhill, Vines Score Over Veteran Players

RYE (N. Y.) Aug. 14. (AP)—Big Bill Tilden took his turbulent personality out of the eastern grass courts singles championship today, when he withdrew from the defense of his title in a match with Clifford Sutter, intercollegiate champion from New Orleans.



BILL TILDEN

The youthful Tulane University star had won the first set, 6-1, and was leading 4-love, love-15 in the second set when Big Bill took offense at the heckling of the crowd, which packed its way into the bleachers at the Westchester Country Club. Preceding Tilden's walkout, the referee frequently requested the crowd from showing any signs of partisanship. As the ace of the American Davis Cup team left the court, he said: "I can't stand this any longer."

Tilden, throughout the match, limped and let ordinary easy returns drop for placements to Sutter's credit. After several such plays a portion of the crowd began to laugh at the lanky Philadelphian's style. Two or three times before defaulting he paused and cast his famous "glare" in the direction of the hecklers.

DODGES ALIBI

After the match Tilden refused to blame his showing on a bad leg, although he fell yesterday and was under a masseur's care two hours before taking the court today. Later, however, he admitted to Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion, that his right leg bothered him.

After a short rest Tilden took the court with his doubles partner, Francis T. Hunter of New Rochelle but the veteran combination lost to Keith Gledhill, Santa Barbara, Cal., and Ellsworth Vines, Jr., Pasadena, Cal., national junior doubles champion. The score was 6-2, 4-6 6-4, and placed the youthful west coast pair in the semifinals.

Hunter also lost in his singles match, falling before Johnny Van Ryn, East Orange, N. J., 6-1, 6-2.

Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., and Berkeley Bell of Austin, Tex., were the other favorites to come through to the semifinal. Mangin turned back Ted Burwell, Charlotte (N. C.) youth, 6-3, 6-4, while Bell managed to eliminate the young Harvard freshman, Richard Murphy of Utica, N. Y., 4-6, 7-5, 8-6.

The survivors in women's singles today were the two Californians, Miss Marjorie Gladman, Santa Monica, and Miss Helen Marlowe of Los Angeles; the Italian entry, Baroness Giacomo Levi of Rome and Miss Clara Louise Zinke of Cincinnati.

UPLIFTER FOUR AGAIN BOWS TO SANTA BARBARA

Santa Barbara poloists, led by Long Jim Colt, galloped to their second straight victory over Uplifters' horsemen when they copped a 13-to-9 game from the Santa Monica four at Rustic Canyon field yesterday. The game, which was witnessed by the largest week-day turnout of fans this summer at a polo game, was hard fought for the first four chukkers, but after that the all-around team play of the Channel City team began to tell and Colt's outfit rode on to another triumph. The Santa Barbara four won the opening game of the series staged last Sunday.

JIM COLT.

Colt, a high-goal player, was again the star of the game. Jim, a long, gangling fellow, who rides his ponies as easily as the average man hits in an over-stuffed davenport, was here, there and everywhere yesterday. He scooped the white pill up time and time again when it seemed the Uplifters were about to shoot it for a goal. Colt registered five tallies for the winning four.

Lionel Pedley was the leading scorer for the losers, but Snowy Baker, Will Rogers, Jr., and Clair Brunson showed up well during the mallet battle. At half time the score was 6 to 3, but from that time on the Channel City riders started to run away from the Uplifters. In the seventh chukker they banged across four goals, leaving no doubt in the spectators' minds as to the outcome of the game.

Sunday the Uplifters will revamp their line-up. T. Lyell Puckett will take time away from his business of selling automobiles long enough to climb into a saddle and handle the No. 1 position, while Pedley will go to No. 2, Snowy Baker will play No. 3, and Clair Brunson at back.

LONG CRUISE ENDED

Southern California Junior Games Champions End Triumphant Tour of Latin America

BY JOHN F. NESS

Joe Andrade, national title-holder; Sam Waxman, Johnny Lee and Louis Haley, Southern California Junior Olympic Games champions, returned home yesterday morning from a 10,000-mile tour through the United States, South America, Central America and Mexico as guests of the Los Angeles Times.

These youngsters, who competed in the national finals at Atlantic City and who incidentally won the Junior Olympic Games championships of Salvador on their way home, introduced the juvenile pentathlon in South America, Panama, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Guatemala and Salvador as the first kid ambassadors of good will to ever visit our Latin American neighbors, and as testimony of their ability the custom officers fumbled through more curios when the Panama Mail liner Venezuela docked, than they have for the past month. Some of the big shots in their kits were Haley's sword which has killed its quota of bulls in the cities along the Spanish main; Johnny Lee's Mayan relic from the mountain fasts of Guatemala, Joe Andrade's new red, green and yellow Salvadorian shoes and Sam Waxman's Spanish shawl to say nothing of enough pottery to stock a shop.

JOHN F. NESS.

One of the great honors of the twenty-eight-day ocean voyage was bestowed on the group early yesterday morning when Capt. Walter N. Prengel, commander of the Venezuela, allowed the youngsters to stand upon the bridge, a spot on the liner which is taboo to all but seafaring men and probably the only part of the ship that hasn't been thoroughly explored by the Junior Olympic travelers.

BRICKLAYER BUYS INTO GIANT CLUB

Former Laborer Becomes Second Largest Owner of Ball Club Stock

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—J. Henry McNally, New York contractor who is said to have laid some 30,000,000 brick during a long and active career, has become the second largest stockholder of the New York Giants.

McNally has bought the stock of William F. Kenny, who held 20 per cent, and by other purchases increased his holdings from 3 per cent to 30 per cent.

Charles A. Stoneham, president of the club, controls more than 50 per cent of the stock. Kenny bought his 20 per cent interest about one year ago from the estate of J. M. Conant and A. H. Soden in Boston.

John J. McGraw, manager of the Giants, is understood to own 3 per cent and Frank M. Stevens and Harry Stevens, the refreshment concessionaires, have 1 per cent.

Sometimes known as "King of the Bricklayers," McNally has played a part in the construction of some of New York's largest buildings, first as an active bricklayer and later as a contractor.

Carnera Gets Sharkey Go in Chicago Ring

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—Jack Sharkey and Primo Carnera today signed to fight at Chicago on or about September 29 in a ten-round bout with Mique Malloy as the promoter. The terms on which the fighters signed were not disclosed, but it is understood that Sharkey is to receive $100,000 or 30 per cent of the gate, while the Italian giant will enter the ring on a strictly percentage basis of 25 per cent.

BILL DOEG SURPRISES ON COURT

Teams with Myers to Win Pair of Matches in Title Tennis Tournament

CULVER (Ind.) Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—Harry Myers and Billy Doeg, Santa Monica, Cal., youngster, stole the show in the national junior tennis championships here today, winning their way into the finals of the junior doubles after upsetting two seeded teams. They smeared Karl Kamrath and Joe Bill Bralley, Austin, Tex., the second seeded pair, 6-2, 11-9, in the quarter-finals and polished off William Jacobs, Baltimore, and Kendall Cram, Nashville, in the semifinals, 6-4, 8-6. Doeg is the young brother of Johnny Doeg, Davis Cup star.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—The brawny right arm of Perce Lay Malone throttled the Brooklyn Robins to a mere chirp today and derricked the Cubs back into a full game lead in the bitter fight for the National League pennant.

PAT MALONE.

Backed by faultless support and bunched hits early in the struggle that carried him over the top, the big fireman from Altoona, Pa., gave Uncle Wilbert Robinson's warriors just eight scattered blows and conquered them, 5 to 1, in the third game of the first-place series. Thirty-eight thousand spectators gave him a big ovation as he waded through the Flatbush ranks with his famous smoke ball that never worked more effectively.

He struck out six, walked but three and permitted but one man to reach third up until the final inning.

But for a careless let-up in the ninth inning Malone would have daubed the whitewash on the Robins. Rube Bressler opened the inning with a meek single and when the next two batters flied out Bressler was permitted to jog around to third base without a play. Then Johnny Frederick came through

Braves, Cardinals Divide Pair of Battles

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—Earl Whitehill of Detroit established a new season's winning record for major-league pitchers today as he made it ten straight by hurling the Tigers to a 5-to-1 victory over the Yankees.

Whitehill let the Yanks down with seven hits and struck out eleven batsmen. Sam Byrd's home run in the fourth saved New York from a shutout. Elias Funk decided the contest in the fifth by hitting a triple with the bases full.

FERRELL HERO

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14. (AP)—Wes Ferrell, star pitcher of the Cleveland Indians, turned in his twentieth victory of the season against the Athletics today, the Redskins winning by 15 to 0. The triumph was also Cleveland's first of the year in eleven games played in Philadelphia. Eddie Morgan hit a home run and a single in the fifth, accounting for three tallies.

EVEN STEPHEN

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 14. (AP)—The Boston Braves and the St. Louis Cardinals split a double-header here today, the Cards taking the first game, with a ninth-inning rally, 4 to 3, and the Braves winning the nightcap, 3 to 2, behind the effective pitching of old Tom Zachary.

In winning the first game St. Louis extended their latest winning streak to six straight. A two-run rally made possible by Jimmy Wilson's single in the ninth gave them the game after they had trailed since the second inning, when Mancuso's home run with one on counted the tallies.

Zachary held the Red Birds to ten scattered hits, but his mates made their eight blows in the second game count for more runs. Grimes was the losing pitcher.

FOOTBALL ONLY MONTH AWAY

September 15 Day for Opening Turnouts in Pacific Coast Conference; Spears and Phelan to Raise Caliber of Grid Game in Great Northwest

BY BRAVEN DYER

TODAY, which is August 15, may not mean much to the average citizen, but the footballically inclined populace knows that the dawn of a new season is only one month away. Pacific Coast Conference teams turn out September 15 and as that day draws nearer interest in the greatest of all sports will go on mounting.

JIMMY PHELAN

"DOC" SPEARS

It looks like Stanford, Southern California and California as the class of the Coast Conference again. There's no getting away from the fact that material, such as flocks to these three institutions, helps a lot. Add the names of Glenn Warner, Howard Jones and Nibs Price and you have tough teams to beat.

Stanford and Southern California will be popular favorites, but after what the Bears have done to S.C. two years running Price must receive full consideration. And if you could back Warner or Jones into a corner and make 'em talk you would know how these two great coaches are scheming and planning to put the skids under each other in that game at Palo Alto on October 25. There will be plenty of fireworks popping before that battle.

Washington State gives promise of having a great eleven. Howard Jones conducted a coaching school at Pullman this summer and naturally talked football with Cougar officials. "And I didn't hear any of them apologizing for their team," said the Trojan mentor. Which probably means the Cougars are laying for somebody, perhaps the Trojans, who are to be played in the great Northwest on October 11. Washington State would probably appreciate some wet weather, which wouldn't be to Troy's liking at all.

The coming of Doc Spears to Oregon and Jimmy Phelan to Washington is bound to raise the caliber of football played in the Northwest. I look for Phelan to make a better showing than Spears right off the bat. Jimmy may lose more games than Doc, for he has a tougher schedule. The Huskies will have one of the greatest halfbacks on the Coast this year—Merle Hufford, the dashing young star, who registered more than 70 yards against the Trojans last fall. That's a lot of yardage when made against Jones's linemen.

Playing around on these miniature golf courses one bumps into a lot of people. I saw Bill Blewett at Glenn Doughty's Varsity course three nights running. Speaking of Blewett brings to mind that great play in which he featured against Southern California in 1922.

The Trojans had been holding California splendidly. Gus Henderson's famous line defense was working well and it looked like anybody's game midway in the second quarter. The Bears got the ball to S.C.'s 30-yard line. Time was called and Andy Smith motioned for a substitute. In he went at halfback. The chap was Bill Blewett, California's star drop-kicker. Bill dusted off the turf at approximately 45 yards from the goal. He tossed off his headgear, got all set for the boot, which everybody expected, and then the ball was shot back—not to Blewett but to Hoggy Evans, Bear quarterback. Evans faked a plunge, drawing the Trojans to one side, and then flipped the ball back to Blewett. Bill, in turn, ran to the right and then stopped. Whirling quickly he shot the ball far down the field, diagonally across the Trojan secondary, into the waiting arms of Don Nichols, who scampered to the goal line unhindered.

It was a great play and caught the Trojans napping. California went on to win the game, 13 to 7.

Blewett is now coaching the Los Angeles fire department team. Brother Johnny mentors the San Diego marines. Brother Jim coaches at Manual Arts High School. Brother Dick is football chief at Santa Rosa. Quite a family of football heroes.

The Hollywood Legion bobs up with a good fight tonight featuring Bucky Lawless and Babe Anderson. Lawless is one of the rising young welterweights of the East and was good enough to trim Young Jack Thompson. Anderson is a puncher himself so there should be plenty of fireworks.

Gene Doyle, batting for Matchmaker Gallery, who is on vacation, moved the Lawless-Anderson scrap ahead when Goldie Hess could not go through with tonight's main event. Lawless and Anderson were originally billed to headline next week's card, but Doyle, who is a wise old bird in the sports racket, puts them on tonight rather than give the public what might be a poor substitute bout at the last minute.

The greatest lesson to be learned from athletics, particularly those of the so-called amateur variety, is that of self-control. Bill Tilden has been in the racket a long time. His stunt of running out of a match yesterday when he didn't like the antics of spectators is only further indication that Bill, although long in years of athletic experience, apparently has not yet learned the primary lesson of all competitive sports. The average chap, particularly when behind as Bill was, would not pull such a stunt. But there's nothing average about Bill.

SUNSHINE PLEASES RAILROAD LEADERS

OGDEN (Utah) Aug. 14. (AP)—Sunshine today after a week of rain cheered the committees working to make the Union Pacific System athletic meet here tomorrow and Saturday a success. The new athletic field began drying out. Special trains of contestants will arrive tonight from Los Angeles and Portland. A gigantic parade tomorrow will open the meet.

GOSLIN LEADS FOUTS

D. H. Goslin forged into the lead in his 18.2 billiard match with Robert Fouts for the State championship yesterday by scoring 250 points to Fouts's 221, in the fourth block of play at the Stevens Billiard Parlor. Goslin now has a lead of 1000 points to Fouts's 989. The final block is to be played today.

ment, eliminated Miss Dorothy Andrus, Stamford, Ct., 6-1, 7-5, while Miss Marlowe disposed of Miss Alice Francis, Orange, N. J., 6-2, 6-8, 6-4. Miss Zinke scored an upset when she turned back Miss Mary Greef of Kansas City, 8-6, 7-5.

A foreign threat appeared in the men's doubles when H. G. N. Lee and S. J. Perry of England defeated Fritiz Mercur of Bethlehem, Pa., and J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., 6-1, 6-3. Bell and Eddie Jacobs of Baltimore also went into the semifinals by disposing of Wilbur Coen, Jr., of Kansas City and Harris Coggshell of Des Moines, Iowa, 6-2, 6-2.

JOE BITTO KAYOES MOORE IN FOURTH

Joe Bitto scored a four-round technical knockout over Tom Moore in the main event at Culver City last night. A bad cut over Moore's left eye caused the referee to stop the fight. Bitto had his man on the floor in the third and fourth rounds. In the semi-wind-up Johnny Crevis stopped Oriel Esfudillo in the first round. Herb Russell won the decision from Rudy Mendoza in the special and Charlie Von Storth decisioned Al Cruise in the second spot. Leon Thompson kayoed Antonio Flores in the second round of the curtain raiser.

JUNIOR CHAMPS RETURN HOME

lore on the visit to the seven foreign countries, the young champion athletes were kept busy with demonstrations and meets in the various nations visited, and according to many of the leading officials of the South and Latin Americas the future will see an annual Junior Olympic Games meet held in Los Angeles, at which youngsters of all the countries will vie for honors. This international idea which has struck such a popular chord even in Europe was sponsored by The Times which conducts the Junior Olympic Games in Southern California each year.

While the welcoming home of the boys by their parents was a happy event, the parting from each other was rather sad. Louis Haley left for San Bernardino, Joe Andrade embarked for Mexicali, Johnny Lee to Highland Park and Sam Waxman to Echo Park and these kids have formed such a close bond of friendship during the month and a half that they have been together that it was a great lesson to the scores of men and women who watched them bid each other good-by. Our boys were also visibly affected when they waved back at our four Hawaiian champions who have accompanied the party on the entire tour and for the information of those not familiar with the results of the national finals, the four Southern California boys and the four Hawaiian youngsters captured two national titles, broke a score of world's records, took nine out of ten silver cups and twenty-six out of thirty medals and comprised the greatest aggregation of boy athletes ever assembled.

Plans are being made by civic clubs in the districts where the boys live to give them official welcomes today. At the border Calexico and Mexicali will join in a twin-city demonstration for Joe Andrade, Mexican lad who won the national junior title.

Just before parting the youngsters gathered and paid a splendid tribute to Coach Arthur A. Dietz, who has actually fathered the boys almost every minute since they left Los Angeles. His work in bringing Joe Andrade to the top in the junior division was remarkable and his untiring, benevolent influence on the boys on the entire trip contributed to its success.

So finale is written to the 1930 Junior Olympic Games program as preliminary steps are being taken to make the 1931 program of the Los Angeles Times athletic event greater than ever. So moves that which is successful.

HAWAIIAN BOYS GLOOMY OVER PARTING

BY EZ CRANE
Director Hawaiian Junior Olympic Games

The first gloom clouds since the Venezuela steamed out of New York Harbor on July 19 settled over the Junior Olympic Games forces from Southern California and Hawaii this morning when the Panama Mail liner warped into her berth at Wilmington and the sturdy band of eight great juvenile athletic champions parted company.

Friendships, born in the heat of national competition and fostered on a glorious twenty-eight-day voyage through Latin-American waters, were firm enough this morning to bring tears to the eyes of Joe Andrade, national junior champion from Calexico. "Cupie" Yamamoto, national senior champion from Hawaii, and their running mates, all of whom placed high in the annual classic and all of whom will never forget their days together.

Athletic competition, when it begets such results, is doubly worth while, and had California and Hawaii returned empty-handed in so far as championship laurels are concerned, the trip would have been a marvelous success.

ELKS PICKED TO WIN FROM PETE PACHECO

Tommy Elks, Mexican welterweight champion, will be a slight favorite over Pete Pacheco when he defends his title against the Denver Mexican at the Main-street tomorrow night. Two other six-round bouts, both of main-event caliber, are on the card. Joe Borola and Johnny Chrismas are slated to meet for the fourth time. Joe Schlocker meets Happy Romero at 147 pounds. Four-round bouts scheduled are Tony Ross vs. Delfin Buayaban, 120 pounds; Frank Rudzenski vs. Lafe Pearson, 200 pounds; Charles Van Storch vs. Glen Thompson, 170 pounds.

BRADLEY HORSES TO BE AUCTIONED

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—Fifteen horses from the western division of E. R. Bradley's stable will be sold at public auction at Hawthorne the 21st inst. The thoroughbreds which will be offered are Blind Love, Big Star, By Mistake, Black Foot, Boiling, Bugs Leary, Big Joke, Bubble Weight, Brass Monkey, Blunder, Bug Hunter, Burning Up, Black Bull, Byaninch and Buttered Toast.

QUEST WINS CLOSE RACE FROM THISBE

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) Aug. 14. (AP) The Canadian challenger Quest won by the slim margin of eight seconds today from the American yacht Thisbe in a neck-and-neck finish, making it two each in the series of races for the Canada's Cup.

MERINO AFTER KAYO

Freddie Merino, Compton 130-pounder, will go after his sixteenth straight knockout at the Compton club tonight when he meets Frankie Frisco in the wind-up of the thirty-round card. They are scheduled to go six rounds. There are two other sixes on the card, Frankie Burnell taking on Vic McNeal at 158 pounds and Joe Rivers meeting Pete Cardenez at 130 pounds.

Wolgast and Genaro Title Go Scheduled

Midget Wolgast will defend his flyweight championship against Frankie Genaro in New York late next month or early in October. This was definitely settled yesterday when Johnny Keyes, manager of the Midget, wired confirmation of the title bout.

MIDGET WOLGAST

Genaro is yet to be signed, but is said to be willing to accept the bout. The N. B. A., which sponsors Genaro, has ordered him to meet Wolgast within the next sixty days or be declared off the list.

Wolgast is to receive 37½ per cent and Genaro the customary 12½. Keyes has asked $20,000 flat for Wolgast to defend his crown on the Coast.

The Wolgast crowd believes that Newsboy Brown will be decisively eliminated next Tuesday night when he meets the whirling Philadelphian. This feeling is not shared by Californians who once saw Brown win from the Filipino by a technical knockout.

Brown is in splendid shape for this fight. He has beaten Genaro twice. He also holds decisions over Izzy Schwartz and Frenchy Belanger.

While some believe that Brown cannot make 112 pounds and be strong he denies it. He must scale over 112 and under 114 for Tuesday night's fight.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams yesterday received a new angle on Paolino Uzcudun, being sought as Mickey Walker's opponent for the Wrigley Field card September 15.

Lou Brix, acting for Billy Gibson, said they were favorable to a Walker fight here providing the Basque didn't get the Max Schmeling match in Berlin. This latter heavyweight bout is in the air with Joe Jacobs preferring Paolino as the opposition instead of Young Stribling.

Paolino looks with favor on California since it was here he drew his largest American purse, receiving $37,000 for fighting George Godfrey.

Wadhams is also feeling out Al Morro and Armand Emanuel for a rematch on the open-air show.

Ducks Collect in Last Frame

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. (AP)—With two out in the ninth inning Portland made a three-run rally and defeated the San Francisco Seals 5 to 3 today. An error by Wingo, Seal left fielder, and five hits enabled Portland to snatch the game out of the fire after Turpin had pitched good ball for eight innings. Score:

WOMAN MAY ANNEX TULSA BALL TEAM

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 14. (AP)—Sam Dreyfuss, vice-president of the Pittsburgh National League baseball club, said today Mrs. Lucille Thomas of Tulsa, Okla., was negotiating for purchase of the franchise of the Western League club at Wichita, Kan., a Pirate "farm." Mrs. Thomas was understood here to have offered $30,000 for the Wichita franchise. Should she purchase it she would be the second woman to own a minor league team, the other being Miss Florence Killilea of the Milwaukee American Association club.

FOLLOW THROUGH COLLECTS PLATE

KEMPTON PARK (Eng.) Aug. 14. (AP)—C. Glorney's Follow Through, by Milesius from Grisnez, won the Teddington Plate today. Follow Through was three lengths ahead of D. P. Nicol's Sculptor, which finished second, half a length ahead of P. Ellison's Norman Duchess. The distance was seven furlongs and the value of the plate £2000. C. J. Ryan's The Dominie from Ellan Dowan by Usalia, won the Princess Stake of £300 and extras over five furlongs. The American, J. P. Loftus, trained the winner.

SCHMELING TO FIGHT ABROAD

Will Defend Title Thrice on Home Grounds

BY JACK FARRELL

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (Exclusive) Max Schmeling, world's heavyweight champion, will defend his title in three tune-up bouts in Europe this winter. All three bouts will be promoted by Jeff Dixon, the Jackson (Miss.) boy who went to Europe and made good in a big way.

MAX SCHMELING

This is Joe Jacobs's answer to the plaint of the Madison Square Garden Corporation that Schmeling's contract prevents him from fighting for outside interests.

The manager of Schmeling made this announcement following several conferences with Dixon. Just whom Schmeling will fight has not been determined. It is definitely known, however, that Willie Stribling will not be one of the opponents.

Schmeling, according to Jacobs, will have his first fight in Paris some time in November with some fellow like Tom Heeney or Pierre Charles, the current heavyweight champion of Europe. His second fight may take place in Spain with Paulino Uzcudun in the opposite corner. His third fight may find the champion showing the natives of Berlin how a real champion works on some formidable trial horse.

With these three fights under his belt Schmeling plans to return to America to fight the outstanding contender next June under the auspices of the Garden. That spikes the report that Schmeling has washed his hands of the American fight public. Jacobs said today that this report was spread with the idea of discrediting Schmeling here.

Schmeling's contract with the Garden, according to his lawyers, does not prevent the champion from fighting in Europe.

The Garden, however, still contends that Max's lawyers are all wet. Frank Bruen stated that no steps would be taken to put the screws on Max until he had actually signed contracts for European engagements.

Star Prince is Race Surprise

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) Aug. 14. Star Prince, four-year-old Semprolus colt, furnished one of the many upsets here this afternoon, when he won the Pio Pico claiming handicap in easy style. Getting off with the stragglers in the mile journey, he gradually improved his position and came with a rush on the inside in the stretch run to win by two lengths going away.

Luke, Jr., got the place and Timekeeper, which battled with Little Captain for the early lead, saved the short end of the purse. Time for the mile was 1:40 1-5. Results:

First race, five and one-half furlongs, claiming: Square Jack (Hart,) first; Tom Hill (Comingor,) second; Dixie Beauty (West,) third. Time, 1:07 2-5.

Second race, five and one-half furlongs, claiming: Bessie V. (Hart,) first; Ask John (Moran,) second; Emma Hoagland (Logan,) third. Time, 1:07 1-5.

Third race, five furlongs, claiming: Country Belle (Stranski,) first; Orkin (Berry,) second; Zelma Mac (Teasdale,) third. Time, 1:01 4-5.

Fourth race, six furlongs, claiming: Verdevale (Meredith,) first; Venture (McHugh,) second; Lusarde (Jones,) third. Time, 1:13 3-5.

Fifth race, one mile, claiming handicap: The Pio Pico; Star Prince (Turk,) first; Luke, Jr. (Dalzell,) second; Timekeeper (Stranski,) third. Time, 1:40 1-5.

Sixth race, mile and one-eighth, claiming: Carlo's Maid (Berry,) first; Wrackhorn (Bernier,) second; King Jack (Stranski,) third. Time, 1:54.

Seventh race, six furlongs, claiming: Runall (Hart,) first; Jove (Van Pelt,) second; Deep River (McHugh,) third. Time, 1:12 4-5.

Swim Champs will Compete at Ambassador

National and Olympic champions will compete in the swimming and diving carnival at the Ambassador Hotel pool next Sunday afternoon. In a meet staged by Tommy Thompson, a splash bill that will bring out such divers as Farid Simaika, Dutch Smith, John Riley and others, will be a post-season aquatic feature. Josephine McKim, Olive Hatch, Jennie Cramer, L.A.A.C., and a host of Lake Narconian Club stars are entered.

The program includes 100 yards free-style for men and women, ten-foot springboard for men and women, 100 yards back-stroke for women, 500 yards free-style for men and fifty-yard free-style races for juniors, boys and girls 14 years of age and under.

STARS DEFEAT SUDS

Eight-Run Rally in Fourth Inning Gives Hollywood Victory Over Seattle

provide comedy by kicking the pellet around like a bunch of Mack Sennett's Keystone cops. Two uncalled-for errors and a pair of hits combined to give the Indians a couple of unearned runs in the first inning. Hill gave the Tribe a start by dropping Knoethe's liner in deep center for a two-base error. Ellsworth followed with a Texas leaguer to center that Hill tried to make a shoestring catch of, but missed, the ball getting under him for a double that scored Knothe. Ellsworth took third as Gazella tossed out Holland. D. Lee came up with C. Lee's roller to hold Ellsworth at third, but then threw low to first, Ellsworth scoring on the error. Owen singled to send C. Lee to third, but Turner retired Almada and Taylor on pop flies to end the embarrassing inning.

The Tribe took advantage of two more Hollywood errors to score another run in the third inning. With one down, C. Lee walked. Owen singled to left, and the runners advanced to second and third, when Rumler booted the pellet. Almada sent a short fly to left, and C. Lee decided to take a chance with Rumler's ancient arm. Rumler got off a fine throw to the plate, the ball beating C. Lee there, but Bassler dropped the horsehide, to let the runner score, and Owen take third. Brannan tossed out Taylor to end the round.

Hollywood scored one off House in the home half of the third, when Turner tripled, and counted after two were out, on Barbee's single.

BIG INNING

The Stars went out in front in the fourth, driving House and Kunz to the showers, and scoring eight runs before Lamanski came in and stopped the Hollywood onslaught. A home run with two on by Heath climaxed the Sheiks' big splurge. But for a wild throw by Ellsworth Kunz would have retired the side with only three runs coming across.

Heath led off with a single and Bassler followed suit. Gazella dropped a double on the right-field line to score Heath. Johnson then derricked House, and sent in Kunz. Turner smashed a hit off the new hurler's glove to score Bassler and Gazella. Hill singled. Kunz and Ellsworth picked Turner off second for the first out. D. Lee forced Hill. A kild pitch sent D. Lee to second. Brannan's smash deflected off Kunz's glove to Ellsworth, who threw wide to first, and D. Lee scored on the error. Then Barbee singled, Rumler doubled and Heath, up for a second time in the inning, dropped a home run into the bleachers, to make it eight for the round, and sent Kunz on his way.

C. Lee's double, Owen's infield hit, and a couple of wild throws by Brannan and Heath gave the Indians a fourth unearned tally off Turner in the fifth.

The Sheiks touched Lamanski for two runs in the sixth, a walk to D. Lee, Rumler's double, and Heath's single, doing the damage.

Ellsworth's single, and Holland's home run, over the center-field fence, gave the Indians their first earned runs off Turner in the seventh. Owen also singled for his fourth hit of the game, in this inning, but a sensational, diving catch by Barbee on Almada's low liner, ended the round.

In the home half of the seventh C. Lee cut off a couple of Hollywood tallies by taking a long, running catch of Brannan's drive along the foul line.

Hollywood picked up its final two runs in the eighth when Rumler singled and Heath followed with his second homer of the game, a mighty poke that cleared the right-field wall and landed out in the auto park.

Mission Reds Defeat Oaks

OAKLAND, Aug. 14. (AP)—The Mission Reds pounded out thirteen hits here tonight off the pitching of Craghead and McQuaid to score an easy 8-to-3 victory over the Oaks.

Buzz Arlett came in from right field and took the mound to stop the Missions. Fuzzy Hufft cracked out a home run with two Missions on base in the seventh inning, when five runs were scored.

Ted Pillette pitched a good ball game, holding the Oaks to four hits until the ninth inning, when three more hits gave the home team two runs. Score:

DUD EADES LOSES TO IGNACIO FERNANDEZ

Ignacio Fernandez, who recently lost a close decision to Bat Battalino, outstepped Dud Eades in the Pasadena main event last night. Sid Torres won the decision from Johnny Rogers in the six-round semi-wind-up, and Young Billy Papke, Jr., stopped Battling Dozier in the first round of the special event. Manny Avielez and Sid Ortega fought four rounds to a draw. Mel Sentino decisioned June Lagera in the curtain raiser. Reg Gilmore refereed the entire card without a hitch.

McVEY EASY WINNER IN SOUTH GATE FIGHT

Jack McVey, the colored middleweight champion who fights Ace Hudkins this month, won an easy eight-round decision over Young Terry in the Southgate main event last night. McVey put Terry down for the count of six in the third round and nearly punched his ears off in the other seven rounds. In the semi-wind-up Terry McGovern was fouled by Ray Gonzales in the third round. McGovern had piled up a convincing lead before the low blow stopped the fight.

TOD MORGAN WINS BOUT FROM CARTER

SEATTLE (Wash.) Aug. 14. (AP)—Tod Morgan, Seattle, former junior lightweight champion, won a decision over Leslie (Wildcat) Carter, Everett Negro, in a six-round bout at the Civic Auditorium tonight. Morgan outboxed Carter all the way, but the Negro put up a game fight. Carter weighed 137 1-4 and Morgan 136½ pounds.

BY WALDO DRAKE

Approximately 21,600,000 frozen Chinese eggs will be received monthly at San Francisco and Los Angeles harbors from Shanghai under a contract announced yesterday by the Oceanic and Oriental Steamship Company. To handle this trade the company's three refrigerated steamers, Golden Sun, Golden Dragon and Golden Hind, have been allocated to the California-North China run.

R. A. Stewart, terminal superintendent of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, agent for Oceanic and Oriental's oriental service, says the full refrigerated cargo space of 250 measurement tons in each of the three vessels has been booked for a long term for exclusive carriage of the egg shipments. It is estimated that each shipment will average 9000 cases, or a total of 21,600,000 eggs.

The shift in service will be inaugurated on September 4, next, with the departure from this port of the steamer Golden Dragon. Mr. Stewart states that outward refrigerated cargo offerings on the three vessels have been steadily increasing, and that the frozen-egg contract will serve to balance this class of traffic. The Golden Dragon now is undergoing overhaul at the yards of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation.

Oceanic and Oriental Line's next sailing from this port on the South China range will be the Golden Horn, scheduled to depart the 28th inst. with 6000 tons of canned goods, case oil and machinery for the Philippines, Shanghai, Saigon, Amoy and river ports.

STORM DAMAGE TO BE REPAIRED

Maj. W. H. Lanagan, United States District Engineer, yesterday asked for bids on repair of the rock revetment at the southerly end of Reservation Point, at the port, which was damaged last winter by a southerly storm. Tenders will be received at Maj. Lanagan's office until 3 p.m. of the 26th inst., while 180 days will be allowed for completion of the project.

Engineers estimate that the job, entailing replacement of 20,000 cubic yards of rock and 10,000 cubic yards of clay, will cost approximately $90,000.

Lewis Luckenbach, who resigned from the position earlier in the year, yesterday resumed his connection with the Luckenbach Steamship Company, Inc., as vice-president and general manager, according to advices received from New York by Harry C. Ewing, district manager of the Luckenbach Line.

After being absent from the run since last April, on account of extensive reconditioning in England, the Furness-Pacific Line motorship Moveria will be brought in from the United Kingdom this morning by Capt. J. L. McQueen. In addition to cargo from British ports she has aboard 15,000 stems of bananas from the Canal.

Paul Hiller announces the installation of a Lux fire-extinguishing system in Paul Whittier's new seventy-foot Diesel cruiser Pagan, now nearing completion at the yards of the Harbor Boat-building Company.

Capt. Walter N. Prengel yesterday morning brought in the Panama Mail liner Venezuela from New York and Central American ports. Among her 100 cabin passengers were the California and Hawaii Junior Olympic champions returning from the national meet at Atlantic City with John F. Ness and Ezra J. Crane, directors.

Five hundred passengers, more than half of whom are vacationists traveling in tourist cabins, are due one the Panama Pacific electric liner Virginia tomorrow morning from New York. Among them are William Holden, actor; Prof. George W. Cavanaugh of Cornell University, Col. J. H. Carlisle, Clifton Forge, Va.; Lieutenant-Commander C. T. Henley, Jr., U.S.N., of New London, Ct.; W. E. Mallalieu, manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, and Charles E. Alexander, society editor of the Boston Transcript.

Passengers are being booked between the Pacific Coast and Europe clear into next spring, auguring unprecedented travel over that route, in the opinion of Capt. Paul Hille, master of the German motor liner Los Angeles, in yesterday from Hamburg. The liner disembarked a dozen of her thirty-nine passengers, and is discharging here 1971 of the 4700 tons of cargo for the Coast. Five hundred tons of tin plate from Antwerp, the first large shipment of the kind, are being unloaded here for manufacture into tin cans and a large quantity is being consigned to Alameda. The liner will embark nine travelers for Vancouver, sailing tomorrow. A through passenger is Miss Alice Pollitz, high-school teacher of Hamburg, exchanging positions for a year with a teacher of Bellingham, Wash.

French Line's new steamer Wisconsin, Capt. A. Greffier commanding, sailed yesterday for France with forty-two passengers and 8500 tons of Pacific merchandise. Travelers include Charles Wesson, manager for the McCormick Lumber Company at Wilmington, and Mrs. Wesson on a six months' tour of France; Ida Carr, English actress, returning home from Portland, and Sarah Naylor, San Francisco society matron and her three daughters, who will tour the continent. The liner will impress its sixth boiler into use this voyage, increasing the speed to sixteen knots and cutting the trip to Bordeaux to twenty-three days.

The fifty-eight-foot fresh market boat Amelia, just completed at Al Larson's boat yards for John B. Falconi, will be given her trial trip Sunday. She is powered with a three-cylinder, seventy-five-horsepower Atlas Imperial Diesel engine, and is designed for conversion into a sardine fisherman in season.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. (AP)—The steamer Henry County, which shortly will be turned over to the State for a school ship, is due here from the east coast Sunday.

The vessel is to proceed to Mare Island Navy Yard, where she later will be converted for training purposes before being officially turned over to the State.

After reconditioning, the Henry County will visit all sea coast towns in California.

Edward Johnson, mate of the steam schooner Anne Hanify, used an airplane and speedboat to catch his ship, when she started for sea without him at noon today.

The vessel left Oakland and was half way across the bay when Johnson discovered she had sailed. He rode by airplane to San Francisco, transferred to a speedboat, and caught the schooner as she was nearing the Golden Gate.

The vessel sailed for Portland.

John Mahoney, former district manager for the California-Eastern and Hammond lines, will leave here for Tacoma in a few days, where he has been appointed marine manager of Hansen and Rowland, Inc., marine insurance concern.

SEATTLE, Aug. 14.—The new liner Aleutian of the Alaska Steamship Company docked today from Alaskan ports with 420 passengers, one of the largest passenger list ever booked from the Territory. A large number were tourists.

Return of the Williams Line freighter Willboro to regular service in the intercoastal route starting next month was announced during the day. The ship was one of the first of the tonnage laid up during the summer dull period. It will go on berth September 24, next, for Charleston, Wilmington, Norfolk and Baltimore.

PORTLAND, Aug. 14.—Three carloads of apples, the first to be shipped from Portland this season, will move from the local harbor on the steamer Schwaben Saturday. They are to be delivered at Hamburg.

The Schwaben also is taking wheat, lumber, prunes, copra cake and other commodities.

Harry S. Eaton, district manager of the Luckenbach Steamship Company, said today the Lena Luckenbach is to return to the Gulf route. She was withdrawn some time ago for installation of an exhaust turbine, following which she was trasferred to the Pacific-North Atlantic Coast trade.

TACOMA, Aug. 14.—The Reardon-Smith liner Leeds City arrived today from the Orient and is loading 400,000 feet of lumber, several thousand doors and canned goods outbound.

The hull of the new sound steamer Concordia for the Quartermaster Harbor run was launched at a local shipyard today. The vessel also will carry passengers and is expected to be put into service in thirty days.

SHEELY FIRST

Earl Sheely is the first Coast League player to reach the 200 mark in safe hits this season. In arriving at the 200 mark in safe hits the San Francisco first-baseman boosted his season batting mark to .411. Sheely has hit safely in all but two of the last forty-eight games in which he has taken part. Barring accident he should pass the 300 mark in safe hits before the season ends two months from now.

"TIMES" NINE WINS

The Los Angeles Times baseball team defeated the Seaboard Warehouse nine, 11 to 2, at Downey playground last evening in a Municipal Night Baseball League game.

FOUR MEN HELD ON GIRL CHARGE

Warrant Accuses One of Statutory Offense

Other Three Detained for Further Investigation

Arrests Follow Complaint by Victim's Father

Charged with a statutory offense against Ellen Josephine Byerly, 18 years of age, 2931 Olive street, Altadena, Thaddeus B. Wakeman, 19, yesterday was named in a complaint issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Colgrove.

Three other men also are under arrest. They gave their names and addresses as Leonard P. Murphy, 30, and Dave Abbott, 19, of 1447 Blank street, South Pasadena, and John M. Landgraf, 30, 3328 Brandon street, and were booked in the County Jail along with Wakeman by Deputy Sheriffs Penprase and Gray. Wakeman, according to officers, lived with Murphy and Abbott.

Whether complaints charging the three men with contributing to the delinquency of the girl will be filed depends on a conference today with Dep. Dist.-Atty. Woodhead, according to the officers.

Arrests of the four men followed a complaint of J. R. Byerly, father of the girl, that she had been mistreated last Tuesday night. The girl, officers reported, said that she had been given a number of drinks by one of the men, for whom she worked, and later went to the house occupied by the other three.

GOLF BALL HAS OWN LAUNDRY

Suit Discloses Washing of Pellets Established as Regular Industry

Laundering of golf balls is an established industry, it was disclosed in a suit filed in the local Federal Court yesterday. The suit was brought by Lobegott Mollart of Watertown, Iowa, against the Winkler-Fehrenschild Manufacturing Company of this city which manufactures a machine to wash golf balls.

Mollart asserts he is the inventor of the machine and asks that the local company be enjoined from continuing to manufacture it. He also asks for an accounting of profits on machines already made and sold.

APOSTLE OF SEA HERE ON LONG JAUNT

Rev. J. E. Rockliff, Chief of Catholic Welfare Work, on 45,000-Mile Trip

With a record of having traveled 45,000 miles in the last fifteen months in the interest of the spiritual and social welfare of seamen, Rev. J. E. Rockliff, international promoter of the Apostleship of the Sea, an organization approved by the Pope, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday. Father Rockliff will tell of his work Saturday at a meeting called by Bishop Cantwell.

REV. J. E. ROCKLIFF

The visitor, who registered at the Hayward, said that the work of the organization was started two years ago under the leadership of the Archbishop of Glasgow, president of the Apostleship of the Sea.
